UTILITY CONTROL BILL IS SIGNED BY ROOSEVELT

Law Is Considered Major Triumph.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—For a few minutes this afternoon President Roosevelt forgot the worries occasioned by the congressional hangover. The moments came as his pen made the bitterly contested public utility bill a law of the land.

The President smiled happily as the little group he invited to witness the signing deployed about his desk. He looked upon the bill as a major triumph for his administration and the culmination of personal war against utilities begun when he was governor of New York.

Silent on Resignation.

Joseph P. Kennedy, chairman of the securities and exchange commission, which must administer the provisions calling for dissolution of holding companies, refused today to discuss reports that he will resign.

Kennedy denied, however, that the problem of handling the utilitity bill would influence his retirement, if and when it came.

He pointed out that he had agreed to take his position for a year and that he considered the work assigned him near completion.

Magill Assails Clause.

The passage of the "death sentence" clause of the utility holding company bill is just another example "of autocratic dictatorship which seeks complete political control and burocratic domination of all industry," according to a statement by Dr. Hugh S. Magill, president of American Federation of Utility Investors, today.

TERMS OF UTILITIES LAW

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Proponents and foes alike agreed tonight that the utilities law signed by President Roosevelt spelled the most stringent federal regulation for one of the country's very biggest industries.

Largely lost sight of in the battle over whether holding companies should be dissolved or merely regulated, scores of carefully phrased restrictions studded the bulky act—each one definitly circumscribing the bounds within which private enterprises may deal in electric energy.

Here are a few of the things the law does affecting utility corporate setups, management, service and rates, investments, and other activities:

Holding Companies.

Beginning Jan. 1, 1938, and subject to two year grace, it bars holding companies more than twice removed from operating companies, with those in the second degree continuing only at the securities commission's discretion and with each limited to integrated utility systems not too large to impair local management and effective regulation. Squeezes out so-called 'intermediate' holding companies.

Requires services and sales for holding companies by subsidiaries to be without profit.

Embraces all companies except those whose electric business is only incidental to their primary business and defines a holding company as one with 10 per cent voting control of another utility company or a person with controlling influence.

Requires Registration.

Requires holding companies to register with the SEC by Dec. 1 next and permits them to do so after Oct. 1.

Prohibits registered holding companies from selling securities except as provided in the law and permitted by the commission, from acquiring interest in another electric or gas utility company in substantially the same territory without state approval, and from acquiring utility or other business assets without commission sanction.

Stops loans from subsidiaries to holding companies, gives the SEC power over their loans to subsidiaries, and bars dividends out of capital stock or unearned surplus.

Bars Political Contributions.

Bars political contributions to political campaigns or parties.

WITH THE ITALIAN ARMY, BOLZANO, Italy, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini received his ministers and undersecretaries informally tonight in what was described as a preliminary to an extraordinary cabinet meeting on the Italo-Ethiopian crisis.

Il Duce, after taking ranking command of the vast military maneuvers near Brenner pass, was said authoritatively to have discussed both the domestic and international situation with reference to East African questions.

Mussolini originally summoned his cabinet members, virtually all of whom were here for the great war games, to meet tomorrow. It was announced officially tonight, however, that the cabinet would be convened instead Wednesday afternoon. The dictator decided to spend tomorrow morning making what was regarded as a gesture toward reëstablishment of the Stresa front—unity between England, France, and Italy.

Fleet to Drill for War.

Political observers were certain that the cabinet would discuss the decision by the British admiralty to send its Mediterranean fleet to quarters near the Suez canal. There was a possibility that the cabinet would issue a statement indicating that Italy has not been intimidated by the British gesture.

Informed sources disclosed that Italy's battle fleet is on the point of initiating extensive movements in the Mediterranean.

Several vesels were said to have left their normal bases already to participate in activities which were described as having for their purpose vigilance and protection.

Simultaneously, informed sources said it was deemed likely that the East African naval divisions comprising the Red sea and Indian ocean squadrons were about to be reinforced.

Air Force Leader Sails.

It was announced in Rome that Aerial Brig. Gen. Mario Ajmonecat, considered the greatest aerial bombardment expert in Italy and commander of the school of aeronautical warfare, has left for Asmara to assume the position of chief of staf of the air forces in East Africa.

It is understood that Squadron General Giuseppe Valle, undersecretary for air, will go to the colonies soon as commander in chief of the air forces.

Likewise it was reported that the duke of Bergamo, commander of the infantry brigade division "Lage Legnano," has been assigned to a high command in East Africa.

Talks to Colonial Chief.

These disclosures followed one other—that Mussolini had held his first telephone conversation with High Commissioner De Bono of Eritrea and Somaliland on Saturday. The details of the conversation were not known, but informed sources believed that Il Duce may have decided the moment is ripe to strike.

The steamship Nazario Sauro sailed for East Africa from Naples bearing 1,145 Black Shirts and 80 officers. The steamship Irtaria, bought recently by the Italian government to carry airplanes to its colonies, was equipped with loading machines of the latest type for an early departure.

ADDIS ABABA NERVOUS

BY WILL BARBER.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

ADDIS ABABA, Ethiopia, Aug. 26.—Addis Ababa enjoyed a rainless day for the first time in three months, but the people found no joy in the sky. They looked up and saw the sun and said:

"The rains will be over soon. Then we will have the Italian airplanes the emperor warned us about Saturday."

Nervousness gripped both the Ethiopian and foreign populations. The Ethiopians were warned last evening by rifle bearing policemen to quit their homes and run for the open in event of an air raid. Many crouched in their tiny mud huts, believing that the warning was intended for the same night.

The foreigners were alarmed and angered by the sudden suspension by the Bank of Ethiopia of the sale of

BOY KILLED BY FALL FROM PARK ROLLER COASTER

Le Roy Kubycheck, 20 years old, 4914 North Kilpatrick avenue, was killed last night when he fell 30 feet from one of the cars on the "Big Dipper" thrill ride at Riverview park.

A companion, Frank O'Grady, 21 years old, 4859 North Kilpatrick avenue, told police that Kubycheck had disregarded warnings and, at the top of an incline, stood up in the car and began waving his arms and shouting. He lost his balance as the car descended and fell. Early in July a young woman was killed in a similar fall from the same ride.

POLICE TO GUARD DUCE'S TWO SONS AT SUEZ TODAY

CAIRO, Egypt, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Elaborate precautions to safeguard the two sons of Premier Mussolini upon their arrival at Port Said tomorrow were taken today by police.

Authorities arranged for a cordon of hundreds of uniformed and plainclothes officers to protect the two youths en route to east Africa with the Italian military forces.

The Italian colony at Port Said prepared an enthusiastic reception for Il Duce's sons, Vittorio and Bruno, coming in on one of the 17 Italian steamers making the transit of the Suez canal.

It's Tall Corn Time and Boys Will Be Boys

Escapes from the St. Charles School for Boys are quite numerous just now because this is the tall corn season. In making this explanation yesterday William T. Harmon, managing officer, pointed out that the institution buildings are surrounded only by a wire fence, so it is easy for his charges to slip away and hide in the surrounding fields of corn.

Mr. Harmon was interviewed because motorists traveling on highways in the vicinity of the school which is four miles west of St. Charles in Kane county have seen boy inmates trudging blithely along the road, as free as the air.

When Mr. Harmon was appointed a year ago he promised to establish military discipline and to reduce the number of escapes.

Out Again, In Again, Gone Again.

Mr. Harmon said yesterday that while a good many boys walk away, the interlude of liberty for most of them is brief. For instance, he said, seven boys escaped last week-end, but six of the seven either returned voluntarily or were brought back.

However, he admitted, only ten "out of about twenty" boys who have escaped since July 1 have been recaptured. Mr. Harmon had no specific figures at hand to show just how successful his administration had been in keeping the boys at home, but whatever decrease there has been he attributed to strict discipline and to a comprehensive system of athletics which he, as former director of athletics in Illinois college at Jacksonville, felt competent to supervise.

Would Yokes or Hobbies Help?

During the daytime, the 481 boys ranging from 10 to 21 years of age work in the fields, attend school or learn any of a dozen trades in the vocational building. Presumably those who work outside are watched, but they just will slip away, especially when the corn grows tall, according to Mr. Harmon. At night, they are locked in cottages, under supervision. But the windows are not barred.

Of the seven who ran away last week-end two were recaptured before they had gone two miles, Mr. Harmon said. Another, a colored boy from Chicago's south side, returned voluntarily after his mother scolded him for leaving. Three others reappeared after a day or so. One still is being hunted.

Inmates of the school are sent there by County, Circuit or Juvenile courts when it has been determined that they are heading toward juvenile delinquency.

There are no specific terms, it being up to the institution management to release at its discretion those sent by the County and Juvenile courts. The state parole board must approve the release of the boys committed by Circuit courts.

Harmon believes that his military program and his athletic system are "doing a lot of reclamation work" among the boys—if they would only stick around to be reclaimed.

MRS. TOM CONNALLY, SENATOR'S WIFE, DIES IN CAPITOL OFFICE

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Mrs. Tom Connally, 54, wife of Texas' junior senator, died of heart disease late today in her husband's office.

After a shopping tour she started to the capitol to watch adjournment proceedings, but suddenly became tired and decided to rest a few moments and collapsed as she took an elevator in the senate office building.

Attendants assisted her to the office and Connally and Dr. George W. Calver, the capitol physician, were called. She apparently revived shortly after the senator's arrival, but died about ten minutes later.

Tentative plans, under the direction of Chesley W. Jurney, senate sergeant at arms, call for the funeral party to leave here tomorrow night by train, arriving in Waco, Tex., Thursday afternoon, with an overland trip to be made to Marlin, Tex.

President Roosevelt, when he heard of the death, sent the following message to Senator Connally: "Dear Tom: I am deeply shocked, my dear fellow. The very sad news has just come. You are very much in the thoughts of your affectionate friend, Franklin D. Roosevelt."

U. S. TRADE BODY ATTORNEY KILLED BY HOTEL PLUNGE

John Thames, 39 years old, an attorney connected with the Washington headquarters of the Federal trade commission, was fatally injured today when he leaped or fell from a window on the sixth floor of the Commodore hotel, 5547 Kenmore avenue. He died on the way to the Passavant hospital.

Thames was sitting in the room talking with Milford H. Clark and John Joseph Mulvey, also lawyers connected with the trade commission. Suddenly Thames excused himself and went to the washroom. A few minutes later Mulford and Clark investigated and found Thames had plunged through the window, the screen of which he had raised. He had landed on the pavement on the Bryn Mawr avenue side. Neither Clark nor Mulvey could give any reason for the apparent suicide.

The three attorneys, according to William Dinnen, secretary of the Chicago branch of the trade commission, were in Chicago investigating the milk situation in the Chicago area. Thames leaves a widow who is at their home in Washington.

Call Hutchins in Court Clash Over Girl Reds

Two white girls who were arrested with four colored men for picketing a relief station Friday were identified last night as juniors at the University of Chicago. Their identification followed a heated hearing before Municipal Judge Thomas A. Green in the Women's court, during which the judge ordered a subpena issued for President Robert Maynard Hutchins of the University of Chicago in order to "find out what they've been teaching these girls out there."

The hearing also was marked by a sharp clash between the judge and Joseph L. Gill, clerk of the Municipal court and recently named county treasurer. Gill, an innocent bystander, was singled out by Judge Green for a lecture on the court's social service department, which is under Gill's supervision. This wound up with Gill's being ordered to "step out" of the courtroom, but he was already on his way making sharp comments on the judge's tirade.

Girls Admit True Identities.

The girls, who were arrested with the Negro men while they were picketing a transient shelter at 4949 Indiana avenue, admitted last night that they had given false names. After "Marcia Harris" had confessed that she is really Margaret Hayward, 6032 Ingleside avenue, and "Jean Maxwell" had said she was Virginia Miller, 3802 North Kenneth avenue, they were released on their own recognizance until this morning when their parents promised to produce them in court.

"Spanking," Judge Green suggested to Clement A. Miller, Virginia's father, and Mrs. A. W. Hayward, mother of Margaret, "might be proper in the case of your children. But whatever you do, don't let them associate with communists and agitators."

Charges of unlawful and disorderly conduct face the girls and the colored men, who gave their names as Tony Morton, 4733 South Michigan avenue; Luther Watson, 626 East 42d street; William Dixon, 4740 Eastside parkway, and George Jones, a former occupant of the Wabash avenue shelter, which has now been closed and its occupants ordered to other quarters. It was because of the closing that the girls and the colored men staged their demonstration. The four men are being held in cells at the First district police station.

Youth's Expulsion Told.

A policeman formerly stationed at the shelter said that Jones had been discharged from it two months ago for misconduct, and, after being let back in, attacked a member of the staf. He was at liberty under a peace bond when he was arrested for the picketing.

When the girls admitted that they were university students during yesterday's hearing, Judge Green not only ordered a subpena for Mr. Hutchins but also for Profs. Robert Morss Lovett, Frederick L. Schumann, and Paul H. Douglas.

The Misses "Harris" and "Maxwell" were not loquacious in court. They had met friends at the university who interested them in the colored men, they said. Judge Green asked them if they studied sociology. Miss "Harris" said she studied chemistry; Miss "Maxwell," a red-headed girl whose nicotine-stained fingers shook violently, refused to say anything save "I demand a jury trial."

This demand led the judge to raise the bonds of the six from $125 to $1,200.

While the hearing was progressing, Judge Green spied Clerk Gill in the rear of the courtroom. Calling him to the bench, the court asked if he didn't discharge a lot of social workers because they couldn't pass certain examinations.

Angry Words with Gill.

When Gill replied that the workers did not take any examinations the judge remarked that it was probably because they couldn't pass them. The workers are University of Chicago products, the judge declared.

"I have nothing to do with these communists," Gill said, his ire apparently rising. "A lot of the social service workers are Loyola graduates, moreover. I don't want to hear what you have to say. You run your court and I'll run the clerk's office!"

South Bend, Ind., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Charles Hall today reported to police that his coat had been stolen from a restaurant. He did not mind the theft of the coat so much—but his false teeth were in one of the pockets.

HUEY LONG KILLS CROP MEASURE WITH HIS TALK

Pension Money Lost by Filibuster.

BY ARTHUR SEARS HENNING.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 27, 1 a. m.—[Special.]—On the stroke of midnight an exhausted congress of the United States, worn out, frazzled of temper, and helpless to work its will, expired in the agony of being talked to death by Huey Long.

With the sine die adjournment of the first session of the 74th congress, Long filibustered to death the 103 million dollar deficiency appropriation bill, carrying funds for old age pensions, unemployment insurance, railroad men's pensions and welfare work among women and children.

Huey Stunned as Senate Quits.

The way had been cleared for passage of this remaining bill by 6:30 p. m., whereupon Long launched his one-man filibuster. For 5½ hours the Democratic leaders invoked every imaginable device to take him off his feet and send the measure to passage. But all to no avail under the senate rules permitting unlimited speechifying.

Vice President Garner, whose eyes had been fixed on the long hand of the clock as it moved upon the hour of 12, slammed his gavel and proclaimed: "The senate of the United States stands adjourned sine die."

This brought a final roar of laughter from the galleries and Long stood for a few seconds as if stunned. Then he ran out through the door at the rear of the chamber without speaking to any one of his colleagues, pressed quickly through a throng in the corridors outside, eluded newspaper men and photographers, and rushed to his car surrounded by his bodyguards.

Cotton Bounty to Continue.

The failure of the deficiency appropriation measure to which had been attached the cotton bounty plan leaves the social security measures without present funds to make them workable, the Guffey and the pension bills among them.

As to cotton, the farmer will get benefits irrespective of the failure of the bill tonight. Under the revised cotton policy of the AAA the government will loan 9 cents a pound on cotton and pay a bounty representing the difference between the market price and 12 cents a pound, thereby assuring the cotton farmers a return of 12 cents a pound.

House Struggles to Order.

To return to the death agonies of congress: The house had been summoned back into session at 11:30 after a recess.

Difficulty was encountered in reducing the members, who had been celebrating all evening, to comparative quiet. When the hands of the clock pointed to five minutes of midnight they were turned back 5 minutes. The congressmen, with many sly references to the senate, yodeled "The Old Gray Mare She Ain't What She Used to Be."

At 4 minutes to 12 Speaker Byrns rapped his gavel. He was given a great cheer.

A senate messenger read the announcement that the senate had adjourned. A yell of "amen" went up.

Read Roosevelt Message.

A message from President Roosevelt was then read complimenting the house upon its statesmanship and expressing the chief executive's gratitude. Speaker Byrns added a few words of his own.

"You need a rest," he told the members. "You're entitled to a vacation."

The hands of the clock were turned back for the third time. Then the session was declared adjourned and the members set up a great yell.

Peace Treaty Opens Way.

The last procedural obstacle to the conclusion of the work of the session was removed when the cotton war that wrecked the adjournment program Saturday night ended in a peace treaty between the rebellious cotton state senators and the White House. The President yielded to the extent of granting the cotton farmers a government loan of 10 cents a pound on cotton instead of the 9 cents announced last week.

The new administration cotton policy was also liberalized in such manner as to provide for prompt payment of the bounty consisting of the difference between the market price of cotton and 12 cents a pound so that the farmers will be assured of a return of 12 cents at the expense of the federal treasury. The wheat loan of 90 cents a bushel which had been tacked onto the 12 cent cotton loan amendment Saturday was left out of the new agreement.

Hear Prorogue Threat.

When Long started out to fight the adjournment resolution which had come over from the house, Majority Leader Joseph T. Robinson of Arkansas uttered the threat that if necessary he would cause the President to prorogue congress under his constitutional authority when the two houses disagree on the date of adjournment. Then the senate adopted the adjournment resolution overwhelmingly.

At the request of the senate, the house returned the appropriation bill and Robinson moved to eliminate the wheat and cotton loan amendment to which the cotton state senators were now agreeable and to which action the wheat senators were compelled to submit after losing their cotton allies. Thereupon Long started his filibuster for the declared purpose of coercing a vote in the house on the wheat and cotton loan amendment.

The Democratic leaders were afraid that if submitted to the house government loans not only on wheat and cotton but on other commodities would be voted at a cost of upward of 2 billion dollars.

Decide to Let Bill Die.

They determined to let the appropriation bill fail rather than submit to Long's terms, although Robinson stated that information from the controler general's office indicated there will be no available funds for the social security program unless the deficiency measure were passed.

Repeatedly Robinson and other Democratic senators interrupted Long to ask him if he realized that the only accomplishment of his filibuster would be to deprive the aged and the railroad men of pensions, prolong the suffering of ailing women and children for whose succor the social security program provides. Repeatedly they rammed it home that Long will be held responsible by the country for holding up the distribution of this relief. Long always replied that the ones really responsible for this crime were his colleagues who had refused to heed the plight of starving cotton farmers by denying the 12 cent loan.

Hits Representatives by Name.

In the course of his filibuster Long repeatedly referred in a disparaging manner to house leaders by name in contravention of the rules of the senate. Vice President Garner twice called him to order. Again Long offended and the Democratic leaders thought they saw an opportunity of silencing him and getting the appropriation bill through.

Senator Bennett Champ Clark [Dem., Mo.] made the point of order that Long had violated the senate rule and should be made to take his seat. Senator Schwellenbach [Dem., Wash.] pressed the point and the vice president sustained it and ordered Long to take his seat. The Kingfish relapsed into his chair and the leaders thought they had him beaten.

But Senator Minton [Dem., Ind.] popped up and moved that Senator Long be permitted to proceed in order. The vice president put the motion and declared the ayes had it. So Long resumed his filibuster while the Democratic leaders retreated to the cloakroom for private teeth gnashing.

Try Pleas in Vain.

At one time it was thought something might be accomplished by appealing to Huey's better nature. The roll was called slowly to obtain a quorum while, one after another, the senate big wigs approached the red faced, perspiring terror of the bayous and subjected him to all the arts of pleading and cajolery. Borah, Glass, young Bob La Follette and finally blind Senator Gore all had a try at it. But Huey only glared and with many a sidelong glance at the packed galleries that were enjoying the show, he shook his curly locks in refusal and defiance. They finally gave it up, the roll call was ended and Huey got a fresh start.

Long renewed his attacks upon President Roosevelt and his yachting host of the Nourmahal, Vincent Astor, when he told how the house had passed the Copeland resolution extending for six months the President's authority to cancel or modify the ocean mail contracts.

Caustic About Nourmahal.

"O, Mr. Roosevelt goes out on the Nourmahal in the briny waters of the British empire and meets the duke and duchess of Kent and everything is hunky dory," he shouted. "I'm looking at the world through rose colored glasses and I've sent the 435 dumbells home,' he says."

Vice President Garner admonished Long about reflecting upon the house of representatives in violation of senate rule. Senator Schwellenbach, on a point of order, tried to force Long to take his seat, but the chair did not sustain this.

"The senator has been making a dramatic effort and the chair is reluctant to interrupt it," Garner said.

Long was not perturbed when Robinson asked him: "Do you realize that you are absolutely alone in this senate against this bill? If there was a vote the senator from Louisiana would cast the only negative vote. All your colleagues, regardless of political affiliations, are for this measure which you are killing by this prolonged talk."

Long Insists He Is Popular.

Senator Pat McCarran [Dem., Nev.], one of his closest friends in the senate, begged the senator from Louisiana to yield, but Long was unshaken.

"This may preserve legislative government," he replied. "Remember what I say."

"It may destroy the right of free speech in the senate also," warned Senator Black.

"The people will approve. I have never done anything in the senate that was not popular," Long retorted.

"This will not be popular," Black replied grimly.

"The people of Louisiana never could do me any better than throw me out of the senate. It don't mean anything to me. This bill will either go through as it is or it won't go at all."

When Senator Barkley protested that the pending motion was upon the senate's reconsideration of their action, Long suggested that the majority leader could withdraw this motion.

Referring to Senator Robinson's threat of having the President send congress home, Long declared:

"I don't want to delay the proceedings of the house or the senate, but I decline to be stampeded and run out of Washington, D. C. without giving the house a chance to vote on these amendments."

Tells What It Means.

Senator Byrnes expressed himself on the senate floor as being satisfied with the new cotton plan, but this attitude was not shared by all senators from the cotton states, particularly George and Russell of Georgia. Senator Russell referred to the compromise as a "complete surrender."

Senator Byrnes said the increase in the loan from 9 to 10 cents a pound meant $5 a bale more for the farmers, or 57½ million dollars on a crop of 11½ million bales. The new plan also provides, he asserted, for the farmer to get his subsidy immediately, whereas under the former plan he would not get it until after the whole crop had been marketed. Moreover, the subsidy will represent the difference between the daily average spot price and 12 cents, whereas the former plan contemplated a subsidy equal to the difference between the four months' average price and 12 cents.

"Under this plan the farmer is clearly guaranteed 12 cents," Byrnes declared. "The other plan was so complicated and ambiguous that no one had a clear understanding of it."

The third important advantage of the plan, he said, is that it is open from Sept. 1 to Sept. 1 instead of Sept. 1 to Jan. 1, so that there will be no inducement for the farmer to dump his cotton on the market in order to be certain of getting his subsidy.

Sees Breaking of Market.

Senator George, however, said there was no assurance whatever of a continued subsidy.

"This means dumping and a breaking of the market," he said. "Who will suffer first? The government with its 5 million surplus on which it has loaned 12 cents and spent another 1 cent in storage charges and insurance.

"Then you will bankrupt cotton dealers as prices go down. You will bankrupt the wholesalers and retailers whose stocks, bought at the peak, must go down because the price henceforth is to be 10 cents.

"You are helping the shipper and the thousands of foreign manufacturers and foreign buyers. You are confessing that the AAA was unable to save the foreign market. You are admitting that it can't meet foreign competition."

Robinson Tells of Plan.

When Vice President Garner called the senate to order at 5 o'clock Senator Robinson was recognized immediately and he proceeded to outline the agreement and proposals growing out of the afternoon's conferences.

Robinson then announced his proposal to reconsider the vote by which the cotton and wheat loan amendments were adopted, expressing the hope that the house would pass the deficiency bill and concur in the remaining senate amendments, adding some 10 millions to the 93 million dollar bill as passed by the house.

Only three minutes were required by the house to agree to the senate request for return of the deficiency bill. The request was granted by acclamation and the bill immediately dispatched by messenger back to the upper body.

Open in a Deadlock.

Earlier in the day—congress first met at noon—it was apparent that the administration and the house leaders were still standing pat against the cotton and wheat loan amendment.

Realizing that they would be beaten in the end unless they could win over the President, the cotton states senators who had led the revolt against the new Roosevelt cotton loan policy sought a conference with him. To allow time for such negotiations the Democrats, as soon as the senate met, caused a recess to be taken till 5 oclock.

Majority Leader Robinson telephoned the President and made the appointment, saying he wished to bring 15 senators with him. But a number declined to go, among them Senator John H. Bankhead [Dem., Ala.], who charged in the senate Saturday that the President had broken faith in regard to extension of the 12 cent cotton loan.

Roosevelt Calls In Jones.

The senators who accompanied Robinson to the White House were James F. Byrnes [Dem., S. C.], Ellison D. Smith [Dem., S. C.], Hugo L. Black [Dem., Ala.], Tom Connally [Dem., Tex.], and Pat Harrison [Dem., Miss.]. To the conference the President summoned Jesse Jones, chairman of the RFC, which advances the money for loans on cotton.

Versions of the conference which lasted two hours were to the effect that there was a heated debate between the President and the cotton state senators. Mr. Roosevelt is said to have defended himself spiritedly both with regard to the change of cotton policy and with regard to the charge of double crossing the cotton senators, who thought they had his promise to extend the 12 cent loan plan for another year at least. The President sought to justify his new policy with the argument that a lower cotton price is essential to rehabilitation of our foreign market and our domestic textile industry, and that the bounty to be paid the planters assures them of the same return they would have under the 12 cent loan.

The cotton senators sought to convince the President that his 9 cent loan and the lowered cotton price it entails would ruin the cotton farmers. They argued that with the 12 cent loan continued cotton would be sure to go to 13 cents or higher.

When the senators emerged from the executive office they brushed the reporters aside, declaring they had nothing to say. They hurried back to the capitol and assembled in Robinson's office. Vice President Garner, the old strategist, was called in and the conference continued until nearly 5 o'clock when the senate reassembled.

Only 306 of the 430 representatives answered to a quorum call when the house convened at noon. Obviously 124 members had gone home, weary and disgusted, leaving their colleagues to solve the adjournment problem.

Majority Leader Taylor offered a concurrent resolution calling for both houses to adjourn before midnight. This eventually was passed, 172 to 47.

Taylor moved that the house recess subject to the call of the chair. A great roar of "ayes" went up and the members poured out of the chamber laughing, shouting joyously, clapping each other's backs in delighted anticipation of the end of the session within a few hours. The entire proceedings had taken only 55 minutes.

LONG IGNORES LABOR LEADERS' PLEAS TO LET MEASURES PASS

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—John L. Lewis, president of the United Mine Workers of America, tonight predicted "chaos" would result from failure of congress to pass the deficiency bill carrying funds for initial operations of the Guffey coal control bill. Lewis' letter to Long, delivered at 10 p. m., said:

"As president of the United Mine Workers, I desire to point out to you on behalf of the 500,000 miners and their 2,500,000 dependents who fought for the enactment of the Guffey coal bill that unless you withdraw your objections and permit the deficiency bill to pass, chaos will result and the responsibility will not be mine."

Also tied up in the now dead bill were funds for administration of the railroad pension system created by the Wagner-Crosser bill. Long received this letter from Tom Shay, representative of the twenty-one railroad labor brotherhoods:

"On behalf of the twenty-one standard labor organizations who are vitally interested in the railroad retirement act I appeal to you to permit the deficiency bill to pass. If this measure is not enacted with the senate amendments it means defeat of our efforts and heartbreak to 1,200,000 employés of the railroad transportation system."

Find Roosevelt Has Power to Send the Congress Home

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Out of the rush of today's scramble for adjournment of congress came threats of an unprecedented action, the proroguing of the legislative body by the chief executive. As it turned out, this was unnecessary.

While such practice is accepted under a parliamentary or monarchical government, most American laymen and many lawyers would have backed with their shirts their belief that "it couldn't be done" in the democratic United States.

But there is a little known and never used provision in the constitution, the second half of article 2, section 3, which says: "He (the President) may, on extraordinary occasions, convene both houses . . . and in case of disagreement between them with respect to the time of adjournment, he may adjourn them to such time as he shall think proper . . ."

Some nice problems of procedure might be involved in making effective this privilege of the President. He might prorogue congress to the date of the next scheduled session, only to be confronted by an emergency in the interim. Authorities differ as to whether he could then call an extraordinary session. He might prorogue the congress to a date so far in the future that conceivably several sessions of congress would be canceled entirely.

Whether these considerations have been responsible for the fact that no President ever has availed himself of this power, there is, of course, no means of knowing. It is possible that no previous congress ever disagreed over the time to adjourn, for the provision is specific on this point. There must first be disagreement.

MUCH OF 2 MONTHS' WORK NULLIFIED BY FAILURE OF CASH BILL

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Most congressional authorities held tonight that failure of the 103 million dollar third deficiency bill may delay operation until January of the bulk of New Deal legislation enacted the last two months of congress. Here are the major items lost when Senator Long [Dem., La.] filibustered the appropriation bill to death:

Social security, 76 million dollars.
Soil conservation, 13 millions.
AAA potato control, 5 millions.
Utility bill, 1¾ millions for the power commission and $765,000 for the securities commission.
Neutrality resolution, $25,000.
Railroad retirement, $600,000.
Civil service, for examination of new postal employés under 40 hour week law, $500,000.
Alcohol control administration, $300,000.
Senate investigations, $100,000.
Guffey coal bill, $200,000.
Bus and truck regulation, 1¼ millions.
Labor disputes board, $200,000.
District of Columbia-security act, $125,000.
Seafood inquiry, pure food administration, $600,000.
Steamboat inspection service, $50,000.
World power conference, 75,000.
Penal institutions, 1 million.

THESE BILLS DIE.

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Some of the bills that died tonight when congress quit:

Farm tenant aid—The Bankhead bill creating a corporation with a billion dollar borrowing power to assist farm tenants to buy farms and homes.

[BY A STAF CORRESPONDENT.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—While the senate listened irritably to the Huey Long filibuster, the house tonight happily whiled away the hours with refreshment and song.

The navy band of 12 pieces marched into the well of the chamber. Packed galleries looked down. Representative William P. Connery [Dem., Mass.], an ex-hoofer on the vaudeville stage, seized the baton from the leader and became master of ceremonies.

Attracted by the music, some 200 representatives assembled, drifting in from the cloakroooms where considerable mineral water and bourbon were being consumed.

Iowa Scorned by Nebraska.

The Iowa delegation united in singing, after a fashion, "Where the Tall Corn Grows." The Nebraska group responded huskily with that sweet old anthem, "We Don't Give a Damn for the Whole State of Iowa."

Chairman James P. Buchanan [Dem., Tex.] of the appropriations committee who was just about that time being referred to unfavorably by Kingfish Long in the senate, grabbed the sticks away from the band's trap drummer and performed with them.

Mrs. Carolina O'Day [Dem., N. Y.], close friend of Mrs. Roosevelt, joined in the spirit of the occasion by perching a bandman's cap atop her hair and leading the band in the playing of "Tammany."

Kentucky Goes Bit Sour.

Yielding to the gaiety of the occasion, the members permitted photographers upon the floor. The cameramen found themselves in danger upon several occasions when members resented being found in undignified postures. Finally the cameramen formed a quartet and Representative Kent E. Keller [Dem., Ill.] snapped pictures of them with one of their own boxes.

Members of the committee on labor brought down the house with a ditty entitled "Working Six Hours a Day." The commissioner from the Philippines, Francisco A. Delgado, opined with a native song.

"Lady Lou" Is Barred.

The delegate from Alaska, Anthony J. Dimond, was neatly suppressed when he attempted "The Lady That's Known as Lou."

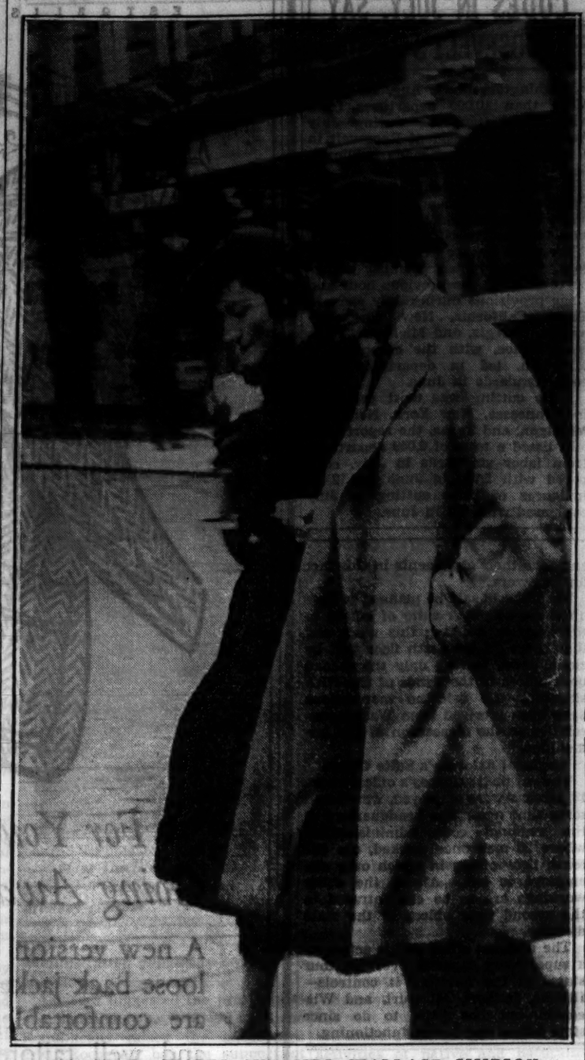
Microphones had been set on the floor but were not connected. Unaware of this, members now and then lurched up to the instruments and bellowed witticisms into them.

Old enmities were forgotten. Republicans and Democrats who had been hurling epithets at each other for eight months sobbed forth apologies as they clasped each other fondly. The spectators gazed sympathetically upon these statesmen who had labored so long and arduously for the people.

Four Pose as Gas Workers; Rob Woman and Daughter

Four robbers posing as gas company workers gained entrance to the home of Mrs. George Prader, 5656 North Moody avenue, yesterday, tied her and her daughter with rope, took a wrist watch from each of them, then one man carried to their car a fifty pound safe containing $12. Mrs. Prader freed herself and released her daughter.

Wales Chases Gloom with Lariat



PRINCE OF WALES AND MRS. WALLACE SIMPSON.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

CANNES, France, Aug. 26.—A new way of chasing gloom is being discovered by the prince of Wales—lariat throwing. The prince made himself conspicuous in the last few weeks by his taciturnity and melancholy, which are connected in the minds of many of his friends with the recent absence from his side of his American companion, Mrs. Wallace Wakefield Simpson. The young woman, until very recently, was with him almost constantly.

Last night he walked into the Carleton hotel barroom with his usual clouded countenance. He sat down at a barroom table, had a few drinks, perked up and discovered a piece of rope. He fashioned a lariat, stepped out on the barroom terrace, and gave an imitation of the cowboys roping steers on his Alberta ranch. He produced several variations of this theme before an applauding crowd. Then he imitated Max Baer skipping a rope in training.

The crowd shouted and clapped its approval. The prince discarded all his dignity, performing for half an hour until people began collecting on the sidewalk in front of the café.

The heir to the British throne will remain at a villa near Golfe-Juan until Thursday. Then it is said he will go to England.

Short on Eggs, Germans Told to Eat Herrings

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—Germans are complaining of a shortage of eggs. The official newspaper Der Angriff today told them they should eat herring instead of eggs, which, the paper said, are more nourishing anyway.

Dismisses Estate Fraud Charge Against Lawyer

A charge of embezzlement against John M. Camelon, an attorney with offices at 155 North Clark street, was dismissed yesterday when the complainant, Dr. James E. Brooks, 3635 Roosevelt road, told Judge Justin F. McCarthy in the Felony court that the matter had been settled. Dr. Brooks had accused Camelon of abstracting $3,000 from the $30,000 estate of Samuel Worthington, eye glass manufacturer, who died three years ago. Dr. Brooks, as executor, retained Camelon.

Man Held to Grand Jury Claims Father Is a Judge

Charles Claiver, alias Saul Taylor, 27 years old, who says his father is a judge in Toronto, Canada, was held to the grand jury by Judge Charles S. McKinley in bonds of $5,000 yesterday on charges of robbery and automobile theft. The complaining witness was Henry Stesenreuter, 7172 South Shore drive.

DIGGING SUBWAY TO END GLENVIEW DEATH CROSSING

Scene of 26 Fatalities in Eight Years.

BY HAL FOUST.

Chicagoland's No. 1 "death crossing" is no more. After many delays the state highway department has begun construction of a subway for Waukegan road under the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific railroad near Glenview, Ill., where twenty-six persons have been killed in the last eight years.

[ARROWS SHOW DETOUR]

Funds Obtained from PWA.

The cost of the structure will be $166,725. It is financed with federal funds as a Public Works administration project and will be completed about May 1 of next year.

Agitation for the improvement started more than five years ago. Accidents were frequent, due to the heavy volume of both pavement and rail trafic at the intersection and due to the obtuse angle of the crossing.

Some billboards that contributed to the hazard were removed after photographs of the intersection were published in THE TRIBUNE. Bells, flashing red lights, and extra signs were operated to warn of approaching trains. But the fatal crashes continued.

Litigation Delays Work.

A little over a year ago the state highway department received bids for the contract to build the subway. Prompt construction was blocked by difficulty in obtaining necessary additional right of way. Condemnation proceedings were instituted. Last week the property owners lost an eleventh hour fight in an injunction suit to block the construction unless they were paid the price they asked for their land.

During the year of litigation two more names were added to the list of dead at the crossing, as compiled by the Chicago Motor club.

ATHLETIC CLUB REFUSES ROOM FOR HITLER FLAG

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The Down Town Athletic club today became the third establishment to refuse to rent a hall for the annual convention of the German-American Technologists' association. The group, scientists and engineers of German extraction, deny political activity, but wish to entertain the German ambassador and fly the official Swastika flag.

The New Yorker hotel has refused to permit display of the Swastika flag because of recent disturbances.

The Hotel Astor canceled reservations which were made there after the New Yorker had refused, the management saying threats of heckling and picketing led to such action.

Police Greet Love Letter Writer Calling on Heiress

For writing two love letters to Merry Fahrney, the patent medicine heiress, and attempting to call at her apartment in the Ambassador hotel, Charles Boberil, 32 years old, 1646 Washburne avenue, a watchman at Lincoln Fields racetrack, spent yesterday afternoon and evening in the Hudson avenue police station. In his second letter Boberil told of his intention to call. Miss Fahrney notified the police and Sergt. James Penny was waiting to greet him when he arrived.

Chicago Lawn police were searching last night for the driver whose automobile struck and killed William Seidel, 36 years old, 10411 Lavergne avenue, Oak Lawn, father of two children, as he was changing a tire on his machine early yesterday in Southwest highway, east of Kedzie avenue and north of 79th street. A coroner's jury returned a verdict of manslaughter.

Seidel's battered body was found 40 feet from his car, which showed signs of having been sidewiped by the hit and run driver. Seidel was on his way to work at the People's bakery, 5530 South Ashland avenue.

One other death yesterday brought the Cook county trafic toll for this year to 599. Until 4 p. m. yesterday 473 persons had been killed within the Chicago city limits and 10,741 had been injured. The other victim yesterday:

Mrs. Irene Johnson, 19 years old, 8356 Mackinaw avenue. Died in the County hospital from injuries incurred when the car driven by her husband, Walter, 23 years old, crashed into the rear of a parked truck in front of 10830 Torrence avenue, Sunday morning.

URGES HEALTH TESTS BEFORE SCHOOLS OPEN

Dr. Herman N. Bundesen, president of the board of health, urged parents yesterday to have their children take medical and dental examinations before the opening of the public schools Sept. 16. Such action, he said, will not only protect the examined children but will tend to prevent epidemics and will reduce the amounts spent by the schools each year to reeducate laggards.

"Examinations show that more than three-fourths of all school children have physical defects of one sort or another," said Dr. Bundesen. "There is great need for correcting such defects and insuring the good health of the child during the school term. If your child has not been vaccinated against smallpox and given injections to prevent diphtheria these things should be done without delay. Every child should be fed cod liver oil every day from September to June."

CONGRESS 'RAIDS' TOP TEN BILLION, SAYS WOODRUFF

Tax Levies Are Assailed as "Outrageous."

BY WILLARD EDWARDS.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The first session of the 74th congress raided the pocketbooks of the American people by the total of 10 billion 350 million dollars, Representative Roy O. Woodruff [Rep., Mich.] declared today.

"With the third deficiency bill taking an additional 100 millions from the pockets of the people, together with the pork barrel flood control bill, authorizing the expenditure of nearly 600 millions, this session of congress has raised the total appropriated during its first three years, under the direction of President Roosevelt himself, to the outrageously unjustified amount of 26 billion 35 million dollars," Woodruff asserted.

Exceeds War Expenses.

"This amount is greater by a few million dollars than the sum expended by this government from April 6, 1917, until July 2, 1921, a period of more than four years, during which the United States was officially at war with Germany.

"For the fiscal year ending June 30, 1934, this administration appropriated $7,105,050,000; for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1935, $8,581,069,000 was appropriated.

"This item would be increased by two billions if we were to include the appropriation in that amount made for the so-called 'stabilization fund.' Such information as we have been able to secure regarding the use of this fund indiacates that its principal function up to this time has been to stabilize the French franc. The French people continue to show their appreciation of our many contributions to the perpetuity of their national life by persisting in their refusal to pay us even a small instalment on the amount they owe us."

Tells of Collections.

Woodruff pointed out that during the fiscal year just closed there was collected from every source, including the processing taxes upon foodstuffs and clothing, less than four and one-half billions. The tax bill, enacted at the insistence of President Roosevelt, he said, will provide not more than 250 millions.

The Michigan representative quoted President Roosevelt's Pittsburgh speech in October, 1932, when he declared that "our workers may never see a tax bill but they pay in deductions from their wages, in increased costs of what they buy, or [as now] in broad cessation of employment."

"On that day the President expounded a fact, not a theory," he declared. "Unless he has completely forgotten that statement and the truth of it he must recognize the fact that billions of dollars of wasteful expenditures and the billions of dollars of debt being heaped upon our people must in the last analysis be paid largely by those who can least afford to pay—our workers, our farmers, our people of modest income.

"This burden of debt is going to be with us for generations. The young people of today, the young people of tomorrow, their children, and their children's children will be called up to pay for the extravagance and waste of this administration."

Assigns 100 WPA Men to Inspect Liquor Dealers

E. C. Yellowley, supervisor of the federal alcohol tax unit in the Chicago district, gave assignments yesterday to 100 "white collar" workers supplied by the Works Progress administration. The WPA will pay these men to act as liquor dealer inspectors. Mr. Yellowley said they were necessary to bring his staf up to adequate strength.

Fresh APPLE PIE

With these nu-fangled 'lectric ovens, I'm bakin' hundreds o' apple pies each day an' they're jes' as good as those I made back on the farm. Guess they're better, 'cause my fire don't die down like it did in the ol' wood stove.

There's a knack to it allright; gettin' a good crust, sweetenin' the apples and that sprinklin' o' Saigon cinnamon. But don't you bother cookin'—your Aunt Clara's bakin' every day, and a big piece o' juicy, flaky, apple pie is waitin' fer you—right now.

ROOSEVELT ENDS CONTROL BY ICKES OVER PUBLIC WORKS

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Secretary of the Interior Harold L. Ickes today was shorn by President Roosevelt of his autocratic power to modify or cancel Public Works administration allotments.

In the determination to get dirt flying on the huge 4 billion dollar works program so that 3,500,000 employables on relief rolls may be at work by Nov. 1, the President set Sept. 12 as the deadline for applications for funds. At the same time the President took the PWA out from under the czarist dictation Ickes has exercised for two years. The President placed it under general regulation of the works relief setup.

In addition to setting the Sept. 12 deadline on applications Mr. Roosevelt ordered that applications will have no chance of approval after Sept. 17, five days after the application deadline. Further he ordered that all contracts must be let by Dec. 15 and by Oct. 22 all organizations operating under the program must be prepared to ask bids on construction work or begin operations by direct labor.

Secretary Ickes previously had set Sept. 16 as the application deadline for PWA projects. In overruling the secretary, the President was seen as giving one more indication that Federal Emergency Relief Administrator Harry Hopkins is the No. 1 man in his program.

At PWA headquarters it was said that 3,809 applications are on file. They are to be checked at PWA state headquarters or to go directly to Hopkins' Work Progress administration for checking against relief needs in the relief areas.

SUBMIT $2,120,000 PWA PROJECTS TO WASHINGTON

Ralph H. Burke, deputy Illinois administrator of the Federal Works Progress administration, approved 28 projects requiring $1,932,496 from Uncle Sam, and sent the proposals to Washington yesterday for confirmation. It was estimated that 3,500 men would be put to work through the federal funds and contributions of local sponsors amounting to $188,312.

Among the projects was a plan offered by the Chicago board of education for $1,064,250 in a federal grant to employ 1,728 men as watchmen to guard against vandalism in the schools. The city of Chicago asked for $8,125 to employ twelve men to inspect and adjust house numbers on 410,000 buildings. The Cook county board made a request for $11,220 to employ thirteen men for repairing locks, cell doors and automatic controls at the Criminal court building.

Dispatches from Washington reported that the President had approved an expenditure of $137,324 for converting a dump bounded by Cicero and Central avenues, Roosevelt road and the Baltimore and Ohio rail road tracks [along Fifth avenue] into a playground and athletic field.

CUT INTERSTATE POWER LINES TO EVADE U. S. RULE

Companies Will Remain Under State Control.

Hartford, Conn., Aug. 26.—(AP)—On the heels of the enactment of the public utilities bill by congress the Hartford Electric Light company and the Connecticut Power company have cut off their interstate power transmission lines.

In explaining the action Samuel Ferguson, chairman of the boards of the two companies, said:

"The Woodrum amendment to the public utility holding bill, which would have left the control of the utility companies under state jurisdiction, having been thrown out by the legislative conferees, the only way in which a company can remain under control of state commissions is by the elimination of interstate business."

Federal Contract Automatic.

Under the utility bill companies engaging in interstate business automatically will come under federal control.

It is understood that since the two companies ordered their interstate lines cut off before the bill was signed by President Roosevelt they will not be affected by the provision which prohibits companies under federal control to abandon any of their service.

The lines cut off by the two companies had been in operation ten years. Ferguson said they had meant "savings to consumers of power amounting to between $2,000,000 and $3,000,000."

"Too Bad," Says Message.

In a telegram to Representative Schuyler Merritt [Rep., Conn.], advising him of the action, Ferguson said:

"Too bad that we had to do this."

Construction Work Delays Oak Park Police Radio

Due to delay necessitated by the construction of a soundproof broadcasting room, the new Oak Park police radio was not put into operation yesterday, as had been planned. It is expected, however, that operations will be opened by tomorrow afternoon, if the license from the federal radio commission is received by that time. Vernon Watson, engineer in charge, declared that tests made during the last two days have been successful.

FOURTEEN SEIZED IN SIX RAIDS ON GAMING HOUSES

Fourteen men were arrested yesterday in six raids on alleged gambling establishments on the north and west sides and in the loop district. The squad of Sergt. Frank O'Sullivan first raided a basement at 2954 Monroe street, arresting three men.

At 141 North Clark street, the squad of Sergt. Joseph Sweeney arrested one man and drove three customers from the place. One arrest was made by the same squad at 406 South Dearborn street, another at 119 North Clark street, and still another at 610 South Dearborn street. Sergt. Anthony Di Grazio of the Sheffield avenue station arrested seven men at 835 Fullerton avenue. James Mastos was booked as keeper.

In the South State Street court Judge Francis Borrelli freed twenty-one men arrested in gambling raids Saturday. He upheld the defense attorney's request for a dismissal on the ground that the raids were made without warants.

NRA'S SKELETON LURKS IN SILENT CHICAGO OFFICES

Small Crew Makes Survey as Sequel to Collapse.

The skeleton of the New Deal's outlawed NRA still inhabits the dismal emptiness of the suites of offices on three floors of the Wrigley building which once were filled with employés.

Only about half a dozen persons were in the three suites yesterday, but room after room filled with unused office equipment was a reminder that a force of about 100 men and women once was employed there. It was said a total of 37 employés are still on the pay roll. Most of them were out, however.

This "skeletonized recovery administration," as President Roosevelt referred to it in ordering its maintenance in the face of the Supreme court's blast, is now engaged in making a fact finding survey concerning the effect the abandonment of NRA codes had on business conditions in Chicago, Rockford, Springfield and Peoria.

Survey Just Starting.

"We have just started that survey and it probably will take us two weeks," said F. L. Roberts, state director of the National Recovery administration, who still holds forth in the offices. "I understand the report we will make to Washington will be used mainly in the compilation of information being made by the division of review of the NRA.

"For the last three weeks we have been making an analysis of facts concerning the cases we adjusted under the codes in Illinois. There are about 8,000 such cases. Our men go out and interview owners of businesses and take their statements in this fact finding work."

Mr. Roberts said he planned to give up the tenth floor suite of offices in the Wrigley building this week and that those on the sixth floor will be closed soon, leaving only the second floor offices in the hands of the NRA skeleton. He said no instructions have been received from Washington relative to the disposition of the furnishings.

Regional Attorney's Suite Closed.

The regional attorney's office, where 18 persons were employed, was closed some time ago. The headquarters of the regional code administration, where 20 men once worked, are the tenth floor offices in which only one employé is left. All of the other workings are to be concentrated in the second floor offices of the state director.

The regional office still is acting in a supervisory capacity over the four states in the territory it controls—Illinois, Indiana, Missouri, and Wisconsin—but has little to do since state offices are barely functioning.

10,000 ABANDON NRA CODES IN JULY, SAY ROOSEVELT'S REPORT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—More than 10,000 departures from NRA code standards during July were cited by President Roosevelt in a report to congress made public today.

It was sent to congress with the President's recommendation Saturday night for legislation at the next session to preserve NRA gains.

Prepared by the NRA, the report said, "The greatest number of departures from the previous hour and wage provisions during July were in Texas, California, New York, Nebraska, Georgia, and Michigan." The same states, with the exception of Michigan, led in departures from code standards in June.

Price cutting was most prevalent in Tennessee, New York, Nebraska, Michigan, and Texas, the report said.

It listed a total of 9,049 departures from labor standards in July, compared with 5,779 in June and 2,490 instances of price cutting in July compared with 857 in June.

U. S. AWAITING SOVIET REPLY TO 'PLOT' NOTE

Stands Firm on Protest, Asserts Hull.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—In his soft spoken Tennessee drawl Secretary of State Cordell Hull today said this country is standing firmly behind its vigorous protest against communist meddling with domestic affairs as the state department awaits a reply from Moscow.

To all questions on the significance of the sharpest diplomatic note delivered by this country since the severance of relations with Germany in 1917, Secretary Hull quietly answered he had "no comment." He said he is awaiting the soviet reply, adding that the state department had no indication of the time or nature of the expected Moscow note.

"Satisfactory Reply" Promised.

After a day of silence Soviet Ambassador Alexander Antonovich Troyanovsky announced that his government will give "a satisfactory reply" to the United States. Until the reply is given him for presentation to the state department he said he did not care to make any statement concerning the protest.

"I wish to refer only to a campaign which has been conducted by some persons in this country against our government and against our form of government," he said. "I call attention to the biblical injunction: 'And why beholdest thou the mote which is in thy brother's eye but perceiveth not the beam that is in thine own eye?'

"Anything said in Moscow by American citizens about the United States is very insignificant compared to continuous propaganda in the United States against the soviet union. I have even seen suggestions that our government should somehow stop the activity of American organizations and American citizens of the United States. It is obvious that my government will not interfere with the internal affairs of the United States in this or any other matter."

Speculate on Politics.

Meanwhile official circles speculated upon the political implications behind the blunt note carrying a thinly veiled threat of severance of diplomatic relations with the soviet union. In addition to riding the tide of swiftly growing sentiment against the maintenance of diplomatic relations with Russia, President Roosevelt was seen as making a disavowal of communist support in the 1936 campaign as a gesture toward anti-Red votes.

This unwanted support was flung behind the Roosevelt administration by Comrade George Dimitroff, keynoter of the Third International meeting at Moscow which ended last week. The keynoter urged that "the communist party should support the election of President Roosevelt because his defeat might enable forces now opposing our forces to give us a body blow."

Reds Worry Administration.

Similar sentiments expressed by Reds in this country have worried the political minds of the administration. They foresaw a strong attack against the New Deal thrust in the hands of Republicans and have been urging the President to placate a citizenry strongly opposed to the recognition of Russia when the negotiations were swept along before the administration popularity swung into ebb tide.

Advisers suggested the presidential pronouncement be withheld until the Republicans raised the anticipated cry "Roosevelt has the support of Reds" on the eve of the 1936 campaign. The statement of Comrade Dimitroff and the general meeting of the Third International made a statement of position necessary at this time, according to well informed observers.

Administration spokesmen stoutly assert the challenging protest has no political significance. They point out that the note is the result of an accumulation of grievances against the failure of soviet Russia to live up to the spirit or the letter of its pledge not to indulge in communist propaganda in America.

Pledge Made in Letter.

This pledge, according to administration spokesmen, is the more sacred because it was delivered in a personal letter to President Roosevelt by Foreign Commissar Maxim Litvinoff Nov. 16, 1933, during recognition negotiations. Because the pledge was delivered to him personally, President Roosevelt is deeply concerned with its observance, the White House insists.

Support Protest Note.

At the capital members of the house and senate foreign relations committees voiced themselves as supporting the state department protest. No member of congress condemned the note.

"The United States merely is calling upon the soviet government to live up to its contract," said Senator James Hamilton Lewis [Dem., Ill.]. "If it continues to spread propaganda here designed to overthrow our democratic form of government it is our first duty to withdraw recognition and treat Russia as an enemy."

Senator Lewis announced that at the next session of congress he would introduce a bill designed to curb the activities of native and naturalized Americans who attack the American form of government.

McReynolds Backs Position.

Chairman Sam McReynolds [Dem., Tenn.] of the house foreign relations committee said he was in complete accord with the state department's position. He added that he has known for some time that soviet officials were giving tacit approval to activities in this country toward overthrowing the government.

Senator Pat McCarran [Dem., Nev.] denounced the one year trade agreement concluded between Russia and the United States last July 13 under which the soviet union was promised "most favored nation" treatment in return for a pledge to spend 30 million dollars in this country. The senator charged that the treaty imperils American manganese interests and added that all this country has received in return for its many gestures of friendship to Russia is communist propaganda.

Expect Familiar Answer.

State department officials expect that the soviet government will raise the cry of "no relationship" in its answer to this government. It is believed that a diplomatic break may be avoided if the soviet reply contains an adequate denunciation of the activities of the Third International.

In addition, there are alternatives to a definite break which merely would limit future intercourse between the two countries. These, it is believed, would be employed before a full severance of relations would be invoked to bring the protest to full fruition.

The United States could take several steps or combination of steps at home and abroad toward limiting relations and breaking them off. At home this government could deny passports to Russia; secure withdrawal of soviet quasi-governmental bodies such as Amtorg, Russian trading corporation; force withdrawal of soviet consulates, and finally toward open break, hand the Russian ambassador his passport.

MOSCOW HOLDS SILENCE

MOSCOW, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Both soviet officials and the Russian press today maintained their policy of strict silence with regard to the American protest against what Washington called interference in the internal affairs of the United States.

The foreign office gave no indication as to when an answer to the pointed note of protest, delivered yesterday by Ambassador William C. Bullitt, might be expected.

The American colony and diplomatic sources speculated excitedly upon possible developments. The press had not told Russians of the protest.

SHIPYARDS STRIKE IN NEW JERSEY IS TO BE ARBITRATED

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 27 [Tuesday].—(AP)—Officers of the New York Shipbuilding company announced early today they will accept President Roosevelt's plan to arbitrate the strike in the Camden shipyards. The decision means the yards will open Thursday.

The workers, who have been on strike fifteen weeks, agreed to the plan Sunday night.

Directors of the company met in a downtown hotel and issued this statement at 2 a. m. today:

"The New York Shipbuilding corporation announces that it has accepted the terms for the arbitration of all disputes with all employés as provided for in the executive order signed by the President of the United States under date of Aug. 22, 1935. The Camden, N. J., shipyard will reopen Aug. 29, 1935."

BRITAIN FOLLOWS U. S. WARNING TO RUSSIA WITH ONE OF HER OWN

[Copyright: 1935: By the New York Times.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—Following the announcement of the strong protest by the United States to Russia against political activities by the Comintern [Communist International] in the United States, it became known here today that Britain had added another to the long list of "mild protests" it has periodically dispatched to Moscow in the last decade.

No note such as that Ambassador William C. Bullitt presented has been sent, but the foreign office took steps to advise the acting commissar for foreign affairs that speeches at the recent Comintern congress describing how the British Communist party had successfully used unemployment and the industrial depression to organize strikers and hunger marches had been read with displeasure.

The customary reply, that the words and actions of British delegates to the Comintern are not under the control of the soviet, is expected here.

SCHOOL FINANCE BILL SIGNED BY THE PRESIDENT

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The President late today signed the Robinson-Terry school finance law, which authorizes the Reconstruction Finance corporation to lend amounts up to $10,000,000 for the benefit of tax supported public school districts.

The measure is to enable political subdivisions "to reduce and refinance" outstanding indebtedness contracted for the "purpose of financing the construction, operation, or maintenance of public school facilities."

The act imposes a thirty-three year limit on the loan period and lays down security stipulations and definitions.

NUDE FAT WOMAN A SIGHT, BUT NOT A PICTURE TO HIM

Glances His Only Trespass, Farmer Insists.

Long Valley, N. J., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The spectacle of "a fat, tubby woman cavorting around in the nude" is anything but edifying, William Searles, farmer, whose land adjoins a nudist colony, said today.

"Why," he declared, "there were only two good looking nude girls there and they would have looked a lot better if they had clothes on."

One of the women upon whom Searles and 150 guests gazed yesterday, he said, weighed at least 300 pounds. "She was just rolling in fat," he said, "and had no business running around without a stitch of clothes on."

"But," expostulated some one, "don't you think that artists are correct when they paint beautiful women in the nude?"

Clothes Make the Beauty.

"I think," replied Searles, "that it's the artist that makes them look beautiful. There's nothing pretty about a naked woman. The minute she takes her clothes off she loses her beauty. It's indecent, besides, for women and men to run around that way naked. Why, yesterday they had two children out there naked. One was a boy and the other a girl."

"Did the 150 people who gathered to look at the nudists seem to enjoy it?" some one asked.

"Yes, I reckon they did," said Searles. "I didn't charge any admission fee. They just came on my land and looked at the nudists. Any one's free to come that wants to, and if the nudists board up the fence I'm going to build an observation tower 60 feet high. There's to be no charge for that either. What I want to do is to break up these goings-on."

Scoffs at Trespass Charge.

Searles said he had no fear of the nudists' charge that he had trespassed on their colony's land. "I haven't set foot on that land in five years," he said. "When they got the warant I told them to give it to me as I was a constable and I'd arrest myself and stand trial. But they wouldn't do that. They had some one else serve it."

He is due to stand trial before Recorder George McPeak tomorrow night. Searles said he would not be surprised if the whole sixty members of the colony appeared against him.

"But that won't do them any good," said Farmer Searles. "I've got a right to look in any direction from my own land, and I'll tell you I've got tired looking over there, and any way I look I find my eyes on a naked woman or man. It's no pleasure to me and it's not good for the children."

BRITISH ENVOY TO CALL ON LAVAL; FRANCE NERVOUS

Paris Does Not Desire to Offend Mussolini.

BY EDMOND TAYLOR.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

PARIS, Aug. 26.—Sir George Clerk, British ambassador to France, has asked an immediate interview with Pierre Laval as soon as the French premier returns from a brief vacation at a secret location.

This circumstance has added to the nervousness of the French regarding the Italo-Ethiopian situation since they now see the threatening conflict as primarily one between Great Britain and Italy. The French are wondering what demands Clerk will make on Premier Laval and if France will be asked to fight Britain's battle.

Warnings Stun French.

Little disposition for taking such a course appears in France where, despite the traditional respect for British wishes, public opinion is stunned by the tone of Premier Mussolini's warnings to the British. The French bitterly recall the Fashoda episode of 1898 when, on a simple word from Downing street, they were forced into the evacuation of the Sudan and gave up all pretensions to control the upper course of the Nile.

If Clerk serves an ultimatum upon Laval demanding that the French back up the British at Geneva, it is admitted Laval will be in a tight fix. Laval is unwilling to offend Mussolini, to whom he practically promised a free hand in Ethiopia, but is also anxious to keep England as France's friend—the greatest object of French diplomacy since the world war, because they feel that with the British behind them all the problems on the European continent will be settled.

French Are Embarrassed.

Contradictory and hesitant opinions in the French press tonight show the embarrassment the Italian stand is creating for them. Veiled satisfaction for Mussolini's attitude is mingled with the opinion that no nation in Europe can defy Britain without breaking its neck, the French not having lost the memory of Trafalgar and Waterloo.

Raisin Growers Riot in Greece; Set Up Martial Law

ATHENS, Aug. 27.—[Tuesday.]—(AP)—Martial law was proclaimed today at Pylos, in the southern part of the Peleponnesus peninsula, after fierce rioting in which one person was killed and several wounded. The outbreak occurred when raisin farmers, infuriated at low crop prices, staged an angry demonstration and refused to disperse. Gendarmes fired into the farmers as the latter shouted angry protests and milled about.

Winner of Nobel Peace Prize Sees U. S. 'Dragged' Into War

NORTHEY ISLAND, Maldon, Essex, England, Aug. 26.—The results of a war between Italy and Ethiopia, in so far as they affect Great Britain and America, can hardly be in doubt.

Italy would, of course, conquer Ethiopia, but not easily, and its subsequent occupation of the country will be extremely exhausting. Germany will in consequence have a free hand in Austria. Weakening Italy will be one step more toward that reëstablishment of the military hegemony of Europe through Germany which both Britain and America fought the great war to frustrate.

The menace to democracy will be infinitely greater than would have been involved in a victory for pre-war Germany. Another unchecked successful assertion of Fascist military power, coming after those made first by Japan and Germany—the latter having been able to defy the victors with complete impunity within a few years of their victory—will in fact reduce the remaining great democratic states of Europe, France and Great Britain, to something like impotence.

Sees Britain Weakened.

The position of the British empire will be weakened in any case by the planting of an "expansionist" and an intensely militarist state, possessed of a particular political morality which inspires an Italian policy, along a line vital to imperial communication commanding the headwaters of the Blue Nile, and establishing a new frontier marching 100 miles from the frontiers of British colonies.

A still more important consideration is that Italian aggression upon the only remaining independent African state will add the most inflammable fuel to the flames of Asiatic and African nationalism which must sooner or later place the whole imperial structure in danger. The intensification of race feeling will certainly have American repercussion.

Sooner or later Britain will be compelled to intervene. As guardian and chief shareholder of the Suez canal, the position of facilitating and making profit out of an act of aggression which defies all international rights and which also undermines Britain's own security, will become too absurd for indefinite acceptance by the British people.

Predicts U. S. "Coöperation."

"Intervention" mustn't be read as naval or military operations. It may consist of closing the canal, leaving the next step to Italy. America won't be dragged in in the sense that she was dragged in in 1917. But sooner or later she will be compelled to cooperate with other states in withholding from Italy not merely munitions in the last stage of manufacture but those things indispensable to war.

The United States not only is a signatory but the actual initiator of the treaty declaring nondefensive war a crime against mankind. To supply a criminal with means for his crime or to refuse to coöperate in checking or making difficult what America herself declared to be a crime will, as the situation is clarified, come as a shock to the American conscience. There will ultimately be coöperation between Great Britain and America to stop the supply of means for carrying on operations which before long may well become little more than senseless murder.

Britain could have stopped the whole drift toward war if she had been given a lead modeled on the action of American statesmen something over a century ago. If, in other words, she had declared a principal of the covenant to be her Monroe Doctrine. The covenant declares a state in the circumstances of the Italo-Ethiopian dispute which goes to war with one member of the league goes to war with all.

Britain Gets Blame.

The general assumption is a simple straightforward application of this rule by Great Britain would involve war. That assumption turns obvious facts upside down. If Britain months ago had declared she would defend the covenant—that is to say, rule that the state must arbitrate or settle its differences peacefully—just as she would defend Jamaica or Australia, there would be no war crisis.

Italy knows an attempt to seize Malta would be resisted by all the power of the British empire. Therefore its seizure is not attempted. The British policy of so defending British territory does not involve war, nor would a similiar definiteness of intention to defend the covenant, had that intention been sufficiently plain in time, have involved war. The uncertainty as to what we would do in that truht explains the drift toward war.

Italy knows unhappily we are in two minds in defense of the covenant. Upon that uncertainty and that division of will the military dictator is ready to gamble.

"Absence of Clear Conviction."

Our difficulty therefore isn't in the last analysis a material one, or lack of means or power, but the absence of any clear conviction as to how that power may best be used defensively.

Something over 100 years ago at the suggestion of a British statesman the then weak and feeble United States proclaimed a doctrine that any attempt to conquer an American state would be regarded as an attack upon herself.

The United States gave a lead which has been successful. A similar lead on this side of the world by a state far more powerful than the United States was then, would give an equally successful result.

any and all foreign currencies in an effort to halt the alarming flight of capital.

A curt notice said foreign currencies could not be bought until further notice. That means many foreigners will be gravely embarrassed in their efforts to quit Ethiopia before war breaks out. They cannot export thalers and cannot buy foreign money here. Consequently, many are afraid they will be unable to depart in time.

As for official reaction to the new dispatch of Italian soldiers the foreign ministry said:

"Peace? We are still hoping. The age of miracles is past perhaps, and it is too late now for nations which might have stopped the Italians to act usefully."

Evacuate Addis Ababa.

ADDIS ABABA, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Ethiopian natives and Italian authorities alike began evacuation of the capital today amid rapid fire developments indicative of a general belief that hostilities were almost at hand.

Prices of the scanty food commodities soared, the Italian government began evacuating its citizens and legation archives, and other diplomats acted for protection of their legations in the event of air bombardments.

Acting on Premier Mussolini's orders, the Italian legation shipped sixty cases of official archives to Djibouti, French Somaliland.

This action was followed immediately by a suggestion from the Belgian minister, as dean of the diplomatic corps, that Emperor Haile Selassie incorporate the British, French, German, and Belgian legations into a special international zone immune from bombardment.

Seek to Bring in Troops.

These legations are situated in the same general area, of about fifteen square miles. The area does not include the American legation, which is on the other side of the city.

The Belgian minister also asked the emperor to give the American and other foreign legations permission to bring in emergency troops, as the British are doing.

It was believed that the "king of kings" would approve this suggestion, provided that the incoming forces would be of moderate numbers.

[State department officials at Washington, D. C., said the United States has not considered sending any troops to guard the American legation at Addis Ababa. It was assumed at Washington that the Belgian minister made the request on behalf of the entire corps.]

Mussolini's Price for Peace.

LONDON, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Premier Mussolini may tell the league of nations on Sept. 4 that if other powers will give Italy some of their colonies in Africa he will call off his threatened invasion of Ethiopia, diplomats heard today.

If he intends to name such a price for peace, said students of the Italo-Ethiopian situation, he may endeavor first to get from Adolf Hitler of Germany support for making the colonial question an international concern.

[Baron Konstantin von Neurath, the German foreign minister, told Sir Eric Phipps, British ambassador to Berlin, in May that Germany insists the former allies must recognize her right to have colonies again before the reich will return to the league of nations. Germany lost her African colonies in the world war.]

In naval circles, war office orders hastening the departure of 1,200 technical troops to the islands of Malta and Aden, Arabia, and dispatching the aircraft carrier, Courageous, from Gibraltar to the Suez canal were the center of attention and speculation.

The troop reinforcements are to take over anti-aircraft duties on the two tiny but strategic fortresses on the empire route.

Dear Mr. Onderdonk:

Because of the pleasant comfort in our office occasioned by this excellent air-conditioning system, my staff and I are having a most comfortable and profitable summer.

The saving on dispositions and the difference in the increase in work accomplished makes us wonder why anyone would be without air-conditioning if it were at all possible to obtain. I find I am no more tired or exhausted at the end of a very hot day than I am in the coldest weather.

The Tribune certainly made a great stride forward for its beautiful building and added the acme of comfort for its tenants when it installed this fine air-conditioning system.

Sincerely yours,

Secretary

HITLER DIRECTS GUN PRACTICE OF GERMANY'S NAVY

Military Leaders at Kiel for Maneuvers.

BY SIGRID SCHULTZ.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—While Premier Mussolini was directing Italian army maneuvers today in the Tyrol and close to Germany's southern border, Reichsfuehrer Adolf Hitler arrived at Kiel to direct the gun practice of the reich's steadily growing navy.

The fuehrer was accompanied by Gen. Werner von Blomberg, minister of defense; Gen. Hermann Wilhelm Goering, minister of air; Admiral Raeder, chief of the navy; Gen. Werner von Fritsch, commander in chief of the army, and a big retinue of officers.

The leader of the Storm Troopers and the Schutz Staffel, Hitler's hand picked bodyguard, joined the party in Kiel. The fuehrer reviewed the Kiel guard of honor and then boarded a warship while Gen. Von Blomberg left on a dispatch boat to personally direct gun practice.

Keep Out of Row.

While the danger of war looms in Africa, the Germans express great satisfaction that as a result of the nation's withdrawal from the league of nations, the government need not take an active part in the negotiations concerning the Italo-Ethiopian conflict.

Politicians feel that maneuvers staged by Mussolini in the Tyrol are a gesture on Il Duce's part to indicate he is still vitally interested in developments in continental Europe and in the fate of Austria.

Nevertheless, diplomatic circles continue to whisper about a secret rapprochement between Italy and Germany. They credit Franz von Papen, former chancellor and now minister extraordinary to Vienna, with acting as a go-between. The foreign office refused to comment on the reports, stressing that "Germany is preserving the strictest reserve."

Report Coal Sales to Italy.

Business circles speak of heavy sales of German coal to Italy, but they are unable to state how Italy is paying the bill. In this connection talk of political concessions by Italy crops up anew.

Another group points out that Switzerland, which heretofore has refused to accept coal in large quantities for repayment of the balance due it in the German-Swiss clearing agreement, is now ready to accept German coal. It is surmised that part of the coal is meant for Italy.

A prominent German business man who returned from Ethiopia this month is being visited by business men from all parts of the reich. The activities in his office show clearly that business transactions are in full swing. Great precautions are taken to keep the details of the transactions secret.

The government controled radio system has expressed great excitement over reports from Czechoslovakia that all Czechoslovakian ammunition factories, including the Skoda works, are working three shifts a day.

40,000 Assemble

More than 40,000 bathers attended the opening of the Chicago park district three day water carnival yesterday at the Montrose-Wilson beach. Ten thousand orphans and underprivileged children are to be guests of the park district at the festival today. North side and northwest side business men's associations will be in charge of tomorrow's program.

Nancy Gaffney, 4 years old, 5023 Glenwood avenue, was named "Miss Neptune" yesterday in a bathing beauty contest restricted to girls less than 9 years old. Trophies were awarded in 13 swimming events. Adolph Kiefer won first place in three events, 50 yard back stroke, 100 yard free style, and the two mile marathon. Alice Lund won both the 50 yard free style event for girls under 17 and the 50 yard back stroke event for girls. Others who won first prizes are Frank Keohane, Barbara Quall, Nick Funkiewicz, Catherine Gundersen, F. Neprocatis, Elizabeth Betz, and Emmett Schintani.

Pension Registration for $1 Fee Newest Racket

Richmond, Va., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Ever hopeful colored men arrived at the governor's office here today looking for the state "social security commission" to give them old age pensions, but learned they had been victimized by a new racket. They said two white men told them they would get the pensions if they paid a dollar registration fee.

PUNISHMENT FOR SABBATH BREACH IS VOTED BY JEWS

Two Rival Zionist Groups Settle Differences.

LUCERNE, Switzerland, Aug. 26.—(AP)—The deadlock in the world Zionist conference was broken tonight when the Orthodox Zionist group [Mizrachi] and the Laborites settled their differences and general debate was resumed.

The labor delegation, which has been protesting against the imposition of penalties on Sabbath violators in Palestine, finally resolved by majority vote to accede to the demands of the Mizrachi.

David Ben-Gurion, Zionist labor leader and member of the World Zionist executive, told a press conference the Zionist organization must maintain its present attitude in regard to the transfer of German goods to Palestine because it is carrying out the duties of the government.

Seek Peace Among All.

Zalman Rubashow, an editor of the Palestine labor daily Davar and vice president of the Jewish Agency council, referred to the religious demands of Mizrachi in a speech, emphasizing that labor in Palestine desires normal and peaceful collaboration among religious and nonreligious elements in Palestine.

Louis Lipsky, honorary president of the Zionist organization of America, warned of an "economic collapse" in Palestine unless "economic individualism" is restrained.

Declaring that "the healthy economic development of Palestine has been undermined," Lipsky demanded that private initiative should be made subject to a superior agency, which would foster the development of the Jewish national home "along the lines of the national ideal."

Lipsky and Morris Rothenberg, president of the Zionist Organization of America, joined in proposing the establishment of an economic planning council, in which private industry and Zionist national institutions would be represented, with Jews in all parts of the world participating.

Worried Over Competition.

Rothenberg expressed great concern because of competition between various Palestine funds, referring particularly to the Palestine Foundation fund, which conducts a drive in the United States.

The congress was thrown into an uproar late today when some one shouted "Heil, Hitler!" Demands were immediately made that any one who used the Nazi cry be expelled. The outburst occurred when the congress defeated a proposal by the Jewish State party that the transfer agreement between Germany and Palestine should be discussed in open session.

The delegates of the Jewish State group shouted "Heil, Hitler!" when the Labor party delegation opposed the motion.

NAZI DEFENSE AMAZES HITLER 'ERRORS' PARLEY

Williamstown, Mass., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—A spirited defense of Nazi Germany, delivered unexpectedly at a meeting devoted to the "errors" of Hitlerism, startled 500 members of the Institute of Human Relations here today.

The defense was spoken by Frau Schirmacher-Oncken of Berne, Switzerland, the widow of a German and the mother of a young Nazi. She interrupted the meeting, conducted at Williams college under auspices of the National Conference of Jews and Christians to learn how to improve intergroup relations in the United States.

Jews can blame some of the anti-Jewish discrimination in Germany upon themselves, she said as the audience gasped, because Jews "were not in their own homes in Germany," and in pre-Hitler days "did not hold themselves in the background."

Protestants and Catholics likewise came in for her criticism. "I lived 30 years in Germany," she said. "Before, during and after the war until three years ago. I know that most of the Protestant ministers preached a bourgeois Christianity and helping nobody to accept the salvation of Jesus Christ, having never experienced salvation themselves."

DIVORCE DISMISSED AS PLAINTIFF CRIES: I LOVE MY WIFE!

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Married 35 years, Virgil F. Winslow was on the witness stand, testifying in an attempt to obtain a divorce from Sarah C. Winslow.

"She was domineering——" his voice halted and tears came to his eyes.

"I love my wife! I can't go through with this!" he suddenly shouted and, walking from the witness stand, he went to his wife and embraced her.

The case was dismissed.

BRITISH PREPARE DEFENSE AGAINST ENEMY AIR RAIDS

Nation Is Ordered to Act at Once.

BY JOHN STEELE.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

LONDON, Aug. 26.—A vast scheme for setting up throughout the British Isles a network of first aid and decontamination centers for use in case of air raids with casualty clearing stations and base hospitals to treat victims was outlined in a memorandum issued tonight by the air raid precautions department of the home office.

Significantly local authorities are advised to prepare against bomb and gas attacks immediately. The government urges the speedy appointment of officials and assistants to take charge of the organization and to survey hospital accommodations.

Representatives of St. John's ambulance brigade and the British Red Cross society, it is declared, should be invited by local authorities to cooperate in a nation-wide scheme.

Will Supply Gas Masks.

In planning an appropriate organization, the first steps, the memorandum suggests, are the preparation of lists of buildings and equipment required and the training of personnel. It was previously announced the government would supply gas masks, protective clothing, and bleach powder for workers.

Local authorities are urged to base their anti-war raid organization on mobile first aid parties, first aid and decontamination centers, preferably combined, casualty clearing hospitals to deal with serious cases, base hospitals in the rural areas, and ambulance services.

For a densely populated area it is advised that twelve first aid parties—six on duty and six in reserve—should be formed for every 100,000 population with additional trained personnel in reserve.

Schools for Hospitals.

Sufficient centers should be provided to make it unnecessary for any one to walk more than a mile for medical treatment.

"Casualty clearing hospitals should normally be local hospitals, but for the purpose of base hospitals in the country districts it might be necessary to select mental hospitals and public assistance institutions and even schools," the memorandum said.

AFRICAN ROW, JAP DEMANDS SEEN AS NAVAL TALK BAN

LONDON, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Japan's reiteration of its demands for equality, combined with the East African crisis, eliminates all possibility for a new naval limitation agreement in 1935, diplomatic sources well informed on the situation, said today.

A Japanese note, delivered to the foreign office, emphasized advance recognition of naval equality for Japan with Great Britain and the United States as a condition to holding a preliminary naval conference here in October.

Diplomats expressed the belief that representatives of the five major naval powers—the United States, England, Japan, France, and Italy—would meet here before the year end for a brief formal session, fulfilling the provisions of the expiring Washington treaty, and then adjourn indefinitly.

There is a general belief in foreign circles that Italy would not attend any conference if war began in East Africa.

NAZIS TO BEHEAD MOTHER; LEFT HER BABES TO STARVE

BERLIN, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Frau Charlotte Juenemann, sentenced to death last March for allegedly leaving her three small children to starve to death, was removed tonight from Barimstrasse women's prison to Ploetzensee prison and a reliable source said she may be beheaded at dawn tomorrow.

She will be beheaded by the same formally dressed headsman who has officiated at recent executions at Ploetzensee prison.

[Frau Juenemann was reported at the time of her trial to be an expectant mother. Because of her condition some quarters apparently held the belief Reichsfuehrer Hitler might act in her behalf.]

THE SUMMER SALE OF OVERCOATS

Focuses attention on two imported fabric coats—one of Irish fleece—the other of Crombie cloth from Scotland. At their respective sale prices they represent value considerably in excess of what is required to assure the success of an overcoat sale at this season of the year.

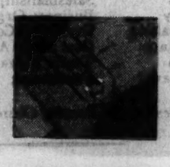
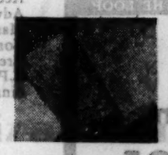
Right—The British raglan of Irish fleece—pockets slant forward—so that when your hands are in them the front of the coat stays close against the body instead of bulging as it is in the habit of doing.

$39.50

Both of these coats have had the benefits of American tailoring talents and have used to advantage many of the interesting and practical "extras" that trace their origin to London's West-ends's foremost custom tailoring shops. A few of these "extras" are shown below.

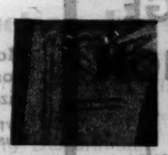


Cuff strap shown as it appears when buttoned over to its farthest button—holding cuff closely to wrist, it keeps out cold winds walking or driving.



Another idea that reveals the ingenuity of London's famed Seville Row is the new inner storm cuff which even when in use leaves the cuff in a natural shape.

For especially stormy weather when you're buffeting a good stiff wind then the collar tab proves its worth.



The storm tab when not in use is buttoned inside the coat on the left, above the spacious pocket.

INVITE OFFICIALS TO CONSTITUTION DAY CEREMONIES

Park Board Among State and Local Men Asked.

City, county, and state officials were invited yesterday to participate in Chicago's observance on Sept. 17 of the 148th anniversary of the adoption of the United States constitution.

With the approval of the Constitution day committee of sponsors, Julius H. Miner, general director, mailed personal invitations to Gov. Henry Horner and other elected state officials, to Senators James Hamilton Lewis and William H. Dieterich, and to Mayor Kelly asking them to be guests of honor on that day.

At the same time he sent invitations to all city and county executives, to all members of the city council, and the county board and general assembly, and to the commissioners of the Chicago park district to attend as guests of the committee in charge. Replies were requested.

Soldiers' Field Issue Unsettled.

Interest was aroused by the invitations to the five park commissioners in view of the application of the sponsors of Constitution day for the use of Soldiers' field for the occasion. President Robert J. Dunham and Commissioners James C. Petrillo and Stephen I. Witmanski, despite a plea for early action, have declined to disclose their attitude toward the application. Harry Joseph has not replied to a telegram addressed to him.

Director Miner denied that there was any hidden purpose in his bids.

"The committee feels," he said, "that our government officials as well as private citizens of all parties should join in commemorating this historic day. Certainly Gov. Horner, Mayor Kelly, and our United States senators will be welcome at such a celebration and we have tried not to overlook anybody.

Proof Positive of Good Faith.

"To have omitted the park commissioners would have been a mistake. They, possibly more than any others, should attend and be convinced that the ceremonies are patriotic rather than partisan."

"The celebration will be observed in a solemn, dignified and patriotic manner and all political or controversial phases will be entirely eliminated except as they pertain to adherence to the constitution," says the letter of invitation.

Among the speakers who have been invited for the celebration are: Senator Carter Glass of Virginia, Bainbridge Colby and Newton D. Baker, former members of President Wilson's cabinet; former Gov. Albert C. Ritchie of Maryland, Gov. James M. Curley of Massachusetts and John W. Davis, former Democratic nominee for President of the United States."

ILLINOIS LEGION ACTS TODAY ON FULL BONUS; '36 PAYMENT FORECAST

Quincy, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The state convention of the American Legion assembled today with about 10,000 delegates and spectators from Legion posts and the auxiliary in this city.

Commander Paul Armstrong of Chicago opened the session. The Rev. Henry Cluver offered prayer. Myron Duncan, tenor from the Chicago Municipal opera, sang "The Star Spangled Banner" and Mayor Leo Lenane of this city welcomed the delegates.

John Thomas Taylor, the Legion's chief lobbyist at Washington, predicted that congress will vote to pay the bonus in 1936. Taylor blamed Congressman Wright Patman of Texas, author of the greenback currency plan, for the veto of the most recent bonus legislation by President Roosevelt.

Among the proposals before the resolutions committee are deportation of alien Reds, taking aliens off relief rolls, and full payment of the bonus.

Mel Tierney post, No. 247, drum and bugle corps of Park Ridge, Ill., won the state championship in class A contest for the third consecutive year with a score of 98.11.

MACY EXPECTED TO BACK BORAH FOR NOMINATION

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Former Republican State Chairman W. Kingsland Macy is likely to throw his influence among G. O. P. members in New York state toward United States Senator Borah as the party candidate for President in 1936, it was learned today.

Close associates of Macy asserted that he took the poll being conducted among Republicans nationally by Robert H. Lucas and showing Senator Borah in the lead as an indication that the party members wanted a "progressive."

Mr. Macy always contended he was leading a "progressive" fight against an "old guard" of Republicans in New York.

KUPPENHEIMER'S SON GETS PERMIT TO WED JANE BULL

A marriage license was issued yesterday to Louis B. Kuppenheimer Jr., 22 years old, son of the former head of B. Kuppenheimer & Co., clothing manufacturers, and Miss Jane Bull, 19 years old, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. C. Bull, 834 Greenwood avenue, Glencoe.

Young Kuppenheimer gave his address as 1130 Laurel avenue, Hubbard Woods, the family residence. Members of the family refused to comment when reached by telephone, and when young Kuppenheimer was finally found at the home he said:

"Nothing has been settled yet. It looks as if there will be no marriage for a while."

VOTERS TO NAME GOVERNOR TODAY IN MISSISSIPPI

Huey Long Point of Issue in Hot Campaign.

Jackson, Miss., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A red hot campaign concluded, Mississippi voters tomorrow will chose a governor, lieutenant governor, and other state and local officials in the Democratic run-off primary election.

The election has developed into a personal war between the gubernatorial candidates, Hugh White, Columbia lumberman, and Paul Johnson, Hattiesburg lawyer, with Senator Huey Long, Louisiana kingfish, as the chief bone of contention.

The minute the first primary returns showed a run-off to be necessary, managers of White issued a statement draping Long around Johnson's neck. White charged Long was supporting Johnson in an attempt to dominate Mississippi's political affairs as he has done Louisiana's.

Johnson denied the charge, saying he never had met Long and did not want Long's support. In Washington Long said he was not participating in the election, as neither candidate supported his "share-the-wealth" plan.

But the heat really was not put into the campaign until Senator Theodore Bilbo, Mississippi's spectacular son, came back from Washington and took the stump for White. He launched a vicious attack on Long and charged he was secretly supporting Johnson.

HATHAWAY, FIRE ESCAPE KIDNAP PLOTTER, INSANE

Joseph A. Hathaway, 44 years old, 2326 Grey avenue, Evanston, who confessed a plot to kidnap and murder a woman who objected to his attentions to her sister, was found insane yesterday by a jury before Acting Chief Justice Donald S. McKinlay in the Criminal court. He was committed to the state hospital at Menard, Ill.

Dr. Harry R. Hoffman of the Criminal court behavior clinic testified that Hathaway, a public accountant with offices at 19 South La Salle street, is suffering from delusions of persecution and that he has a suicidal complex. Hathaway's wife, Lucille, mother of his three children, wept in court.

Hathaway was collared by police while climbing the fire escape of the Parkway hotel at 2100 Lincoln Park West two weeks ago. He said he was on his way to the room of Miss Ann Fergus, 35 years old, his former secretary, and her sister, Alice, 33 years old. According to his story, Alice objected to his attempts to court her sister, and he was after Alice when captured.

G. O. P. ASKS UNIONS TO CELEBRATION OF LABOR DAY MONDAY

Formal invitation to join in the Republican Labor celebration at Riverview park next Monday was extended yesterday to the Chicago Federation of Labor which, after failing to obtain the use of Soldiers' field, canceled plans for its own annual observance of the day.

Arthur F. Albert, general chairman of the Republican committee arranging the Riverview program, sent the invitation by mail to John Fitzpatrick, president of the labor organization. In it he offered free to the unionists as many tickets as they would use for the park.

Although some of the federation officials have agreed, because of the absence of any exercises of their own, to take part in a program arranged by the Stockyards Workers' unions, it is expected that thousands of unionists will spend the afternoon and evening at Riverview and form an important part of the demonstration.

Chairman Albert said that there is unprecedented coöperation among all Republican factions and groups to make this Labor day gathering a record breaker. In addition, a citizens' committee headed by Orville J. Taylor has arranged for participation by a large number of nonpolitical organizations and neighborhood units.

TAVERN OWNER ROBBED.

Two gunmen robbed Gust Bjork, owner of the Swedish Village tavern at 10470 Indianapolis avenue, of $300 and his automobile early yesterday as he stopped for the Pennsylvania railroad crossing at East 105th street and Avenue E on the way to his home at 10458 Avenue F.

ZENGE'S THIRD PLEA FOR HABEAS WRIT IS REFUSED

A third petition for a writ of habeas corpus on behalf of Mandeville W. Zenge, under indictment for the emasculation murder of Dr. Walter J. Bauer, chemistry instructor, was denied yesterday by Acting Chief Justice Donald S. McKinlay of the Criminal court on the grounds that it was outside his jurisdiction.

Attorney Joseph E. Green, representing the young Kirksville, Mo., farmer and carpenter, explained out of court that he wanted to exhaust every remedy in the state courts in order to lay a legal foundation to petition the federal court for a writ.

One point emphasized in the application for the writ was that the defendant's rights are impinged by the refusal of the state courts to permit the private examination of Zenge by an alienist chosen by his attorneys. Zenge's counsel contended that because of this they were blocked in preparing a proper defense.

Zenge is alleged to have murdered Bauer by mutilation in Chicago on July 31, two weeks after the chemistry teacher had married Louise Schaffer, Kirksville nurse and Zenge's boyhood sweetheart.

Recover Missing Mother's Body; Baby 6 Weeks Old

The body of Mrs. Anna Haubl, 21 years old, who had been missing since Friday from her home, 3841 Janssen avenue, was recovered yesterday from the lake at Irving Park boulevard. Her husband, Walter, told police Mrs. Haubl had been ill since the birth of her daughter six weeks ago.

A MODERN EDUCATION for A MODERN WORLD

Achievement today demands a college education. It also demands the right kind of a college education. Reading books, attending classes, passing examinations, piling up credits, may or may not be good education. The young man or woman with his "ear to the ground" chooses a college where present-day problems are part of the curriculum—where instruction is geared to modern conditions—where students profit by every-day experience—where work, play and social activities are "laboratories" or "workshops" related to classroom experience.

Central College students live at home. Many work, at least, part time. They all meet life at first hand—study real situations—learn how to apply classroom principles to life problems. In short, they get at Central College a modern education for a modern world.

What vocational and educational problems does modern life present to you? Bring them to Central College Student Personnel Service. Discuss with experienced student counselors how best to plan a course that will build your life as well as your career. Consultation from 9:00 a.m. to 9:00 p.m.

2 CRIB WORKERS KILLED AS MINE DAMP EXPLODES

Spark Turns Shaft Into Huge Cannon; 5 Injured.

One man was killed and six others were injured, one fatally, yesterday when a gas explosion at the bottom of the 187 foot shaft of the new William E. Dever water crib off Chicago avenue shot upward and enveloped in flames a crew of thirteen city laborers working at the top of the shaft.

Sparks or a hot bolt head dislodged by acetylene torches the men were using was believed to have ignited a pocket of some type of natural gas—perhaps methane, marsh gas—which seeped through the bottom of the well. Damage was estimated at $2,500. City engineers last night were trying to obtain a sample of the fumes for analysis.

Back at Work After Layoff; Dies.

Thomas Cleary, 53 years old, 1319 West 97th street, was killed. Cleary, who was working his first day since he was laid off on Aug. 7, was standing by a door at the top of the shaft, intending to get a pail of water. The explosion hurled him against the door and thence off the crib deck and into Lake Michigan. His body was recovered about fifteen feet from the crib. The head bore a deep gash.

The six injured, suffering from burns, were taken to the Passavant hospital. There Inaseti R. Ferretti, 48 years old, 2142 Congress street, died early today of his injuries. The other five injured are:

TONY WICZORKIEWICZ, 53 years old, 1308 North Hoyne avenue.
JAMES WELSH, 49 years old, 124 North Keeler avenue.
PETE SAKKISEAN, 41 years old, 2339 Montrose avenue.

Heavy Gas Stays in Well.

City Engineer Loran D. Gayton said last night that he believed that a natural gas, heavier than air, had seeped into the bottom of the deep shaft, which connects with the new Chicago avenue water tunnel, and had collected in a cloud or pocket. The fumes probably were similar to fire damp, the dreaded gas which causes mine explosions.

When asked whether the accident could be laid on the failure to install ventilation fans Mr. Gayton said artificial aeration of the shaft, because of its size, would be extremely difficult.

One Case in a Million.

"There always are strong winds around the crib out in the lake and engineers have considered these sufficient to ventilate the shaft," he explained. "Collection of marsh gas in the shaft is something that could not be foreseen. It probably would happen only once in a thousand years, and even then there would be no explosion unless a spark hot enough to survive a 180 foot fall should plunge into it. The blast was a combination of rare circumstances."

According to Sarkisean, one of those slightly injured, the gang working at the top of the shaft found some bolts too rusted to yield to a wrench.

"Morasch got a torch," Sarkisean said, "and burned off two bolts. Then we saw a white hot spark from the torch fall down the shaft. Up from the bottom shot a big blue flame, roaring like a cannon. It was awful.

Sees Fellow Workman Sink.

Once ignited, probably by a falling bolt or a spark from the torch, Gayton declared that the shaft became a "cannon bore." The workmen were removing construction equipment at the top of the shaft and thus, in Gayton's explanation, were at the "cannon's mouth."

"I turned around and ran for the gate. Just as I made it the explosion came. Outside I saw poor Cleary in the water. I couldn't swim and finally he sank down into the lake."

The Dever crib, started in 1927, will supply water to the Chicago avenue tunnel, which is to be opened this fall. It will replace Two-Mile crib, built 40 years ago. A bridge links the Dever intake to the Carter H. Harrison crib 100 feet away.

News of The Tribune Experimental Farm By Frank Ridgway

Hay and More Hay.

Aug. 26, 1935.

EVERY nook and corner in the barns, cribs, and silos will be used at THE TRIBUNE Experimental farm near Yorkville this year and then many tons of timothy and soy bean hay, straw and fodder will be stacked in the open field. The barns are practically all filled with hay and the second cuttings of alfalfa hay and soy beans are yet to be harvested.

Approximately 100 tons of hay will be harvested from 29 acres of soy beans that soon will be ready to cut. The thirty-four acres of soy beans being grown at the farm this season already are nearly waist high and pods have been forming for the last two weeks.

Illini soy beans are being grown on 17 acres. An excellent bean crop is in the making. Five acres of this variety will be cut and threshed for seed and the remainder harvested for hay.

Another field of 17 acres is being used in testing out a hay mixture of six different varieties of soy beans—Wilson, Virginia, Dunfield, Illini, Manchu, and Ebony—all planted together. Mr. Thurow expects this field to yield an average of more than three tons of hay to the acre. Wilson and Virgina, long trailing plants, are being held up off the ground by the other varieties with plants more upright, particularly Ebony, Dunfield, and Illini.

Mr. Thurow says that the Manchus seem to have the most pods and he regards the Dunfield, Illini, and Ebony as the best for hay. Wilson and Virginia produce a big tonnage of vines, but have a tendency to fall on the ground when grown alone.

All of the soy beans in this hay mixture are still green and make an excellent showing. But Mr. Thurow says they are all early enough to escape damage from normal frost. He expects to harvest the crop before the middle of September. Some of the soy bean hay will be put in barns, but lack of storage space makes it necessary to stack most of it in the open. There are few weeds in the field and the hay is expected to be of fine quality.

The Illini will be the only one threshed. This variety is expected to yield approximately 20 bushels to the acre, which is considered a fair crop.

The soy beans were all planted between June 15 and 20, a little late but not too late for this particular season, according to the farm manager. There was plenty of moisture in the soil at planting time to give the seed a quick start after they were disked and rolled.

According to the present plan, silo filling will not be started at the Yorkville farm before the middle of September. Three silos with a total capacity of approximately 645 tons will be filled. The big silo, 16 by 80 feet, built last summer, holds about 420 tons; a medium sized silo, 14 by 40 feet, holds 155 tons, and a small one, 12 by 30 feet, holds 70 tons.

Harvesters at THE TRIBUNE farms have found it extremely difficult to get the alfalfa hay cured and under cover without having the grade lowered this season. Wet weather during the haying season caused deterioration in approximately 45 tons on both places. On the Wheaton farm the grade was lowered on about 50 tons out of 240 harvested, according to Carl Henderson, farm manager. Clarence Thurow, manager of the Yorkville place, estimates that out of approximately 155 tons of alfalfa harvested about 15 tons were damaged by unfavorable weather. All of the alfalfa hay, excepting that damaged by rains during the curing process, has been put inside and is of fine quality.

A new modern tool shed will be built at the Wheaton farm this fall or winter. This will make it possible for the men at the farm to do all their repair work indoors in the winter, so that the farm implements will be ready for use in the spring.

CRETE DAIRYMAN WINS PRIZE FOR 'NEATEST FARM'

He and Wife Milk 25 Cows and Do All Work.

George Ohlendort of Crete, Ill., was announced yesterday as the winner of the Pure Milk association's "neatest farm" contest in competition with more than 200 dairy farmers throughout the Chicago milk shed in Indiana, Illinois, and Wisconsin. Ohlendorf's 160 acre farm was given a perfect score by the judges, who made their selection on the basis of neatness and cleanliness and without regard for the value of the property.

"I made no special changes of any sort about the place when I entered the contest," Ohlendorf said. "I had to give the barns a coat of paint after the dust storms last spring, but I would have done that anyway."

Eighteen Years' Experience.

Dairying has been the chief enterprise on the Ohlendorf farm for the last eighteen years. About twenty-five head of pure bred Brown Swiss cows are kept and Mr. and Mrs. Ohlendorf do all the milking by hand. They supplement the income from their milk by selling the surplus young stock at premium prices. They also breed Belgian draft horses for sale and market some corn and other grains when prices are high enough to return a profit.

"We bought this place when we were married twenty years ago," Mr. Ohlendorf said. "The farm was badly run down and had practically no buildings on it. We have had to work pretty hard, but we now have the land built up until it grows fine crops. We put all these buildings here, doing most of the work ourselves.

"The only way to make money on a farm is to keep down expenses, so we hire as little help as possible. We raise all our own grain and hay and buy only such commercial feeds as we need to give the cows a well balanced ration. Even in last year's douth we grew enough corn and roughage to carry all our stock through the winter."

Plain but Immaculate.

The Ohlendorf herd is milked in one side of a combination dairy and horse barn. There are no fancy fixtures in the barn, but everything from the home made wooden stanchions to the concrete floors and white tile walls is thoroughly cleaned and disinfected after each milking. The milk is put immediately into sterilized cans and cooled in a plainly constructed modern milk house.

It is then ready to be picked up by the "route" truck and taken to the distributing plant. So carefully is the milk handled that its bacterial count is kept uniformly low the year round.

Neatness of this prize winning dairy farm is not confined to the barn and milk house. Everything about the place is spick and span. The fence rows are clean, the crops well cultivated, the machinery all in good repair. The home and grounds are well kept and orderly.

Judges in the final contest were: Dean Chris L. Christensen, University of Wisconsin; Dr. H. W. Gregory, Purdue university, and Dr. H. A. Ruehe, University of Illinois.

CHOATE OF ALCOHOL BOARD IS REFUSED CHARITY TAX CLAIM

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Joseph H. Choate Jr., director of the Federal Alcohol Control administration, about to be absorbed by the treasury, in a controversy over his 1932 income tax today was denied a deduction by the internal revenue bureau on $3,070 charitable gifts made from his gross $97,592 income in that year.

The denial was based on the fact that in that same year Mr. Choate established capital losses of $101,413, and the bureau insisted this left no basis on which to calculate the 15 per cent deductible donations.

Last March the Choate case was held in abeyance pending a court test by another taxpayer, and on this court ruling the bureau renews its claims.

VIGILANTES USE CAR IN HUNT FOR CATTLE THIEVES

Motorized units of vigilantes last night patroled rural areas of Will county in an organized drive to eradicate a gang of cattle rustlers and chicken thieves.

Sherif Michael J. Breen of Will county yesterday deputized about twenty farmers and planned to add to his vigilante force if necessary. The sherifs of Grundy and La Salle counties were planning similar action.

Stealing of cattle, hogs, and chickens has been on the increase recently, apparently, authorities said, because of increased live stock prices. John Blievernicht, a farm hand, near Kankakee, was slain early last Saturday, supposedly by the thieves, while investigating a strange truck on a farm.

NEWFOUNDLAND LASHED BY GALE; SHIPS WRECKED

Crews of 4 Schooners Feared Lost.

ST. JOHNS, Newfoundland, Aug. 26.—(AP)—Crews of four schooners were feared lost today after a terrific gale had lashed the Newfoundland coast, and wreckage drifting ashore gave rise to anxiety for the safety of an unidentified steamship.

Six men, five of them brothers, were reported to have drowned off Trepassey when the Newfoundland schooner Walter went down at the height of the storm. In command was Capt. Butcher of Kingwell and with him were his four brothers and another seaman.

No Signs of Life on Ship.

Crews of three additional schooners were believed washed overboard in the fifty-two mile an hour gale. The ships were sighted with no sign of life aboard. Five hatch covers from steamships were washed ashore at Bell Island, Long Beach, and Northern bay, but efforts to identify them were unsuccessful.

The steamship Argyle was sent from St. Johns to investigate and pick up possible survivors.

One of the schooners believed to have lost their crews was seen drifting off Cape Pine on her beam ends. Another—dismasted—was tossing helplessly off Powell's head. The schooner James sighted the third partly submerged two miles off the northwest Virgins.

Gale Smashes Roofs.

Many small ships were dashed upon the coast as the fifty-two mile an hour wind raged. Burnt Point fishermen counted thirty-two schooners and other craft wrecked along the coast. Ashore the gale carried away roofs and smashed windows, but no deaths were reported.

ILLINOIS IS ALLOTTED $218,418 FOR WORK UPON CAMP GRANT

Springfield, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Allocation has been made of $218,418 for immediate improvements at Camp Grant, Adj. Gen. Carlos E. Black was notified of that today by the chief of the National Guard bureau at Washington.

Lieut. Col. Richard Swanson, United States property and disbursing officer at Camp Grant, will be in Washington Wednesday to determine plans.

In doing the work employment for about a year is to be given to about 400 persons now on the relief rolls.

FLORIDA PASTOR FOUND IN WEST LOSES MEMORY

Los Angeles, Cal., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—No details of his journey here from Chicago and only hazy recollections of his trip to Chicago from his Palatka, Fla., home could be recalled today by the Rev. W. C. Norman, Florida minister, who was located here yesterday after being reported missing since July 1.

"Norman, who is suffering from some kind of nervous shock, told me he recalls getting into his daughter's automobile and starting on a business trip to Jacksonville, a few miles from his home," Dr. Smith said. "He says that while driving he suffered a shock and that his next recollection is of parking the automobile in a Chicago garage and registering at a hotel there," Dr. Smith continued.

In Norman's effects today was found a rent receipt from a Los Angeles hotel, where the management said Norman declared he was preparing magazine articles. He was registered there under the name of Doerham, a name he was unable today to recall. The clergyman has been removed to a sanitarium.

THE RED AND THE ROOSEVELT REVOLUTIONS.

The era of good feeling between the Red and the Red, White and Blue inaugurated when Max Litvinoff was a jolly guest at the White House appears to be blowing up. The Roosevelt administration suddenly finds itself aggrieved by the conduct of the soviet government, and Mr. Bullitt, the American ambassador, recites the grievances and warns of "the most serious consequences."

The crowning injury which Mr. Roosevelt could not brook was the behavior of the world congress of the International Communist party, where the Reds discussed ways and means of promoting the proletariat revolution in the United States. It was a condition of the treaty recognizing Russia that Stalin would not permit such occurrences in Russian territory. Comrade Litvinoff put it in writing that there would be no fomenting in Russia of an American proletarian revolution.

If Mr. Roosevelt when he sent Mr. Bullitt to Russia as ambassador did not know that the promise would not be kept he closed his eyes to the experience of other nations which had recognized the brothers and to the communistic declaration of principles as well. The International Communist party holds as an article of faith that treaties and agreements with capitalistic nations are merely expedients to gain whatever benefits can be derived and that to regard them as binding would be an act of treachery to the Red cause.

Great Britain and France had similar understandings with the communists and found that the pledges were broken as soon as they were made. The United States had no reason for a belief that it would be an exception. Nevertheless Mr. Roosevelt was determined to recognize Russia and deal with it as a friendly country of no hostile thoughts to the form of government he was supposed to be sworn to uphold. Much was expected of the new relationship, including a booming trade. American business was not long in discovering that trade prospects hadn't been promoted in the least, that all the Russians wanted was money and long term credits for commodities, and the American government discovered it had been listening to a Litvinoff bedtime story when he said Russia would make a settlement of its debt.

It might have been expected that all the United States would get out of its treaty was injury. Why the present occasion was selected for a diplomatic outburst is not clear. The brothers all along have run true to form and their recent outgivings have been nothing above the average. In fact, they've been a little toned down. Whatever hypocrisies are in the back of the comrades' heads, they have been saying that they were willing to fight Fascism in the bourgeois states and would assist representative democracy to hold its own against the Hitlers and Mussolinis. To that the bourgeois states could reply, "and how." It would be a united front looking like the picket fence around the lawn of an insane asylum. There might have been some sense in it from the communistic point of view, because if the Fascist states of Europe and Asia should mob the comrades on all fronts they would have their hands full.

Russia is really less bellicose now than heretofore and what stirred Mr. Roosevelt to indignation is open to speculation. In recent utterances he implies that his revolution is not as revolutionary as it really is. On this the measures he puts through congress are better proof. It is a Kerensky revolution and a Kerensky must be always looking over his shoulder for Lenin. The New Deal may have its own particular apprehensions regarding the iron hand. If the Roosevelt revolution gets far enough along the Leninites may be able to take it over.

Dread may cause the New Dealers to find a particular significance in the recent discussions of the International Communists. No doubt the comrades are watching developments in the United States with the idea that if the New Dealers get sufficient latitude there will soon be an opening for an honest to goodness revolution, with a board of Tartar faced commissars. There is also the possibility that the New Dealers do not want any professional help in their operations. When the American form of government is overthrown they'll overthrow it. Pride of performance may be involved. They may want the achievement to be wholly their own. The American form of government can probably survive what is done and said in Moscow. Its concern is with Washington.

COMMERCIAL FLYING SETS THE PACE.

Airplane manufacturers have submitted three bombing planes to the war department for competitive tests. The planes operate at about 250 miles an hour. They are faster than any planes which the army now has and, in the opinion of army officers, are so well armed and armored that they can fight off any attack from existing pursuit squadrons. Army officers say that at least two more years will be required to equip our army with fighting planes which can overtake the new bombers.

The credit for this extraordinary achievement goes to civil aviation. The new bombers are essentially adaptations of the transport types now in use on most of the principal airways of the country. The demands of civil aviation for increased speed, increased carrying capacity, and increased economy have kept the designers and engine builders on their toes. The competition is intense. Commercial flying has a balance sheet and income account to worry about and no burocracy like the army's to block progress.

As long as aviation was dominated by the military progress from year to year was relatively slow. Since the demands of civil aviation have set the pace progress has been amazingly rapid. Today we face the almost incredible fact that the fastest ships which the army can obtain are also the biggest and most economical. A few years ago it was universally assumed that the big bombers had to be slow and unwieldy. Today, thanks to commercial competition, the big ships can beat the pursuit planes at their own game.

SCIENCE AND PSEUDO-SCIENCE.

Within the last month an experimenter in California froze a monkey until it was rigid, kept the beast at that temperature for some time, and then restored it to consciousness. The spectacular treatment was supposed to have been a search for a cure for tuberculosis, with which the monkey had been inoculated.

Immediately the investigator announced that he intended to apply the same process of freezing to a man, and a volunteer offered himself. The "scientist" didn't attempt to amplify his experience by freezing other monkeys before trifling with human life. He didn't, so far as news dispatches told, even attempt to find out whether he had cured the monkey. Nor did his proposed human subject appear to have tuberculosis. It was purely a publicity stunt, which was shortly blown out of the headlines by the charge of medical societies that the wonder worker had been in trouble with the law on a charge of practicing medicine without a license.

More recently three physicians from one of the country's greatest clinics reported to the American Chemical society their experience in the use of lead phosphate to treat cancer. Lead compounds are poisonous, and this and the untried nature of the treatment probably explain why it was tried only on patients considered beyond relief by tested methods.

Eighty-five such "hopeless" patients were treated. Fourteen showed improvement. Half of these, however, had previously been treated with X-ray or radium, and in these cases no credit was claimed for the lead treatment.

Presumably, by the investigators' own modest statements, seven human lives had been saved. Yet the only conclusion drawn was this: "It would appear from this preliminary attempt at this type of therapy that lead compounds offer some hope in the chemo-therapy of cancer."

Science doesn't advance by sudden and spectacular leaps, but by small, steady pushes against the wall of the unknown. This is particularly true of medicine, where the danger of applying new technic to human life enforces a conservatism which to laymen sometimes seems exaggerated. The drum beaters sometimes land on the front page, but rarely in the pages of history.

PRESS FREEDOM IN ARGENTINA.

The decree establishing a press censorship in Argentina has been repealed on a finding by the attorney general that the order was contrary to the constitution. The news was received with great satisfaction by all the free nations of the world. Argentina has once more joined their fellowship and is once more entitled to their respect.

Governments which gag the press do so because they wish to keep their people and the rest of the world in ignorance. Censorship is an evidence of weakness. The government which imposes it does so because it fears that it cannot survive the attacks of the opposition. Such a government advertises its lack of confidence in its own integrity and in the good sense of its people.

The Argentine government made a great mistake when it imposed the decree of July 13, but happily has not persisted in it. Here is evidence that Fascism and other forms of tyranny do not thrive in the air of the new world.

Editorial of the Day

THE OLD REFRAIN.

[Grand Rapids Press.]

The secretary of the Fascist party in Italy has issued a decree containing an idea worthy of adoption by party chairmen in this country. To all prefects of provinces, mayors and presidents of charitable institutions he addressed a letter ordering them and their successors to omit certain stereotyped phrases from their public orations, such as:

"I have been appointed through the confidence of my superiors";

"I will administer my post with honesty and severity";

"I am conscious of my heavy responsibilities."

Similarly some one in authority might suggest to party spokesmen and candidates here that in the coming campaign they kindly refrain for once from such hackneyed remarks as:

"The Republican party believes with Abraham Lincoln," or "The Democratic party upholds the principles of Thomas Jefferson";

"I am not going to talk politics tonight. I only want to present a few facts";

"We stand for economy in government";

"I don't need to tell people of your intelligence";

And tributes, with proper gestures, to the "pioneer spirit," the "American home," and the "soundness of our statesmanship."

Of course, such orders might handicap seriously many of our political orators, even forcing them to abbreviate their speeches, but relieved audiences would understand that all sacrifices have their blessings.

BRING BACK THE DAYS.

Bring back the days we used to know,
When wit was quick and travel slow;
The days that stand out brightest now on memory's old panels;
When there was less of pomp and pose,
When all the girls wore cotton hose,
And every boy was costumed in a suit of bright red flannels.

Bring back the days before the use
Of grapefruit and tomato juice,
When every girl and boy was raised on oatmeal mush;
The days of tripe and hash and stew,
When onion breath was not taboo,

Bring back the days before bobbed hair,
Before our sister used to wear
When high school students didn't think
It smart to take too much to drink,
And magazines refused to make a hero of the crook.

Bring back the days when dances were
Not only square, but on the square,
When headlock and half-nelsons couldn't feature at a hop;
When strangleholds were not allowed
And dancers were a sober crowd
Who very seldom needed the surveillance of a cop.

Bring back the days when children were
An answer to a mother's prayer,
When poodle dogs had not usurped the birthright of a child;
When people led a wholesome life,
And every husband loved his wife,

LUDWIG'S ANGINA.

IN 1836 William Ludwig, a physician of Stuttgart, Germany, reported in his local medical journal five cases of peculiar type of inflammation which involved the tissues of the lower jaw beginning with the floor of the mouth. The area included the region of the salivary glands and extended well down the neck.

We now know that the disease is an infection, and in most instances the streptococcus is responsible. Sometimes the point of entrance of the infection may be traced to a molar tooth, most often the last lower molar. The glands beneath the jaw are usually involved, and occasionally the ducts of these glands will be found to contain stones. Not infrequently a boil on the chin may drain through the lymphatics and infect some of the deeper spaces in the neck.

The condition is characterized by a fairly rapid onset with a tense, hard swelling of the tissues. The floor of the mouth is usually affected, and the tongue is often pushed upward and may protrude beyond the lips. Sometimes within as short a period as twelve hours the patient's life is in real danger, as the inflammation is so rapid and so extensive that it overwhelms the defenses of the body.

We must recall that whenever infection occurs white cells from the blood [the bacteria destroyers] rush to the rescue. Their presence usually leads to abscess formation, and the pocket of pus thus formed can usually be drained. For some reason this does not happen in Ludwig's angina. There may be no pocket of pus. In other words, due to lack of resistance on the part of the patient, the army of white cells suffers defeat.

The rule in most surgical conditions is that drainage should not be attempted unless a definite pus pocket can be located, but this is not applicable to Ludwig's angina. The present method of management is to open extensively into the deep spaces of the neck. Drainage tubes are then inserted and compresses soaked in a solution of hot magnesium sulphate are applied. Dakin's solution of chlorine is frequently employed.

Because of the excessive swelling, breathing is often difficult and occasionally an external opening into the trachea [tracheotomy] will be required. This relieves the sensation of impending suffocation. Oxygen is often of much value.

Before we attempt to plan preventive measures we must identify if possible all conditions that have been accompanied or followed by Ludwig's angina. We have learned that injuries about the mouth and face must be treated with the greatest care, and the most scrupulous attention given to mouth and throat inflammation of all sorts.

A survey of a large number of cases shows that decayed molars are the most frequent starting points of deep seated infections of the tissues beneath the jaw. They are prone to occur because, in many instances, the resistance of the patient has been lowered through a long continued absorption of pus. In the extraction of an infected tooth, the injection of a local anesthetic into an already diseased area of the jaw is bad surgery, and serious cases of Ludwig's angina have been reported following this or similar procedures. The reason is that the needle may push infected material deep into tissues from which there is no possibility of drainage.

The case is reported of a young man aged 25, who presented typical symptoms of Ludwig's angina three days after the extraction of an infected molar in the lower jaw. His temperature was 102 degrees F. and his pulse 130. The pain was intense and there was an extensive swelling of the left side of the jaw and throat, boardlike in hardness. The tongue was swollen and the tension along the floor of the mouth had pushed the tissues up level with the upper border of the gums. Recovery followed prompt and extensive incisions into the inflamed area.

Many of these patients come to the physician seriously ill because the symptoms are interpreted as a "sore throat" that will clear up in a few days. Because of the possible gravity of the condition, any hard and firm swelling involving the lower border of the jaw and the upper portion of the neck should receive prompt surgical attention.

BODY ODOR.

C. B. writes: I have a persistent body odor. Deodorants are ineffective, and the odor is detectable even immediately after a bath. What is its cause and cure?

REPLY.

Foul body odors usually arise from uncleanliness or from foul smelling sweat that may appear in connection with general infections, such as acute rheumatism, uremia, and scurvy. It is frequently limited to particular parts of the body, such as the feet, under the arms, around the groin. The foul smell is usually due to the rapid growth of bacillus foetidus. The use of a little chlorinated soda or chloramine in the bath water will remedy the condition. Care should be taken not to permit chlorinated water to come in contact with the eyes.

INCREASE IN RED CELLS.

A. C. G. writes: What is polycythemia?

REPLY.

An abnormal increase in the number of red cells in the blood. This occurs in cases of congenital heart disease, in persons who live in high altitudes, and sometimes follows the prolonged use of certain drugs, such as acetanilid, veronal, etc. In some instances the cause is not known.

The normal number of red cells is five million per cubic millimeter. If these cells increase to six million or above, the condition is called polycythemia, the word meaning many cells in the blood. Cases have been reported in which the cells reached a total of 14 million per cubic millimeter.

FRIEND OF THE PEOPLE

EXECUTION OF VALID DEED.

Chicago, Aug. 23.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—In 1934 my mother, aged 81, living in Minnesota, died leaving property consisting of 120 acres to my father, aged 88. A few days after the death of my mother my father signed the guardianship papers in the presence of a notary public and witnesses, making me guardian. I am bonded and the guardianship papers are registered in the county seat with the judge of the Probate court. In October my father was compelled to make his home with my brother who lives on the 120 acres. In December my brother, without telling any one, had a doctor from a neighboring town examine my father as to his mental condition. His condition was evidently pronounced all right. My father deeded the land over to my brother's wife with whom he is living. Can my father legally dispose of property in that manner without the consent of the guardian? B. A. W.

We would apply the term conservator to the personal representative of a living old person. If the appointment has been properly handled and covers the estate, then your father could not execute a valid deed. We advise you to go over your facts in a personal interview with an attorney.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

"PROMISE TO PAY."

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—Do I have to pay interest on a first mortgage when I do not have the deed to the property? I signed the notes without a date on them in 1934 and they told me that the property would come out of Probate court within thirty days. That would be in January, 1935, but it came out this month and I haven't the deed to the property. M. F.

In general, a person who has signed a note promising to pay principal and interest is liable in accordance with the wording of his promise. We do not understand on what basis you would question your liability.

TRIBUNE LAW DEPARTMENT.

DISTRIBUTION OF ESTATE.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—An estate consists of $5,000 in cash. There is a claim of $1,000 against the estate. The claim is to be contested. May the administrator divide up the estate, with the exception of the $1,000? Must he wait until the claim is settled? D. S.

Creditors are allowed a year in which to file their claims. Distribution cannot be forced until the expiration of such year, but if the administrator is willing to take the chance of additional claims being filed, there is nothing to prevent him from distributing.

MORTGAGE EXTENSION.

Chicago, Aug. 24.—[Legal Friend of the People.]—I hold a mortgage of $2,300 and recorded it in 1930; $500 was paid on principal in 1933. In 1933 one year extension was given and in 1934 the same. On the back of the trust deed was written that payment had been extended from 1933 to 1934 and 1934 to 1935, and signed by me both times. Now, in 1935, I extended this loan for ten years at 3 per cent interest, making monthly payments of $15 plus interest. 1. The trustee on the principal note maintains that [2] it is not necessary to write on the back of the trust deed that there has been an extension [3] nor does he think that recording is necessary. The trustee sold me the mortgage. 4. What difficulties, if any, would arise should no mention of the extension be written on the back of the trust deed of recorded? 5. Where an individual is trustee if death should come to him before maturity of mortgage, which course should one take to get a release? R. M.

1. It is not clear what you mean by the trustee on the note. The ordinary form of note does not name a trustee.

2. We agree, but in order to protect you against the possibility of foreclosure, there should be some written agreement showing the extension.

3. We also agree to this.

4. We see no importance to this if there is a written extension agreement.

5. The ordinary form of trust deed names a successor in trust. If your form does not cover this wording then it might be necessary to bring court proceedings.

THE GHOST AS WHIPPING BOY.

New York, Aug. 21.—May I be permitted to call attention to a possible reason for President Roosevelt's disregard of his campaign promises? It is a matter which I believe must have puzzled many of your readers, for the natural implication is one of insincerity, if not of actual intellectual dishonesty, and these are not qualities that one would like to find in the President of the United States.

Is it not likely that this discrepancy between the solemn word and the deliberate deed may be explained by the custom which has grown up in recent years of employing ghost writers? In the heat of the campaign the candidate may fail to scrutinize the speeches that are handed him for delivery and he finds himself, if elected, embarrassed by promises which, if he himself had written the speeches, he never would have made.

Ghost writing as it exists today is a new art. Other Presidents, it is true, were assisted in their compositions. Joseph P. Smith, occupying the modest position of director of the Bureau of American Republics, is said to have composed many of President McKinley's speeches, but he did not do his thinking for him. The policies expressed were McKinley policies, and there was no embarrassment as to broken promises. But the present day ghost writer too often does the plotting and scheming as well, so if there is a change of writers or if several writers are employed one would have to possess an infallible memory in order to avoid a series of compromising situations.

For all the public knows President Roosevelt may now have an entirely different set of ghost writers from those he employed during the campaign, and if he continues to change them, what we have noticed up to now in the way of contradictions and broken promises may prove to be, as Mayor La Guardia has expressed it, "only the Angostura in the cocktail." Certainly every one will agree that the exposure now being made of presidential irresponsibility is a serious matter, and the explanation I have given is, I think, the most charitable view to take of the situation.

ARTHUR B. LA FAR.

MEMORANDUM FOR THE UNEMPLOYED.

Chicago, Aug. 16.—Let all those interested in holding their jobs and those hopeful of obtaining one make mental note for reference at election time that Illinois has two rubber stamp senators in the persons of Lewis and Dieterich. They gave their approval to Soak the Employer, which is what the Soak the Rich tax bill really amounts to.

NORMAN T. MCKAY.

HE WANTS NEW BLOOD.

Dowagiac, Mich., Aug. 16.—Why, O why do Herbert Hoover, young Teddy, and the rest of the discredited Old Guard persist in butting in on the political situation? If they would only take to the tall timbers there might be a chance of beating Roosevelt next year.

OLIVER M. COTTEN.

MR. BORAH AND THE NEGRO.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—Senator Borah is prominently mentioned as a Republican nominee for President because he is such a great believer in the constitution. It is said that the devil can quote scripture for his own purposes, and it seems that Senator Borah does the same thing with the constitution.

For example, he did more than any southern senator to kill the anti-lynch bill by making his long and eloquent argument on the constitution. Even though Senator Borah feels that the constitution does not allow the federal government to punish lynching, he has no qualms about congress passing a farm mortgage relief act which the Supreme court has already said was unconstitutional in that it deprived persons of property without due process of law. Many good constitutional lawyers feel that the new farm relief act, which attempts to cure the constitutional defects of the Frazier-Lemke measure, is unconstitutional. But still Senator Borah was the champion of this law which deprives mortgage holders of their property without due process of law, and at the same time he is the greatest enemy of the anti-lynch law, which would prevent and punish those states and individuals who deprive persons of their lives without due process of law.

If Senator Borah is on the Republican ticket it seems that he will begin with the solid opposition of 12,000,000 Negroes who desire a federal anti-lynch law.

SIDNEY A. JONES JR.

FOR STEALING CANDY.

Chicago, Aug. 22.—I am under the impression that the days of the whipping post have gone. After making a delivery at the rear of a south side store I was amazed to see the manager and the house detective standing over two boys [both colored], making one take his trousers down and stoop over facing the wall while the other boy used a paddle that was about ten inches square and one inch thick, with a handle. The men forced one boy to hit the other as hard as he could. One boy was about 11 and the other around 7. The sentence was for stealing a piece of candy from the store counter.

I am not encouraging the boys to steal, but I would like to see them taken to the Juvenile court and reprimanded the proper way.

I was told that it is an everyday occurrence and to mind my own business or I would get the same, and was very lucky to get out of the alley alive.

AS ONE BOY SCOUT TO ANOTHER.

Decatur, Ill., Aug. 21.—When the honorary president addressed the Boy Scouts of America over the radio tonight from his fireside was the constitution he referred to the same one he, as President of the nation, swore to uphold? As an example to the youth of America, did he say anything about carrying out one's promises as Mr. Roosevelt did the platform of his party? I am endeavoring to keep posted in preparation for the election of 1936. FORMER BOY SCOUT.

HOW TO KEEP FROM GROWING OLD

Labor Factional Row at Benton Blamed.

Benton, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Two local leaders of the Progressive Miners' union were held today for questioning into the bombing of the Valier Coal company mine engine house near here early this morning. The explosion, which wrecked the building and caused damage of $50,000, was blamed on the factional fight between the United Mine Workers and the Progressives. The suspects are Robert Robertson and Mitchell McDonald, both of Valier. They had been living in a shack near the mine.

Blast Follows Memorial Rites.

The blast is believed to have resulted from hatred engendered over the slaying of William Chaney, Progressive miner, for whom a memorial service was held yesterday at Valier. He was slain Aug. 25, 1933, on a street in Christopher by Garrett Gray, a member of the United Mine Workers of America.

Investigation revealed that the blast apparently was due to time bombs set off about 2 a. m. by a cheap alarm clock. Authorities believe a bomb was placed on either side of the large generator which furnished electricity for the mine. The blast was heard for 15 miles.

The mine was to have resumed operations on Sept. 3 after being closed a month. Company officials said operations may now be delayed indefinitly. Six hundred United Mine Workers were employed by the company. The United Mine Workers is the old organization, from which the Progressives seceded during a dispute over the counting of votes cast on a pay proposal a considerable time ago.

HALT PICKETS IN OMAHA.

Omaha, Neb., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Flying squadrons of police arrested 38 striking Omaha car workers and their supporters today, thwarting strikers' plans for resumption of mass picketing in violation of Nebraska laws.

Massed police, many armed with riot guns and bayonets, gave the strikers no opportunity to picket and arrested all known tram strikers within a radius of several blocks. None of the strikers arrested were within a block of the Ames street car barn, focal point in the dispute.

DEFER ACTION ON PLEA TO BROADEN FIELD OF UNIVERSAL TRANSFER

The Illinois commerce commission at a meeting yesterday deferred action until Oct. 29 on suggestions made by Barnet Hodes, corporation counsel, to liberalize the universal transfer system which becomes effective Sept. 22 for surface car and elevated riders. Mr. Hodes, while expressing appreciation of the commission ruling that makes Mayor Kelly's plan for transfers effective, termed parts of the present draft of transfer rules as "confusing and complex."

The commission, presided over by Commissioner Charles E. Byrne at the commission offices, 1 North La Salle street, listened to a statement from Hodes read by James J. Danaher, assistant corporation counsel, and then decided that the system should operate under present approved rules until Oct. 29, at which time, if the city still is dissatisfied, the commission will entertain suggestions for changes.

Hodes expressed general satisfaction with the regulations which permit transfers from the elevated lines to street cars at any one of 52 points, but said that to board an elevated train from a street car passengers had to be within certain restricted transfer areas and that sometimes a northbound passenger might even be compelled to go south out of his way to get to the proper area to obtain a transfer.

Another point in the rules objected to by Hodes was the one requiring passengers themselves to mark tickets with a time stamp to validate passage.

A. F. L. CHARTERS ORGANIZATION IN AUTO FACTORIES

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—(AP)—William Green, presenting an American Federation of Labor charter to the International Automobile Workers' union today, urged about 250 delegates to recruit 250,000 members.

Green declared an annual wage sufficient to "keep the worker in decency the year around" was a major objective of the new union.

Demands Share of Wealth.

"In effect, all that we are asking represents your share of the wealth you produce," he said. "Executive officers through large salaries and bonuses are diverting to themselves larger shares of income than belong to them, and we are going to change all that."

Green said the new union would try to enroll those making autos and those who made automotive parts.

A fight over Green's announced intention to urge Francis J. Dillon, national A. F. of L. organizer in the motor car industry, as executive officer of the new union is in prospect. Some of the delegates were reported preparing to demand that the union be made entirely independent of the A. F. of L.

Would Award More Strength.

"When we consider the union is a going concern, then the delegates can elect all their officers," Green said. "I think Dillon should continue as executive officer for the time being. That means the A. F. of L. will help finance the new union and assign more organizers to it."

Dillon reported that A. F. of L. auto unions have 35,000 dues paying members. The A. F. of L. groups polled less than 10 per cent of almost 190,000 votes cast in collective bargaining agency elections conducted in more than sixty automotive plants by the President's auto labor board.

Erect First of Standard Trafic Signs for Parks

The Chicago park district trafic department, under the direction of Otto K. Jelinek, chief trafic engineer, erected at Michigan avenue and Jackson boulevard yesterday the first of 3,000 new standard trafic signs to be used throughout the park boulevard system. Previous to the consolidation of the park districts, last year, 196 different types of stop, slow, parking and other trafic signs were used by the 22 park districts, according to Jelinek. He stated yesterday that the standardization of trafic signs will cost the park district $15,000.

CURB ON RELIEF SPURS CLIENTS INTO PWA JOBS

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The new "work or get off relief" policy of the city and federal relief agencies went into effect today. Despite thousands of able-bodied men on the relief rolls, Gen. Hugh S. Johnson, federal Works Progress administrator here, has been unable to fill 45,000 available jobs. The new policy brought a protest from the Federation of Architects, Engineers, Chemists, and Technicians.

During the forenoon, however, the employables were arriving jobless and departing with jobs on WPA projects at the rate of about one a minute.

Since Aug. 1 Brig. Gen. Johnson got about 6,000 persons from the National Reemployment agency. To speed up job filling, those needed by WPA will be drawn directly from relief headquarters.

The engineers and architects said in their protest to Mayor La Guardia that they "will back all technical men in the fight against forced labor."

CLEANERS REPLY TO PRICE PLEA IN APPEALS COURT

Attorney George Lavin, representing the Master Cleaners and Dyers' association in its efforts to enforce court orders forbidding independents to cut prices, filed an answer yesterday in Appellate court to a writ of prohibition filed by the independents seeking to prevent the Circuit court from enforcing the price order.

The defendants claimed that a $5,000 bond put up during an appeal on the injunction made mandatory suspension of the injunction pending the appeal. Lavin said the judges specifically said the bond was not a supersedeas bond and it was merely a "cost" bond which could not stay the injunction. He expected to go before Judge Ross C. Hill of the Appellate court today to have a date set for a hearing on the answer.

One independent already has been fined $3,000 and sentenced to 60 days in jail for alleged violation of the injunction issued by Circuit Judge Epstein, which prohibits cleaning prices of less than 90 cents delivered or 75 cents cash and carry.

TEST SUIT HITS LAW TO WAIVE TAX PENALTIES

Mrs. Mervyn W. Baum, owner of property at 1550 North State parkway, filed a test suit in Circuit court yesterday attacking the constitutionality of legislation recently passed by the state legislature permitting payment of delinquent taxes in seven instalments and waiving of penalties.

Joseph L. Gill, county treasurer, and Anna L. Cimral, a taxpayer, were named defendants in the action, which also sought to have Gill restrained from carrying out provisions of the law. The act was declared to be discriminatory, likely to encourage further delinquencies and likely to impair the county's credit because of failure to collect penalties, estimated at $4,700,000 annually.

The bill also asked that Gill be restrained from recognizing an agreement signed earlier in the day by which County Judge Edmund K. Jarecik authorized Mrs. Cimral to pay $834.06 taxes under the instalment plan. Her agreement also was reached in the nature of a test.

Mrs. Baum's suit said she had paid her 1932 taxes in full and in so doing paid $68.72 in penalties and it would be discriminative to let others escape such penalties. Hearing on the case was set for next Thursday.

U. S., JAPAN MAP COTTON TEXTILE EXPORT ACCORD

[Copyright: 1935: By the Associated Press.]

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The United States and Japan are negotiating a "gentleman's agreement" seeking to restrict Japanese cotton textile exports to the Philippines.

An easing of economic and political friction growing from the island textile situation is a direct objective of the discussions. These facts were learned authoritatively today:

Hirosi Saito, the Japanese ambassador, and Secretary Hull initiated the negotiations in talks covering the general phases of the question. Other American and Japanese officials now are actively engaged in drafting a mutually satisfactory agreement.

Revelation that active negotiations already are under way came in the wake of recommendations by the cabinet textile committee to President Roosevelt that similar steps be instituted for an accord limiting the export of cheap Japanese textiles to the United States.

American cotton textile manufacturers have protested vigorously against the capture of American and Filipino markets by Japanese textiles and demanded protective action by this government.

The Philippine legislature, on recommendation of Governor General Frank Murphy, also has considered raising a tarif barrier against Japanese textiles as a remedy.

Officials declined to reveal what limitation or restriction suggestions and proposals have been made in the discussions. But they are admittedly attempting to reach an agreement by which the Japanese, who have captured the lion's share of the islands' market in the last two years, will make a percentage reduction in their shipments.

WARNS TAXATION WILL STAGNATE AUTO INDUSTRY

Warning that continued boosts in taxes will bring the automobile industry into stagnation, Seymour Wheeler, vice commander of the Crusaders, in a broadcast over WIND and the Mutual network last night demanded that increases in assessments on motor and allied industries be stopped and material reductions made wherever possible.

The nation's motorists—25,000,000 of them—expect to pay auto taxes, said Wheeler, but they demand such taxes be reduced to a just level.

"It would be much better for the country to collect three dollars from two cars than to collect two dollars from one car," Mr. Wheeler said. "No one doubts that sane reduction of automotive and gasoline taxation would greatly increase automobile use."

Mr. Wheeler said the average gasoline tax throughout the nation had risen from somewhat less than a cent a gallon in 1924 to nearly 5½ cents in 1933.

"That means," he said," that every time the farmer or workman buys a dollar's worth of gasoline he pays nearly 40 cents of that dollar in taxes.

As a result a trust fund of more than $2,000,000 will be available to the University of Chicago for establishment of a free dental dispensary and clinic as provided in the will. University officials last night said they expected to start the work within three months. Mr. Zoller, a bachelor, died June 6, 1933. His estate totaled about $3,809,000. The remainder after the $2,000,000 trust went to relatives, employés, business associates, and charities.

News of the Radio Stations

BY LARRY WOLTERS.

With September just around the corner a whole flock of radio comedians are still fishing for fall sponsors. Only a few of the topnotch laugh provokers are in the fold. Burns and Allen and Col. Stoopnagle and Budd have been on the air all summer. Eddie Cantor, Fred Allen and Jack Benny will be back for their last year's sponsors next month.

Most of the others are carrying on negotiations with prospective sponsors but the figures mentioned are really startling. Ed Wynn is holding out for as fat a fee as Cantor gets, $10,000 a week. Phil Baker argues that he is worth as much as Jack Benny, said to be between $5,000 and $6,000. Block and Sully want a lot of cash, too. And Joe Penner has ideas about what he is worth.

Others still outside are Jack Pearl, Lou Holtz, Beatrice Lillie and Joe Cook. Will Rogers is gone. Amos 'n' Andy, though not always bracketed with the comedians who come from the stage, go right on. And Lum 'n' Abner are attaching a growing throng of listeners.

There is considerable likelihood that the Joe Louis-Max Baer fight next month in New York will be broadcast. Several prospective sponsors are said to be making up their minds about bringing back the late Baer radio serial "Lucky Smith." Rights to the fight broadcast would go with the serial, it's reported.

Guy Lombardo's music, which has not been heard locally for several months because he is [illegible], for a seaboard sponsor, is likely to be back on one of the networks on a sustaining basis by mid-September. His orchestra is to be heard from a new night club in New York to be called The Versailles.

Helen Morgan, noted piano sitting torch singer, will be next week's guest star on the Welcome Valley program, originating in local NBC studios and featuring Edgar Guest. Miss Morgan will come to Chicago for the broadcast which will be aired at 7:30 next Tuesday. She will sing "Bill" and "Why Was I Born."

Microphones are to be set up on some of the most historic of old world sites by NBC this fall. Broadcasts in English from these scenes are expected to prove of special interest to school children and students. There will be broadcasts from the Parthenon, the battlefield of Marathon, the Coliseum, the art centers of Florence, the palace of the doges in Venice, the battlefields of Waterloo and Hastings and many other interesting points.

Don Voorhees is to be the musical director for Lawrence Tibbett's CBS programs on CBS beginning Tuesday, Sept. 24. Voorhees in other seasons has worked with Albert Spalding, Ed Wynn and on the serial "Music at the Haydns'." He conducted four editions of the "Vanities" before going into radio. Voorhees succeeds Wilfred Pelletier as the Tibbett maestro.

Central Circuit Polo Tourney to Be Benefit

Finals Start Next Sunday at Oak Brook.

BY JUDITH CASS.

THE final matches of the central circuit polo tournament, the intracircuit national championship, and the twelve goal national championship that will be played on the Oak Brook club field in Hinsdale next Sunday and the following Sunday, Sept. 8, are attracting much interest, not only among polo enthusiasts but among those who make it a habit of attending charity affairs. The games are being sponsored by the Junior Infant Welfare society of Hinsdale and the proceeds will be shared by the Infant Welfare and the Boy Scouts.

Mrs. Frederick McElhone, president of the juniors, is in charge of the sale of tickets, and assisting her are the fifty members of the society who are at home. Mrs. Lyell H. Ritchie and her sister, Mrs. Thomas A. Belknap, Mrs. Charles Meek, Mrs. Gordon Moses, Mrs. Gilbert T. Snow, Mrs. Philip Harris, Mrs. Russell Stephens, Mrs. George Jackson and Mrs. Albert Huizinga are among the other young Hinsdale matrons working for the success of the benefits.

Those who take boxes for the Sunday tourneys will be entitled to watch any of the elimination games during the week, so there probably will be a good sized audience at every one of the matches. The team that will represent the Twin Cities [Minneapolis and St. Paul] and Fort Snelling, Minn., in the tournaments is coming to Hinsdale tomorrow. It is composed of four well known young athletes; Louis Hill of the railroad family of the northwest; Leo Butler, the giant son of the United States Supreme Court Justice Pierce Butler; Tom Daniels, who has played and observed polo in many countries; and Al Lindley, who is a mountain climber as well as a polo player, having successfully climbed Mount McKinley.

The Oak Brook team recently played this Minnesota team, at which time the Oak Brook men were guests of Mr. Daniels at his country home in White Bear.

Elizabeth Perkins to Be Bride Friday.

From Duxbury, Mass., where Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Farrington Perkins of 3 Banks street are spending the summer, comes the announcement of the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Elizabeth, and Murray Eugene Borish. The wedding, which is planned for Friday, is to be very simple with just the immediate family in attendance, due to Mr. Perkins' serious illness.

Miss Perkins, who never cared to make a debut, attended Smith college where she made an excellent scholastic record and received many honors, being elected to Phi Beta Kappa in her junior year. From Smith she went to the University of London to study and for the last two years she has been doing research work at Harvard. It was in London that she met young Mr. Borish, who was studying at the university and who, also, has a brilliant scholastic record. He is the son of a German mother and a Russian father, both dead, and he has no relatives in this country. He has been appointed to the faculty of William and Mary college so he and his bride will live in Williamsburg, Va.

Miss Perkins, whose father is a former president of the International Harvester company and whose maternal grandfather was Franklin Head, pioneer Chicagoan, has two elder sisters, twins, Mrs. Earle F. Bliss [Margaret Perkins] of West Newton, Mass., who will be in Duxbury for the ceremony, and Mrs. Francis M. Knight [Helen Perkins] of Highland Park, who is not going east for her sister's wedding.

Son Is Born to John Roderick Rogers.

Mr. and Mrs. John Roderick Rogers of Au Sable Forks, N. Y., are the parents of a son born yesterday morning in Schenectady, N. Y. The baby will be named John. Mrs. Rogers is the former Peggy Glidden, daughter of Henry L. Glidden of Highland Park. The wedding of Miss Glidden and Mr. Rogers took place in Trinity church, Highland Park, on Sept. 16, 1933.

Miss Nancy Bastien, who returned on Saturday from a western ranch where she has spent the summer, departed again last night for northern Michigan. She is going to Harbor Point and Charlevoix to visit Miss Elizabeth Dewes and Miss Joan Smith, and will not be at home until after Labor day.

Miss Bastien's mother, Mrs. Alvin E. Bastien, also returned on Saturday, and will remain at home to make preparations for the festivities which will commence for Nancy just as soon as she selects a date for her debut.

Barbara Barnhart Visits in Cleveland.

Miss Barbara Barnhart, whose parents, the Eugene M. Barnharts, are presenting her to society at a tea on Sept. 7, is taking advantage of these last few days of summer for an out-of-town round of visits. The last week-end she was in Cleveland as the guest of her cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Baird Tewksbury.

Another debutante-to-be who was away over Sunday is Miss Anne Dinsdale, who left with her mother and stepfather, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Harding of Winnetka, for Sawyer, Mich., last Wednesday. They were ETTAL, Bavaria.—The landlord of the little inn where we stop for refreshment pauses to chat. He wears shorts of chamois and embroidered braces, and he is some sixty years old. There is a high green porcelain stove in the room, a madonna in a niche, and rows of antlers on the wall. Outside the window there is the green of a wooded mountain side, and a glimpse of jagged peaks. We try the wine he recommends and invite him to sit down that we may find out what he thinks of things in general. Representative of the old Bavaria, he seems torn between his allegiances. He had lived under the Wittelsbach rule for a half a century; the country had flourished under it. Yet Hitler seems to be doing good things for Germany. He bespeaks his belief in Hitler and his ideals for Germany. He bespeaks his hatred of the Hohenzollerns, which even North Germans are quick to do.

"Would you like to see the Wittelsbachs back on the throne," I ask him, after he had spoken of their rule and of the prosperity the country had enjoyed under the prince regent, and the third Ludwig. The old man considered a moment.

"Ich weiss nicht," he says finally. "I cannot say."

And one felt that while he secretly yearns for the old order of things, he feels that it is a new age, that perhaps calls for new leaders and new methods.

WE finish our wine and wander out to look into the church of the Benedictine monastery at the foot of the hill. Then we drive into Oberammergau, quaint village of wood carvers and pottery makers. Calling on Anton Lang, who three times has played the part of Christ in the Passion Play that is presented every ten years, we found him busy in his pottery workshop, a somewhat different trim to his hair and whiskers than when he plays the rôle of the Christus.

ALL Germany seems to be on vacation these summer days, and to have chosen the Bavarian Alps for their holiday. Mittenwald, which we had hoped to find a quiet little village, was seething with people. The streets were filled with motor cars and bicyclists. Had we wanted to stop there we would have been unable to find accommodations, we were told. Although the town and its outskirts were dotted with hotels and pensions and houses with frendenzimmer [spare room] signs, we were told that every place was filled. We had not planned to stop there, so it made no difference. We gazed at the quaint streets, at the mountains towering above it, at the frescoed, flower adorned houses, and at the statue of Matthias Klotz, who established the violin industry in Mittenwald and brought it world fame. The maple and white pine forests on the adjacent slopes supply the raw material for the violins.

Sidney A. Clark, in his recent book on Germany, says that the violin industry in Mittenwald has been ruined by the Czechoslovakians and the Japanese with their machine made fiddles. The Czech violins, he says, sell for as low as 3 German marks. Mittenwald used to make 10,000 violins by hand and export most of them to America. The output has shrunk to several hundred a year, according to what the director of the Bavarian state school of violin making told him. We did not stop to inquire. There were too many people in Mittenwald, and I am sure every violin maker is now improving his financial status by taking in tourists.

BY ANNA NANGLE.

This movie hauls off with a pretty blonde being entrancingly helpless in a palatial kitchen, with a manful process server coming heroically to her aid by daringly turning on the electric stove. Her even more attractive brunette sister enters and is equally helpless, thereby capturing the young man's heart immediately. Follows one suicide, one auction, one marriage, one broken heart. Enter the villain, in the form of a crooked stock broker, and the hero, a hat maker with a good business and a goofy son.

Ida Lupino plays Pat, the blonde charmer who wangles the most amazing stock deal any one ever heard of, and a number of other things she happens to want. She's sufficiently vivacious for her rôle, but I found her speech rather difficult to understand. Gail Patrick as her sister, Kay, is strikingly lovely. Mr. Kent Taylor does his best as the process server, but the hit of the show is good old Joseph Cawthorn as Karl Krausemeyer, the kindly old milliner.

The piece is nicely set, neatly directed, has lots of laughs, and moves at a fast clip.

THE CAST.

This film can thank its stars—its stars can thank this film—well, anyhow, it's a darn good thing Patsy Kelly was cast in "Every Night At Eight"! Only this lady's expert clowning enabled me to sit through this little number.

It's all about a brash young man and three pretty dumb gals, who via a radio contest for amateurs team up and conquer Broadway. Their success is practically instantaneous. Every one in the cast with the exception of the aforementioned Miss Kelly takes it pretty seriously, but Patsy gags her way through and, incidentally, keeps the picture from being too bad.

George Raft is "Top" Cordona, the master mind who runs everything and wrests from the world recognition for the Swanee sisters—namely the Misses Faye, Langford and Kelly. Miss Langford can really sing, Miss Kelly is good for a laugh, and Miss Faye is the blonde gal in the middle who contributes the only pulchritude to be had.

Mr. Raft is just a big tough brother to the gals, even though one of 'em secretly and silently adores him. It isn't until the two Swanees who aren't in love with him begin to break loose from the iron discipline he has imposed that our hero suddenly recognizes true love, etc.

The piece is full of music, but not much else. Mr. Raft does what he can with a pretty silly story, but this sort of rôle is not exactly his forte, and the film lacks punch and continuity. If you're ca-razy to learn how amateur programs are conducted, the Chicago theater is the place for you this week.

THROUGH THE LOOKING GLASS

If by chance sun bathing ends in disaster, as sometimes happens even to the most careful of us, we suggest a new lotion that takes the agony out of the inflammation.

Here's something for the sunburn sufferers: A good lotion that takes the agony out of the inflamed area. We suggest that all the poor unfortunates who invariably burn tuck it into golf bags or beach kits and keep it handy.

Some people simply can't take sun. We know one man who can't resist golf, despite the fact that he's punished plenty every time he goes near the links. There's just no such thing as getting up to the point where he can take it—his skin can't possibly be accustomed to sun. So for him and all people like him we recommend this excellent lotion for relieving sunburn.

For most other people who get themselves badly burned we can't break down and cry. It's just senseless to court a burn. There are plenty of good products that assist in preventing it, and then there is always the sound old preventive known as common sense. But we must admit that sometimes accidents happen to the best of us. The wind rises, the car top is down, or you're out longer than you planned to be. When you get home your skin is reddish; by midnight, just when you're trying to get to sleep, you discover that what you thought was the back of your neck is really a bed of flaming coals.

This lotion helps amazingly. It's a thick, grayish white liquid with a miraculous coolness. Its odor isn't the most beautiful fragrance you ever encountered, but it's not unpleasant. There's a touch of camphor in it, we imagine.

This helps prickly heat, too. In any case, it's to be applied liberally over the inflamed area but not rubbed in. Douse it on every hour or so as seems necessary.

Keep this with you if you're a sunburner. For a small sum you can spare yourself a lot of discomfort.

Romance Buds as Tennis Star Joins Movies

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—It didn't take Edward Burns, the tennis player, long to get wise to the ways of Hollywood. Only a mere five weeks ago he arrived here under contract to R. K. O. after being snatched up from the courts in the east by studio scouts. He attended a party and there he was introduced to Ida Lupino, the Paramount lassie from England, by Mrs. Ricardo Cortez. Well, ever since Ida has canceled all other dates and Burns isn't seeing anybody else.

If you wish to be outstanding in a group, wear either black or white. This latest style edict, coming as it does from Adrian, the M. G. M. designer, should make you women take notice. A plain white or a black formal will stand out in a group of colors surprisingly and it makes the wearer distinctive, he says. Adrian does gowns for such stars as Joan Crawford, Norma Shearer, Greta Garbo, and Jean Harlow. Black or white just can't miss, he avers, and the best part of all is that they are universally becoming.

Arguments nothwithstanding, Joe Penner's famous duck, Goo Goo, isn't going to appear in his next Paramount picture "Collegiate." Executives turned a stern thumbs down. What's more, Penner will not say "you nasty man" nor "don't ever dooooo that." In the place of the duck will be Venus, a large white horse which he must ride. Penner is still trying to figure out how he will manage to slip Goo Goo before the cameras for just one scene.

Among the extras working in Katharine Hepburn's new picture "Sylvia Scarlett" at R. K. O. studio were noticed many leading figures of a day gone by. To start with, there was Jean Acker, one-time wife of Rudolph Valentino.

Mel Forrester, a former director, was providing atmosphere. Others were Maj. John Farrell, early day flyer of note; Beth Taylor, sister of Laurette Taylor, Broadway star; Helen Ware, ex-New York actress; Yasha Louie, Russian painter, and Malcolm Morrihugh, one time baseball player.

It was also announced that Bentonelli will appear opposite Marie Jeritza in Puccini's "Turandot," which will open the season at the Municipal Opera house of St. Louis early in November.

ENGAGEMENT

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Hulteen of 1120 Elmwood avenue, Evanston, announce the engagement of their daughter Eleanor to Gordon Franklin Fairclough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Richard Fairclough of 6159 South Seeley avenue. Miss Hulteen attended Northwestern university and is a member of the Kappa Alpha Theta sorority. The wedding will take place early this fall.

Sally Rand Scores Success as Sadie Thompson in 'Rain'

Skowhegan, Me., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Sally Rand tonight conquered an audience that had come out of curiosity to watch the much publicized dancer in a dramatic rôle. As Sadie Thompson in "Rain" Miss Rand appeared with the Lakewood Players, and her performance gained her many curtain calls at the conclusion of the performance.

Miss Rand proved that her ambition to be a dramatic actress is not a mistaken one and that she has inherent dramatic ability. While her Sadie was a more youthful, more happy-go-lucky creature than the Sadie of her predecessors, she had vivid dramatic moments in her emotional scenes.

Director Speeds Up Movie to Welcome the Stork

Hollywood, Cal., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The reason Director Richard Boleslawski is keeping Lawrence Tibbett, Virginia Bruce and the rest of the cast of "Metropolitan" working early and late was explained today. Boleslawski hopes to finish filming the picture in about two weeks—for in about two weeks the stork is scheduled to stop around his house. The noted director and his wife, who was the former Norma Druru, concert pianist, were married six years ago.

New Costume Jewelry Comes Sewed to Dress

BY RHEA SEEGER.

The right costume jewelry, attached to the dress! Just a new whim of the busy dress designers, but a clever trick for the shoppers to gasp over. No longer will you dash about, with three minutes to make the 8 o'clock train, frantically trying to find the right choker, the right clips or bracelets to accent the dress you decided to wear. This fall the decorations are sewed securely to the dress.

Necklace dresses of heavy silk or thin wool are tremendously successful, with the various gold or silver metal necklaces attached around the neckline as a part of the frock. Other models have huge clips or buckles firmly sewed in place high on the chest or at the wrists. Even nice, noisy bracelets are anchored to the wrists of the sleeves. It's a grand idea and a boon for the forgetful lady who always misplaces her best costume jewelry.

The best buys of the handbag collection, so far, are the effective colored alligator models. Never have they been so spectacular in color or so stunning in shape and style. There are all kinds of models, with strap handles being the most popular, every imaginable shade and color you may need. What's the best news of all, it isn't any trick at all to match these bags to footwear. Dark, glossy green is going out fast. It's a color that contrasts, beige, brown, gray, and red as well as green in the costume. It's a slick color contrast for checks and plaids, with lines of green in the pattern.

Rich ginger brown is another color featured in the alligator lether collections of bags, shoes, belts, and some breath taking travel luggage. Black alligator is just as swanky as the colored stuff with tweeds and street clothes, but for effective contrast nothing equals the spotlight stealing new shades of red. The dark stuff called Dubonnet red this summer is abundant. Some even darker plum shades are new. The real scarlet will do grand things for oxford gray and other very dark street outfits. If you have always wanted alligator splendor in long wearing and effective handbags matched to other costume accessories, this is the time to buy.

The Husband Snatcher

SYNOPSIS.

After two years of marriage, Nancy and Dick Heritage are still greatly in love. Though Nancy is hated by her mother-in-law, Edith Heritage, she has come to live with them in their little house in Primrose Dene, near London. There is a gap of four years in Nancy's life which she had not satisfactorily accounted for. Nancy is informed by Mr. Sam Digger, attorney, that she has been bequeathed £5,000 by Miss Agnes Satchell, late governor of a girls' reformatory, where Nancy had been committed for four years. Nancy had been employed by a Mrs. Lane and was accused of theft. Sylvia, Mrs. Lane's daughter, was the real culprit. Sylvia threatened to kill herself if Nancy exposed her. Nancy foolishly took the blame, though she possessed a signed confession from Sylvia. Miss Satchell believed in Nancy's innocence. Nancy learns that her sole remaining relative, an aunt, has been killed in China. Dick and his mother are displeased when they learn that Nancy is expecting a baby. Edith Heritage invites a friend, Mrs. Lane, and her daughter, Sylvia, for tea. Nancy pleads a dentist's appointment. The Lanes arrive just as Dick comes home. They are startled when they see Nancy's photograph, but Sylvia, who is interested in Dick, explains that Nancy had lived with them and they'd had a misunderstanding, but bygones were bygones. Next day Sylvia calls on Dick at the architect's office where he is employed, asks him to plan a house for her, and boldly invites herself to his home for dinner. Sylvia assures Nancy that her secret of the reformatory is safe. She asks Nancy for the written confession, but Nancy tells her she had torn it up. Sylvia's new home is started and Dick spends most of his time with her. Nancy learns that she has inherited another small legacy from her aunt. Mr. Digger suggests that she pass the two legacies off as one. He also offers his help if she is ever in trouble. Nancy returns home unobserved and overhears Sylvia begging Dick to get a divorce. Mrs. Heritage has gone away for a week-end with Mrs. Lane. Nancy and Dick dine out. Nancy suspects that Dick has an engagement with Sylvia.

INSTALMENT XXVI.

AN OUTRAGED WIFE.

"You'd better ask for our bill," Nancy said.

She opened her handbag and extracted a £5 note which she passed to Dick quite openly for the whole restaurant to see.

"I say, old girl, you might have slipped it to me less ostentatiously," Dick said.

She had ruffled him and wasn't in the least sorry.

"But it's my treat. I'm rather enjoying paying for something once in a way, so why should I be surreptitious about it? Thank heaven you won't ever be able to say again 'I wonder what I am going to give myself for Christmas this year.'"

"Sounds to me as though you didn't like my cracking that little joke," Dick said peevishly.

"Look here, Nance, the truth is, whether you deny it or not, that money has gone to your head. You've been putting on airs the whole evening. You haven't been yourself at all. If anybody had told me a paltry few thousand pounds could bring about such a change in you I'd 've laughed in his face, but apparently it has. You've changed before my very eyes; you're not the same woman at all. Pretty quick work it was, too."

It was coming out now, the resentment he had been feeling all the evening. Very strange, thought Nancy, that he should fasten upon her sudden wealth to account for that change he commented upon. Hadn't he any conscience whatsoever?

But she had done so well in her rôle of Lady Disdain that she was not yet inclined to relinquish it. She wasn't going to quarrel with Dick in a restaurant, and it might be she would not quarrel with him again anywhere. She felt far too cold and unconcerned—dead, it seemed to her—to lend herself to an emotional scene.

"Never in this world would I have credited you with such powers of imagination!" she exclaimed lightly. "Ah, here's our change. Not much of it, I'm afraid, when you've dispensed the tip."

Her blithe retort left Dick as high and dry as he had hung all the evening. There was simply no getting at Nance.

"Thank you for a very pleasant dinner," he said tartly.

"I'm sure I enjoyed it as much as you did," Nancy replied, but her voice ignored the sarcasm in his and was the essence of sweetness.

"I hope you feel you can run to the expense of a taxi home."

"O, yes, but I'll drop you at your club first."

"It's only a step."

"I know, but I might as well."

In the mood of irritation he had worked himself into she felt there was no danger now of his trying to make love to her in the cab.

They got in, the concierge holding the door open for them and being rewarded with sixpence. Recklessness was in the air tonight.

"The Atlas club, Pall Mall," said Dick.

Nancy had to think hard and fast now, that something up her sleeve he had suspected was going to be produced in about a couple of minutes, but it must be delayed as long as possible. A block in the trafic gave her time to space out the effect of the surprise. Presently the fatal name of Sylvia Lane would be mentioned by Nancy herself.

"How long do you think your friend will keep you?" she asked.

"Not more than an hour. Probably less. Does that make any difference to you?"

"Of course it does," Nancy said brightly. "Ah, here we go! The amount of money people must waste sitting in taxis. . . ."

"Well, I told you I could have walked."

"I might have walked with you—as far as the club. If you're only going to be an hour or less, I'll tell you what I think I'll do, Dick. I'll go on to Sylvia's and you can pick me up there. I haven't really had a chat with her for a long time."

It was out, now. Nancy waited breathlessly for the reply which seemed slow in coming.

"Sylvia's?" Dick said. From the vague tone of his voice you would think he had never heard of the girl.

"Her flat is only at the other end of Pall Mall," Nancy said, by way of enlightening him.

"But she's sure not to be at home."

"Do you know for certain? Did she tell you she was going out tonight?"

"No, why should she?"

"I thought she might have mentioned it. Anyway, I can take a chance. If she isn't in, I'll telephone you the minute I get home, to save you the bother of calling for me."

By this time the taxi had come to a half in front of the Atlas club, but Dick did not seem to be aware that it had stopped.

"O, yes. Then——?"

"Unless I telephone, call for me at Sylvia's," said Nancy.

As the taxi rolled away she leaned back exhausted and closed her eyes. How on earth had she managed to keep it up so well!

In the last few minutes Dick had given himself away completely, and whereas before she had only guessed he had an appointment with Sylvia, Nancy knew now that it was a certainty.

She visualized him as rushing to the telephone to warn Sylvia, but there would be so little time that possibly he would not dare risk it.

As she entered the marble hall, with its palms and Persian rugs, Nancy became conscious of the fact that financially speaking she might be reckoned almost a pauper compared with Sylvia Lane.

As Dick had said—"A few paltry thousands!" He had made her inheritance seem very small.

That old Mrs. Bagge must have been incredibly wealthy, or else Sylvia unwisely was living on her capital.

It was the first time Nancy had been here, although Sylvia had made her write down the address, and begged her to come any time she felt inclined.

Well, tonight the inclination had taken her to pay that long deferred call.

Nevertheless, it was an ordeal for Nancy even to face the lift attendant. She found herself overwhelmed with timidity when she asked him if Miss Lane was in.

He said he didn't know, but offered to take Nancy up to Miss Lane's flat. His manner, politely incurious, gave her some courage. How could he know that this beautiful young woman in Madonna blue was an outraged wife come to join issue with the girl she believed to have stolen her husband's love? She was distressing herself unnecessarily.

Nancy thanked him and smiling nervously turned to the right. Before she rang the bell of No. 19 she listened for a few seconds for the sound of another bell. It seemed almost certain Dick would make an effort to get in touch with Sylvia to warn her. He might have managed to get through already. After all, if one is lucky, it doesn't take so very long to telephone. If he had done so, it was more than likely Sylvia would not answer the door bell.

Philosophy Is HandyWeapon on Love Losses

BY DORIS BLAKE.

He came, he saw, he conquered, as the one great light of her life. But the light dimmed before a year was out. Now the girl is left high and dry amid a welter of sighs and sorrow. He went away without a word. He came one Sunday evening as usual. Left without a hint about his intention of striking out west during the following week. Two months ago this happened. To date not a line as to his whereabouts nor why he took the sort of leave he did. He is alive. That she knows. He has a job. That she has learned.

His job carries him over a wide western territory, so where to address her mail is a quandary. He told her time and time again he loved her. He must have loved her, for he was devotion itself. He could not have had time for other girls, so regular were his appointments with Sue, let's call her. And then, just like that, it was all over! He's gone and, she feels, out of her life forever. She can't bear it, she says. She wants to die. She never will look at another man so long as she lives, Etc., etc., etc.

Come, come, Sue. Why get a mad on at the whole sex just because one failed you? Why hug a sorrow to yourself as if you loved to dwell on it? Why not do something to fill that gap? Don't let it develop into a life wound. No one will sympathize with you and it will result only in a soured disposition that will alienate others. Dramatizing one's broken romance is not part of the modern way. Forget it. Get over it as quickly as possible, and with the only aid known to man, intriguing some successor's interest.

There's something ignobly selfish about taking heartaches "lying down." Who was it who said that the best definition of a lady is that she is a perfect gentleman, by which is meant she never whines about her luck. She pays up smiling. You have to meet the pleasures that life extends you half way. You have to go out to meet it half way again when it turns up an unlucky card for you. Don't hang on to the man mentally or any other way.

A FRIEND IN NEED

Crippled Child Needs Wheelchair.

Miss B., a social service worker for a local charity hospital, writes: "We discharged Marie H. to her home yesterday, after she had been a patient in the children's orthopedic ward during the last year, suffering from a disease which affects the spine and causes paralysis of the lower limbs. She has been on a frame for several months and now is wearing a body cast. She may sit up now and needs a wheel chair to make her more comfortable. The child is colored and lives with her mother and stepfather, who are on relief and unable to buy a chair."

Mother Needs Baby Bathtub.

"Dear Sally Joy Brown: My husband is working, but makes only a small salary. We have a 7 weeks old baby which should be having tub baths. If any reader has a baby's tub, I would appreciate having it."—Mrs. W. K.

North sold his birthright for a mess of extra points. He had been destined by a kindly providence to set four spades, but you know North—the Caligula of the bridge table. Somewhere in his collection of cards he found a double.

Of course, the contract was not any too easy to handle. North opened the ace of diamonds and was both shocked and grieved when the trick was trumped. The next superplay by the declarer was the six of spades. When North ducked, dummy ducked as well. A heart was led. West had all intentions of finessing the nine spot if North did not go up; but North went up. The king took the jack and another heart back disclosed the fact that South had held seven diamonds, four clubs, and two singletons originally. That also cleared up the matter of North's cards nicely.

A club was led and the queen finessed. South found himself unable to exit save with the loss of a trick. He played back a low diamond. West discarded a losing club, cashed the ace of clubs, and permitted North to overtrump him on a third round of clubs. Since the queen of hearts was marked in North's hand one trump in dummy was more than enough to finish out the contract in a blaze of glory. West lost two spades and a club.

With a club opening West has his troubles. He finesses something or other and South exits with a diamond. This is trumped and the same two plays of the six of spades and low heart come off. Now West can avoid the loss of two spade tricks. Instead, he loses two clubs and makes his contract just the same.

Only if North comes up with the ace of spades and plays a spade back can the contract be defeated.

visiting Mr. Harding's brother, William H. Harding, who has a camp there. They returned home yesterday.

Miss Dorelle Moulton, the daughter of the William A. Moultons, will also be back this week. Miss Moulton, who is to make her debut on Sept. 6 at a tea-dance at the Skokie Country club, has been in Wheeling, in the east, for the last two weeks.

George A. Kelly Family Returns.

The George A. Kelly family has returned from a prolonged trip to Santa Barbara, Los Angeles, and San Diego. If it were not for the fact that they wanted to be home in plenty of time for the autumn festivities in which their daughter, Miss Patricia Forsyth Kelly, is to participate as a debutante, they would have made their trip longer. There is to be a series of parties in the early future for Miss Kelly, whose debut will take place on Dec. 23.

Miss Kathleen Kelly, her sister, is returning this fall to the Knox school at Cooperstown, N. Y., where she will be a sophomore.

Mrs. Henry B. Stimson of Rye, N. Y., has been visting her mother, Mrs. Hugh Johnston McBirney, in Lake Forest, where she has been widely entertained by all of her old friends with whom she grew up here. Mrs. John Andrews King gave a luncheon Saturday, Mrs. McBriney entertained at dinner that night, and Mrs. William P. Martin gave a supper Sunday evening. Mrs. Stimson will return to Rye today.

Another visitor along the north shore is Mrs. John Foster of Calcutta, India, who is staying with the F. Hampden Winstons. Several of Mrs. Foster's friends are entertaining for her.

Maurice P. Geraghtys Move to New Home.

Among the Chicagoans who will have new addresses this fall are Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Patrick Geraghty [the former Helen C. Tieken], who moved yesterday from their apartment at 11 Scott street to 56 East Division street.

Mrs. Geraghty's brothers, Robert and Theodore, are both anticipating Labor day holidays in northern Wisconsin. Robert Tieken is going to Teal lake on a fishing expedition, and Ted will be one of the guests of Mr. and Mrs. Herman P. Wilms, who are giving a Labor day house party at Fish Creek, Wis. Mr. and Mrs. Murray Washburne will be visiting the Wilmses the same week-end.

Mr. and Mrs. John E. Hughes returned last Wednesday from Saratoga very elated over the new additions to their stable which they purchased there. Some dozen yearlings which they bought are being shipped to the Hughes farm near Middleburg, Va., where they will be trained for the races next year. Mr. and Mrs. Hughes expect to be in Lake Forest the rest of the summer.

Miss Barbara Shaffer, daughter of the Charles Shaffers, is on her way home from England, where she has been traveling and visiting this summer with Miss Louise Boldt of New York City and her father, George Boldt. The Shaffers have just come back from a vacation which they spent in a cabin on the St. Lawrence.

Chicagoans at Glacier Park.

Among the Chicagoans who are registered at the Many Glacier hotel in Glacier National park are Mr. and Mrs. Cecil I. Crouse. Mrs. Crouse's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry S. Bunting, are on a motor trip through Canada.

Durand Smith, who is visiting in England and Ireland, will return to Chicago the second week in September.

Mrs. George Blossom Sr. is back in Winnetka again after her English vacation in Sussex with the Austin Hoys, who formerly lived in Chicago. Mrs. Blossom docked in New York with her granddaughter, Miss Louise Blossom, who left immediately for a motor trip through Vermont with her mother, Mrs. George W. Blossom Jr. of Lake Forest.

At present Louise and her mother are in Putney, Vt., investigating schools for Louise's younger sister, Barbara. They will be at home in about a week.

Mrs. Blossom Sr. makes her permanent home in Pasadena, Cal., and will return there the first of October, when the lease is up on her Winnetka house.

Mrs. W. S. Bailey Home from Coast.

After a pleasant six months in California Mrs. W. Stephan Bailey has returned to Chicago, motoring across the continent with Mrs. Cornelius Vanderbilt Jr. Mr. and Mrs. Bailey are staying with friends in Winnetka until they can return to their apartment at 37 East Division street, which was rented for the summer. They will move into town Sept. 15.

During the next few weeks the Ross J. Beatty family will be scattered in all directions. Just a fortnight ago Mrs. Beatty departed for a whirlwind trip to Europe about the same time that her daughter, Veronese, was heading in the opposite direction for California. Another member of the family, Ross J. Beatty Jr., is vacationing in Michigan. All will be home around Labor day.

Patricia Wilson Home from Visits.

Miss Patricia Wilson, the young daughter of the Percy Wilsons of Lake Forest, has returned from a three weeks' visit in the north woods where she was a guest of Mr. and Mrs. George A. Seaverns at Land o' Lakes, Wis., and also of Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Earles of Blaney Park, Mich. Miss Wilson will be a senior at Ferry Hall this autumn.

Among the Chicago contingent returning to Smith college this fall will be Miss Anne Ward Willetts, the daughter of Mrs. George M. Willetts of 411 Briar place. Miss Willetts, who will be a sophomore, has been spending most of her time, between visits to Wisconsin and Michigan, on the tennis courts of the Exmoor club.

Mrs. John Hubbell, the former Ruth Seanor, is in her family's home in Evanston until the end of the week when Mr. Hubbell, who is in California on business, will join her and motor back to their New York home. They expect to arrive in New York in time to meet her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry E. Seanor, when they land from a trip to Bermuda.

Miss Helen Jeffries of Highland Park went east to be at the dock when her friend, Miss Sally Tanner, arrived from Europe on the President Garfield. Miss Tanner has been spending the summer with her mother, Princess Turlo, at her home on the Riviera.

Mrs. Cates Will Go East Today.

Mrs. Dudley Cates will leave today for New York City, where she is to join Mr. Cates at their New York apartment. Their daughter, Phoebe, is spending the summer at a camp in Connecticut, and will return to Miss Madeira's school in Washington in the fall. Mr. Cates has become affiliated with a New York business. They have leased their house in Winnetka to the David Crawfords.

Mrs. Vincent Alward of Chicago and Lake Geneva left by plane last week with her baby son, Lee, to visit her mother, Mrs. H. E. Pepper, in Philadelphia.

BY NANCY CABOT.

"Left and Right" sounds more like a trafic signal than a quilt pattern. But a quilt pattern it is, and a little beauty when finished. Pieced blocks are set togetner with plain ones. Accompanying the quilt pattern is a diagram showing a suggested arrangement of pieced and plain blocks. Pieced in white, gold, and rose this pattern is certain to afford one of the loveliest quilts in any collection.

Patterns of this design are 5 cents, stamps or coin. Address Nancy Cabot, Chicago Tribune, or call at one of the Tribune Public Service offices: One South Dearborn street or Tribune Tower.

Sight Defects May Result in Maladjustment

Investigation of Vision a Parental Duty.

BY GLADYS HUNTINGTON BEVANS

We have talked about the wisdom of annual physical examinations, even though a child may appear and be perfectly healthy.

Perhaps what the National Society for the Prevention of Blindness says in connection with just one possible physical defect, bad eyesight, may bring to parents a realization of the importance of keeping the child in as good a condition as possible, and if there is any defect the wise attitude to take towards it and how to help the child.

In an issue of its quarterly journal, The Sight Saving Review, Miss Catherine A. Flanagan writes:

"That the sight saving class offers definite aids in the emotional as well as the physical adjustments of its children, has been recognized by those coming in contact with its operation. Of course, not all children who come to a sight saving class are unhappy victims of their environment. Their reactions to their handicap may be fine, having been aided by understanding and sympathetic parents and teachers . . ."

". . . textbooks are printed on unglazed paper in 24 point type, and in order to provide the children with the desirable amount of research material, and to supplement their own limited reading, much reading aloud by the teacher is done in a sight saving class. Movable seats make it possible for the children to get as close to the board as necessary, large chalk and large manuscript writing (which has few acute angles), and correct spacing between lines and letters, eliminate the strain of blackboard work. . . .

"In the sight saving class, as in every school situation, the really gifted child presents the gravest problem. But the sight saving class teacher can teach him to use all the tools at his command. She often can provide readers to bring to him the material he cannot find for himself. She can emphasize the value of the radio with its wealth of information, inspiration, and the beauties of life: travel, religion, music, poetry, and the typewriter to record his thoughts without eye strain.

"Perhaps she can give him real courage and faith in his ability to live up to his gifts, through a knowledge and an appreciation of the great ones of the world who were handicapped: Handel, Milton, Beethoven, Helen Keller, Franklin D. Roosevelt, and others. If the teacher can do this, the mental hygiene ideal may be more nearly realized, that 'happiness comes from doing and exercising one's creative faculties, whatever they may be, and he who finds ample opportunity for fundamental expression needs no one's pity'."

I would like to see more regard for normal eyesight in the classroom in regard to lighting, seating, blackboard work, and a reduction in the amount of writing and book work required of children.

Finds Housewives Are Less Emotional Than Stenographers

Such were the findings of Prof. Justin W. Brierly, Columbia university psychologist, on a research visit to Metro-Goldyn-Mayer studios.

Using Una Merkle, actress; Ann Roberts, the housewife; and Marion Horton, secretary, as subjects, the professor took minute measurements of heart action, respiration, blood pressure and other emotional reactions, and then compared them.

He found the housewife's life is full of incidents which provide emotional outlets. The stenographer, however, attention sharpened by close application to office duties and without emotional outlets, he said, is most sensitive to impulses. The actress is less emotional except while acting.

The three subjects watched Clark Gable and Jean Harlow go through some love scenes while the tests were made.

Watermelon Is Foundation of New Desserts

Salads and Pickles Share in Fruity Goodness.

BY MARY MEADE.

Before we shake the watermelon seeds out of our ears for yet another season there's a good bit of time for enjoying some special melon delicacies. "Special" to some folks may mean no more than the crisp, ripe, chilled fruit, served with or without the much discussed salt, but in this case it's intended to mean some particularly fine dishes which use watermelon as a principle ingredient.

One favorite of ours is a melon salad. It's a simple trick to evolve this tempter, for all it asks is cubed melon and orange sections. For each service we use about a third cup of cubed, chilled melon, and four or five orange sections. The melon cubes, from which the seeds have been removed, should measure about a half inch across, and the orange segments should be carefully separated from any clinging membrane. The fruit is arranged on crisp salad greens and served, simply with a well chilled French dressing.

This salad may be used, of course, either in its usual place after the meat course or at the beginning of the meal. Or, you may always decide to serve your melon in ball form as a fruit cocktail. With an inexpensive ball cutter, which probably you already have or can pick up at any dime store, it's a simple trick to transform the chilled melon into uniform spheres. A combination of several kinds of melon is particularly good [and a good way of polishing off any odds and ends left over]. About 4 cups of these melon balls, plus a fourth cup of powdered sugar and a half cup of orange juice, is a good safe bet, plus a few mint leaves for final garnish.

Frozen watermelon makes an excellent accompaniment to almost any meat course, be it hot or cold. It's made like this:

Frozen Watermelon.

4 cups diced watermelon
3 cups powdered sugar
2 tablespoons sherry flavoring

Remove the seeds from the uncut melon and break into quarter-inch cubes with a fork. Mix with the sugar and sherry flavoring [real sherry wine if you prefer] and freeze quickly in the trays of an automatic refrigerator. No stirring is necessary. Serve as you would any fruit ice, with the meat course.

After the crisp, rosy meat of the melon is only a memory there's yet another treat the fruit has to offer. Watermelon pickles? But, of course! Here's one way of making them that we've found especially good:

Watermelon Pickles.

Cut peeled watermelon rind into small pieces [we like ours in long, narrow strips] and soak overnight in salted water to cover, using a proportion of one tablespoon of salt to each quart of water. Drain in the morning and cook in fresh boiling water until just tender.

To each two quarts of the cooked melon rind add:

1½ cups vinegar
2 cups dark brown sugar
½ cup water
1 stick cinnamon
1 teaspoon ground ginger
½ teaspoon ground cloves

Cook the rind in the sirup for 20 minutes. Drain, and fill sterilized jars with the rind. Boil the sirup for another 10 minutes and fill the jars. Seal at once.

Dean of Dance Teachers Here to Study Steps

Three hundred dancing teachers from the United States, Canada, and Mexico gathered at the Congress hotel yesterday for the annual normal course of the Chicago Association of Dancing Masters.

Fred W. Kehl, 74 years old, of Miami, Fla., who for forty-three years taught University of Wisconsin students to dance, was in the procession of teacher-students who circled the floor repeatedly in the afternoon session, practicing new steps. Oldest member of the association and the father of the present president, Leo Kehl, Mr. Kehl introduced the American waltz and two-step in Berlin in 1908, winning first prize in a competition representing fifteen countries.

Mr. Kehl recalled that when the two-step first came in there were many nights when ladies' skirts were picked from the floor after the ball was over. Their owners had fled and abandoned them after jerking them off with their flying heels.

"Most young people do the fox trot very nicely, but only about half of them can waltz," Kehl said. "The scene in a modern dancing place is just about as beautiful as in the old days of the formal dances, with one or two exceptions.

"There are more walking steps now, which haven't as good an effect, and the couples nowadays bump into each other. They didn't in the old days because they were all going the same way around the room.

"Cheek to cheek dancing was the worst vogue in dancing history. It was not only vulgar but took away proper balance."

BY ANTOINETTE DONNELLY.

"I select an attractive girl, but preferably not a beautiful one, for she might arouse the instinctive jealousy of the customer. The girl I pick must show an innate appreciation of the right way in which to make the most of her appearance."

The above comes from the lips of the employment manager of one of the country's big department stores. He was speaking of the type of girl he employs for the toiletries department.

Toiletries department or any other department, the description is apt. Eliminating the jealousy clauses, which might belong peculiarly to a cosmetics counter employée, you have the modern business employé's requirements in a nutshell. "An attractive girl, a girl with an innate appreciation of the right way in which to make the most of her appearance."

That's all that is required. Beautiful one needn't be. Indeed, we think this prejudice against the beautiful one in business fields of every nature fairly apparent. The too beautiful one creates a certain antagonism among other women employées. She's a little too much of a distraction for the male employées, including, perhaps, the superior officer himself. Besides, there's demand elsewhere, in movies, shows, dance places, and so on, for the more or less limited beauty supply.

One trait, stressed by the employment head referred to above, as a necessary asset along with the attractive looks, is courtesy, a trait that serves beauty well in any walk of life. Respecting the preference and knowledge of others in the particular business department cited is deemed a success essential for the fair employée. In any field of endeavor the same rule may be applied with equal success. It lends a woman a great deal of charm, first lady in waiting to the queen beauty, if we may so describe the lure that never fails.

The point of the above remarks, however, is to remind Miss Business Woman to ask herself if she is making the most of her appearance, or if, like a number, she's letting herself "settle" like the home woman frequently referred to in sermon and action, who thinks that now that she has her man, she doesn't have to be up and at herself daily in the struggle for a higher place in the sun of attractiveness.

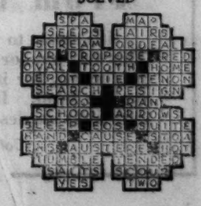
YESTERDAY'S PUZZLE SOLVED



WIVES ON STRIKE
AGAINST DARNING SOCKS

STRIKE! When lovely summer afternoons have to be spent darning the holes in menfolks' socks, it makes wives mad! "Let's strike—I'm sick of so much darning," says young Mrs. M—.

Then her friend remembers a tip—about Lux. "They say Lux washing cuts down costly holes in socks—just as it cuts down stocking runs for us," she says—"let's try it."

HELP! It takes only a few minutes to dip hubby's socks in Lux and it does cut down on runs. There's no harmful alkali in Lux—no cake-soap rubbing—to weaken threads and make colors streak.

"CONGRATULATIONS!" say husbands when they find socks stay new so much longer! Lux saves the elasticity of the threads so they can stand more strain—give ever so much longer wear!

CITY PREPARES FOR OPENING OF 2D HOMECOMING

BY PHILIP KINSLEY.

Chicago's far-flung community centers, from the Pullman-Roseland district to Howard street, are completing preparations for the huge Chicago homecoming celebration which will open tomorrow under the sponsorship of a committee headed by Mayor Edward J. Kelly. Corporation Counsel Barnet Hodes is secretary of the committee. The celebration will last until Sept. 15.

The celebration will take many forms. While the mayor has appointed six divisional chairmen and these in turn have appointed a host of assistants, there is no central celebration or directorship. The communities themselves are putting on the shows, each taking the course that pleases them best and raising their own funds. The homecoming celebration of last year, the first ever held, proved such a business stimulant that merchants throughout the city are supporting this year's affair.

60 Celebrations Arranged.

With more than 60 celebrations arranged for the 300 communities which make up Chicago, it is difficult to single out any one celebration for mention. The community celebrations will not begin until next week. This week Chicago itself is the magnet, the various attractions being listed as the March of Events, headed by the All-Stars-Bears football game at Soldiers' field on Thursday night. This game is sponsored by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE. The band concerts in Grant park and municipal opera on the Navy pier are other events.

The Labor day program on Sept. 2 and a special athletic show on the lake front Sept. 4, sponsored by the Chicago park district, are expected to draw great crowds. The American Softball tournament, which will be held Sept. 7, 8, and 9 in Lincoln park, is expected to attract 200,000 spectators.

Events Numerous and Varied.

Elaborate celebrations are being planned by many communities, according to Mr. Hodes. The north side will have parades, street dances, athletic shows, and vaudeville in nine neighborhoods. The south side will have dollar days, street shows, symphony concerts, tournaments and baby shows. On the west side there will be shows in all the small parks and a big Venetian night carnival in Garfield park. There will be a youth contest, with awards in oratory, essay writing, and arts on the northwest side and, in addition, a parade, dollar days, and baby contests.

Decorations are going up all over the city and the merchants are announcing neighborhood dollar days.

HUNTERS FIND RADIUM VIAL IN PIGGY'S TUMMY

Sioux Falls, S. D., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A $3,000 vial of radium was accidentally thrown away from Moe hospital, but was returned today after an uncannily precise search by two University of Minnesota scientists. They traced it from the hospital to a city dump grounds, finally to the stomach of a squealing pig.

Dr. A. J. Moe called Dr. J. W. Buchta of the physics department of the University hospital in Minneapolis and Dr. H. H. Barber of the chemistry department to hunt the lost radium vial. They devised a detector made of gold leaf.

They searched the dump while 500 pigs wandered about. Their gauge showed radium clearly and they shooed nearby hogs away. The gauge returned to normal as the hogs left.

The scientists divided the drove of about 500 into five sections. Their gauge was excited by the first group. Further eliminations reduced the group to 20, to three, and finally Dr. Buchto picked out the radium pig.

"Isn't," said a hunter.

"Bet you the price of the pig it is," Dr. Buchto offered. A butcher killed and opened the animal. There was the radium tube, measuring 1-16 of an inch in diameter and ¾ inch in length. It was in the pig's stomach.

SONS OF LEADING NEW YORKERS IN CHICAGO ON 'BUM'

Nine sons of well known New York families, all students of the Horace Mann preparatory school in New York City, stopped in Chicago yesterday on a "bumming" tour of the country. The boys, under the direction of John Dallavo, teacher at the school, have been touring for nine months, have covered 13,000 miles, and have spent less than one dollar a day each on living expenses.

"We have slept in barns and haylofts and made a specialty of eating in farm houses," Dallavo explained. He said the boys preferred to make the bumming trip for the experience in it rather than accompany their families to seaside resorts.

The group includes Heywood Broun Jr., son of the columnist; John Dirks, son of the cartoonist; Jack Harris, son of an executive of the New York Life Insurance company, and Alston Horton, Clifford Wolff, Santo Italia, William Lor, John McCormack, and James Minehan, all of New York City. According to Dallavo all the boys plan to enter colleges in the fall.

Collegians Show Confidence.

Town Turns Out

CHAMPAIGN, Ill., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Champaign will be represented strongly at the football game between the College All-Americans and Chicago Bears Thursday night. In addition to more than 300 who will drive to Soldiers' field, Chicago, a special train will carry 140 members of the B. P. O. Elks. The Elks party is made up of Champaign business and professional men. M. E. Dillavou is in charge of the football special.

BY WILFRID SMITH.

The All-American football players stepped through their paces yesterday afternoon at Dyche stadium with a confident enthusiasm which said: "Who's afraid of the big bad Bears?" With Coaches Frank Thomas and Slip Madigan directing, the boys went to work, glad that the days of scrimmage are past, and with the firm belief that they are prepared for the football test at Soldiers' field Thursday night.

Two weeks ago these all-stars reported at Northwestern. Now intensive effort, a splendid coöperation between players and coaches, has produced a team which knows what it wishes to do and how to do it. The only possible fear is that defensively the squad may not be able to check the Bears' attack. To that end the practice yesterday, and those today and tomorrow, will leave periods of review of the defensive formations.

Secret Drill Tonight.

Tonight the All-Americans will practice at Soldiers' field under the stadium lights and the 100 one thousand watt lights that have been installed for the game. The drill will be secret. Game uniforms will be delivered tomorrow night and the all-stars will then be ready for their introduction to the throng of spectators on Thursday night.

This crowd probably will equal, if not surpass, the 80,000 which attended the first All-Star and Bears game sponsored last August by THE CHICAGO TRIBUNE.

25,000 Seats Available.

There are 92,000 seats. More than 25,000, at $1.65 and $1.10, now are available. If you want to see the parade of All-Americans and watch these boys from all sections of the country test their ability against the strongest team in professional football, visit THE TRIBUNE Public Service offices at 1 South Dearborn street and in the lobby of Tribune Tower. These offices will be open tonight and tomorrow night until 10 o'clock.

The Chicago Bears will arrive in Chicago tomorrow from their training camp at St. John's Military academy, Delafield, Wis. They will be quartered at a south side hotel and visit Soldiers' field tomorrow night for their rehersal. This practice, like the All-American drill tonight, will be secret.

Expect Each Team to Score.

Who will win, the professionals or the collegians?

This question, which failed of an answer last year because of the scoreless tie, probably will be definitly answered. From advance information from the Bears' camp and observations by the coaches of the All-Americans, this unanimous opinion has been delivered: Both teams should score. Conservative estimates place the result at a one touchdown margin of difference, depending on the breaks of the game, the opportunities that are grasped.

It is considered likely that the running attack of the Bears will be used to open up the air path to the goal. This also is absolutely true of the All-American team. Bill Shepherd, Bohn Hilliard, Jack Regeczi, Al Nichelini, and the other half backs, with support from the battering Stan Kostka and his full back associates, Buzz Wetzel and Inky Wotkyns, will place the All-Stars in strategic posi-

BEARS PIN HOPES ON MANDERS

Nagurski Handicapped by Injury for All-Stars.

BY GEORGE STRICKLER.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Delafield, Wis., Aug. 26.—Jack Manders, place kicking star, will start at full back against the College All-Stars Thursday night, instead of Bronko Nagurski, Coach George Halas of the Chicago Bears announced today after the squad's first defensive drill.

Elevation of Manders from a substitute to a starting rôle is the first of several changes Halas is contemplating. The others will be in the line.

Decision to start Manders is not an attempt to reward the former Minnesota star for diligent effort and application during the two weeks' training up here at St. John's Military academy. Nor is it strategy to forestall a recurrence of last year's misfortune when the Bears were in position to win the All-Star game three times on field goals, only to lose their opportunity before Manders could be got off the bench.

Nagurski Hampered by Injury.

Manders is definitly the best full back on the Bears' squad now. Nagurski, a slow starter, has been hampered some by an injury. While he has been nursing bruises Manders has worked hard and mastered the tricks that made Nagurski the most feared full back in football. His blocking has been second to none on the squad and he has been backing up the line exceptionally well.

He crashed his 210 pounds through the Orange line in last week's practice game for two long gains, running 40 yards once before the secondary trapped him along the side lines. If he continues to play at his present pace Nagurski may need more than full recovery to win back his place as a starter.

With Manders in the lineup, the Bears will have a dangerous scoring threat anywhere inside the All-Stars' 40 yard line. Jack has led the league once, in 1934, and the Bears twice in scoring, largely through his kicking. In two years he has missed only one out of 103 points after touchdowns. Last year he made 10 out of 13 field goal attempts. Bernie Masterson will hold the ball for him this year. This was Carl Brumbaugh's job the last two seasons.

Starting Right Half Undecided.

Halas is finding it harder to select a starting lineup as the game approaches. He is undecided about right half back, where he must decide between Gene Ronzani and John Sisk. Ronzani has missed much of the two weeks' work up here because of an injury, but he is back in uniform now and ready to play.

Sisk, however, is the faster of the two. This may win him the assignment. The collegians are known to be much superior to the Bears in speed, and Halas may decide to sacrifice blocking on the offense for speed in the defense against the collegians' passes and wide runs. Masterson at quarter back and Beattie Feathers at left half will round out the back field.

In the line, Halas must pick his guards from among Ray Richards, who was optioned out to Detroit last year, Joe Zeller, Joe Kopcha, and Jules Carlson. Kopcha and Carlson are regarded as the regulars, but Zeller and Richards have made themselves definite starting possibilities by their greater charge. Ookie Miller has been working between Zeller and Richards and if they start, he will open the game at center. Ed Kawal, the other veteran center, has been teamed with Carlson and Kopcha. If Miller and Kawal need help, Frank Sullivan, the young Loyola giant, will be available.

LARRY FRENCH, Cub southpaw pitcher, stays up until the wee sma' hours on the night after pitching a game. . . . It takes that long for his nerves to quiet down. . . . And for three years Spears wasn't the least rotund. . . . But the boys can breathe easier. . . . He's getting round again. . . . The 1935 official football guide reveals that Notre Dame has 36 former players serving as head coaches in colleges or universities. . . . Illinois ranks second with 22 and Minnesota third with 14. . . . Joe E. Brown, this department's favorite movie comedian, regrets that he will arrive in Chicago a few days too late to see the Bears-All-Star game. . . . On Sept. 5, Brown will be in the loop for a week of personal appearances, the only ones he will make this year. . . . When the All-Star coaches say "Let George do it" the left side of the line is well protected, for Shotwell of Pittsburgh, center; Barclay of North Carolina, left guard, and Maddox, Kansas State, left tackle, all answer to that name. . . .

Red Mackey, Noble Kizer's assistant at Purdue, scored a hole in one on the 113 yard second at Lafayette Country club the other day. . . . Elbert Gragg, Illinois tackle last fall, has been appointed assistant coach in Mount Vernon, Ill., High school. . . . George Sisler Jr. will enter Colgate next year. . . . Last year the Dean brothers of St. Louis each won six while losing one to the Giants. . . . This year the Giants have beaten Paul four out of six and Dizzy two out of three. . . . There is no broadcasting of games from the Brooklyn Dodgers' park because the newspaper men don't want it. . . . The club asked them to vote on the proposition and abided by their decision. . . . Italy has only 22 recognized golf courses. . . . Jim Musick, back field man with the Boston Red Skins, whose failure to kick a point after touchdown permitted Notre Dame to whip Southern California at Soldiers' field, 13 to 12, in 1929, has retired from football. . . .

Honus Wagner, while a star for the Pirates, had a mongrel called Jason Weatherbee. . . . Jason always sat on the bench in Pittsburgh. . . . When the Pirates were winning Jason frisked about and yapped encouragement. . . . When they were losing he sat alone and moped. . . . In the midst of a St. Louis rally one day in 1912 Wagner kicked about a ruling by Brick Owens, now an American league umpire, and was put out of the game. . . . Jason growled, stiffened the hair on the back of his neck, and rushed out to take a nip at Owens' leg. . . . Two days later in New York Wagner received word Jason had died of poisoning. . . . Wagner still swears Jason died of ptomaine poisoning from eating umpire. . . .

Patsy Urso of Detroit, 1935 Chicago flyweight Golden Gloves champion, expects to turn professional next month. . . . So does Johnny Brown, the 118 pound Golden Gloves winner. Other champions who have deserted the amateurs are Dave Clark, 160 pounds; Joe Bauer, 175 pounds, and Lorenzo Pack, heavyweight. . . . There probably will be a complete turnover in Golden Gloves title holders next winter. . . .

Ten Years Ago Today—Hal Carlson and Philadelphia sent the Cubs into seventh place with a 4 to 0 defeat. . . . Chick Suggs and Ray Miller began training for their ten round bout at Aurora. . . . Earl Sheeley's timely hitting gave the White Sox a 6 to 5 victory over the Yankees.

Salica Defeats Escobar in Bout for Bantam Title

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Lou Salica, who started on the fistic trail three years ago as a Golden Gloves boxer and a member of the United States Olympic team, gained recognition as the world's bantamweight champion by defeating Sixto Escobar of Porto Rico in a sizzling 15 round bout at Dyckman oval. More than 10,000 attended.

Although neither Salica nor Escobar entered the ring with recognition of the New York state athletic commission as champions, the bout was officially a title contest, for the board agreed, when the fighters were matched, to regard the winner as the title holder. Escobar previously had gained titular recognition from the N. B. A. as the result of a victory over Pete Sanstol in Montreal on Aug. 7.

To some observers it appeared Escobar had the better of the going, because of his sturdier punching at close quarters.

Halas Will Root for Wetzel, but Not on Thursday Night

BY HOWARD BARRY.

Damon Wetzel, one of the hardest line smashers in the history of Ohio State university football, gave spectators many thrills during his career as a college player. But he's not finished yet. He'll be back Thursday night for a crack at a line that's tougher than any he's ever hit before. The football fans who gather at Soldiers' field that evening will see him in action as a full back for the college All-Stars in their battle with the Chicago Bears.

George Halas, coach of the Bears, will watch Wetzel's performance with mingled feelings. If the sturdy full back rips through for ten or fifteen yards at a smash, Halas will shudder at what may happen on that particular evening, but he will congratulate himself on acquiring another great player. For Wetzel has signed a contract with the Bears for the coming season and will make the acquaintance of his future teammates in the capacity of a bitter opponent Thursday evening.

Says Score Will Be Close.

In the course of his three years of play at Ohio State, Wetzel grew accustomed to being on a winning team, and that may have some bearing on his confidence in predicting a victory for the All-Stars. He believes, however, that the score will be very close.

"One play decides a game so often that it's hard to make a prediction," he said. "You're carrying the ball and all at once you see an opening that means a touchdown—maybe from the middle of the field. I think the game will be close. Perhaps six points will decide it."

"And who'll have those six points?" he was asked.

"We will," he replied serenely.

Wetzel has had wide experience with many styles of football and accordingly is having no trouble getting used to the Notre Dame shift employed by the All-Stars. At Ohio State he played first under the late Sam Willaman and subsequently under Frank Schmidt. From the two of them Wetzel acquired a broad knowledge of football tactics.

Ohio State went through last season with the loss of only one game. That was to Illinois, 14 to 13. Those who attended the game may remember that Wetzel had much to do with the powerful last period attack which just failed to tie the Illini.

At the start of the game, Wetzel was sent in at center instead of in his customary place in the back field. At the beginning of the last quarter, with Illinois leading, 14 to 0, he was placed at full back. By the time the period was 2½ minutes old, he had smashed over for a touchdown. Two minutes later Heekin scored another for the Buckeyes, but as one of the attempts for point after touchdown failed, the Illini still led, 14 to 13, and that was the nearest the Buckeyes came to victory.

Damon's Ready to Go.

Wetzel started to get into condition for the All-Star game as soon as he learned that he had been awarded a place on the squad and now he's in mid-season form. When he hurls his 190 pounds at the Bears' line Thursday night, he'll be out to prove two things. He'll be showing the fans of the nation that they did well in voting him a place on the team and he'll be convincing George Halas that he used good judgment in signing him.

Cubs Use Pencils, but Can't Find Way to Check Cards

BY IRVING VAUGHAN.
[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

Boston, Mass., Aug. 26.—Having no baseball chores to dispose of, the Cubs got out their pencils and papers today for the purpose of trying to figure what is going to happen in the currently dizzy National league pennant race. They couldn't make the figures prove anything that satisfied their suppressed desire to get in on the world series loot. No matter how they juggled the statistical dope, they were always confronted by the same problem. The problem is: "Who is going to slow down the Cardinals?"

Slowing down the Cardinals is something the other National league teams haven't been able to do for the last several weeks. When the champions took a double-header at Brooklyn on Sunday it marked their nineteenth victory in twenty-three games. When the Giants lost to the Cubs the same day it marked their twenty-third defeat in forty-six games. Since the Cubs' eleven game winning streak was broken at Pittsburgh in the second game on July 31 they have lost fourteen while winning only thirteen. In other words, the Cards have been playing .800 baseball against a .500 pace by the two others.

Cubs Lose Extra Games.

The Cubs, even if they put on a splurge that will raise their pace to that of the Cardinals during the next couple of weeks, still will be faced by an obstacle that most of the experts figure can't be hurdled. The Cubs have played five more games than the Giants and six more than the Cards. What makes it bad is that the Cubs have already lost those extra games. The Cards and Giants still have a chance to win theirs before pulling up even with the Chicago entry in total games played.

Another thing the Cubs must keep in mind, and they know it, is a series of five battles with which they conclude the season. These five battles are billed for St. Louis with the Cardinals, and it isn't pleasant for the Cubs, or any one, for that matter, to contemplate what the Dean boys, the wild Martin, and the slugging Medwick might do when that close to a sack of world series dough.

Cubs Have New Big Four.

Due to the collapse of Tex Carleton in various recent appearances, Manager Grimm has had a new idea about regular pitchers. Carleton is to be stabled. The new big four is to be made up of Charley Root, Lon Warneke, Larry French, and Bill Lee. Root is going to operate in tomorrow's opener against the Braves. Warneke and French will serve in the double-header the next day. The Chicago boys have already won thirteen out of fifteen from the Braves.

Just how long this new big four will function properly remains to be seen. Thus far on the trip the pitchers really have done commendable work, considering that Grimm hasn't been very considerate of resting periods. He has thrown one starting pitcher after another into action to save a game. The pitchers are grumbling about it, and yet have come through under the strain. However, such maneuvering can go on only for a limited time. It already has Carleton down. In a period of six days he was in three games, not counting a few other bull pen warmups.

Gabby Hartnett, injured in the region of the left ankle, isn't going to play in the series here unless Doc Ananias Lotshaw performs a miracle. In fact, Hartnett can easily be out longer than he now suspects. Figuring the veteran's batting average and his mechanical skill behind the plate his absence is regretted, especially in Boston, where he always put it on before his boyhood friends. But there are a couple of fairly sturdy youngsters ready to supplant him, and the experience gained now by this pair may help to win a pennant next season if not sooner.

ZEKE WINS FIRST GAME 9-8; YANKS CAPTURE 2D, 7-5

BY EDWARD BURNS.

Zeke Bonura, New Orleans' gift to the White Sox, yesterday beat the New York Yankees by stealing home with two out in the fifteenth inning of the first game of a double-header. It was Zeke's fourth stolen base as a major leaguer and if he steals a million more there'll never be one just like the one which enabled the White Sox to beat the Yanks, 9 to 8. It was the ultimate in dramatic maneuvers in one of the most exciting and unusual games ever played in major league baseball.

The Sox almost escaped with a 5 to 5 tie in the seven inning second game, which ended at 7:20 o'clock, but John Salveson blew up in the final inning, and a triple by Myril Hoag, a single by Lou Gehrig, an error by Jocko Conlan, and a force play gave the Yankees a 7 to 5 decision. The first few innings of this game were very sloppily pitched and, though the Sox led, 3 to 2, at the end of the first inning, Salveson's unsteadiness indicated an eventual New York verdict. John Murphy, Yank pitcher, got better as he went along after a shaky start. The setback in the second game kept the Sox from going into third place.

Opener a Real Thriller.

There never was a game that produced any more chills and hot flashes than that from which Bonura and the Sox in general emerged as heroes. The pressure was especially terrific because of the many earlier disappointments suffered by the battling Sox.

We'll give you the fifteenth inning finish and then work backwards. In the first half of the inning Gehrig had driven his second homer of the game, his No. 26 of the year, to put the Yanks ahead, 8 to 7. The Sox had made two runs in a series of remarkable events in the thirteenth inning and scarcely figured to repeat. The 15,000 customers apparently gave up.

Appling Starts It.

Jimmy De Shong was the Yankee pitcher. He hadn't lost a game this year. At the start of the fifteenth he walked Luke Appling after a three and two count. Appling got to second and Bonura to first on Zeke's high bouncing infield single. Luke and Zeke moved up on Jimmy Dykes' sacrifice. Conlan then was given an intentional pass to fill the bases and set the scene for a game ending double play.

For a few seconds it appeared that the strategy had worked, for Sewell bounced a double-play ball to Rolfe at third base. But the play was just a shade too slow. Conlan was forced at second, but Sewell was safe at first, Appling was home with the tying run, and big Zeke was on third.

There Comes Zeke!

De Shong, obviously rattled, threw three wide ones to Wyatt. Then he got over two strikes. Wyatt fouled a couple. Zeke started his gallop for the bacon. He slid home just ahead of De Shong's panicky pitch and the game was over.

The two runs Luke and Zeke scored in the fifteenth weren't the first they had registered in the overtime. They are the gents who tied the score in the thirteenth. In that round Luke singled, his fourth hit, and went to third on Zeke's double. Then the runners scored the tying runs after two were out when Rightfielder George Selkirk ignored a cinch double play at second and threw the ball into the boxes back of the plate.

Of course, the Sox should have won in regulation time. They had a 5 to 0 lead going into the fifth inning, a 5 to 2 lead when Gehrig knocked his first homer in the eighth, and they were leading, 5 to 3, with two out in the ninth and two strikes on Red Rolfe, who singled to tie the score. There had been much excitement up

Charlotte Glutting Has 80 for Second Place.

Minneapolis, Minn., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Jean Bauer, Providence, R. I., who never qualified for the big show, today won the medal of the 39th Women's National golf tournament with a 79, three shots higher than the tournament record set by Enid Wilson of England two years ago.

A fine sectional tournament player, but a failure in national qualifying rounds at Salem and Whitemarsh in 1932 and 1934, the pretty 24 year old New England girl regarded her entry this year as a lark until she discovered she was one under par for the first five holes. She became serious thereafter, and succeeded in slipping in ahead of Charlotte Glutting, West Orange, N. J., to beat her by one stroke for the medal at the Interlachen course here.

Mrs. Annenberg Cards 81.

Mrs. Sylvia Annenberg, New York, was third with an 81. Five others, none regarded as an outstanding contender, tied for fourth place with 82s. They were Mrs. Burt Weil, Cincinnati; Marion McDougall, Milwaukee, Ore.; Phyllis Buchanan, Denver; Jean Kyer, Ann Arbor, Mich., and Ada Mackenzie, Toronto; the latter is regarded as the principal foreign threat for the title now held by Virginia Van Wie, Chicago, who is not competing.

Mrs. Glenna Collett Vare, Philadelphia, five times winner of the title and favorite this year, was forced to rally on the back nine with a par breaking 39 to get an 85.

Miss Bauer's Iron Play Helps.

Miss Bauer, an idol of the photographers because she is one pretty girl who doesn't mind posing for shots, won the medal with beautiful iron play and excellent putting. Despite a wind that bothered many players, she played faultlessly except on three holes.

On the 6th, 13th and 15 holes she lost a shot to par by hitting the rough, missing a wood and three putting. Two mashie shots left her five foot putts on the 5th and 14th and she cashed in with birdies. She was out in 38, even par, and back in 41, one over.

Scores were so uniformly low that it required 91 or better to qualify without a playoff. Six tied at 92, and played off at sudden death for three places.

Mrs. Tom Wallace, Tulsa; Mrs. Lillian Zech, Chicago, and Margaret Bushard, Culver City, Cal., won the three extra places. Mrs. Wallace and Miss Bushard scored fives on the first holes and Mrs. Zech had a 5 and 6.

All-Stars to Hold Secret Drill Tonight

tion for forward passes to Don Hutson, Ray Fuqua, Butch Morse, Frank Larson, and the other wing men.

Hutson Has Most Speed.

Hutson, incidentally, is the fastest man on the All-American team. Given one step lead over any of the Bears' backs and the Alabama star is into open spaces. Moreover, yesterday's announcement that Frank Sobrero, the long distance kicker and accurate passer from Santa Clara, probably would be available for duty, strengthens the hopes of the All-Stars.

Then the All-Americans have such men as Cotton Warburton and Buzz Borries, who are exceedingly dangerous returning kicks. The whole duty of covering the Bears' punts will not fall on these two [others have been assigned the position as well], but in practice they have flashed their speed and skill repeatedly.

Ask any Notre Dame player of the last three years if Warburton and Borries are dynamite. The Irish, as well as other university teams, will vote yes emphatically.

Bears Feel They Must Win.

How about the Bears? They feel that they must win this battle. The Bears, it is true, do feel that they are handicapped by being forced to play under the college forward passing rule. They may be outkicked, may be outpassed, and certainly will be facing a team which has a balance of man power. But Bronko Nagurski, Jack Manders, Reds Pollock, and Beattie Feathers haven't been stopped yet. Perhaps the All-Stars can't stop them.

The winner? It's just a guessing contest now, but Thursday night will bring you the correct answer of the 1935 All-American and Chicago Bears scrap.

ers, quarter backs, full backs, and half backs in that order, kept the squad on the run all day today. A three hour dummy scrimmage against the Notre Dame system, the team's first drill on defense, preceded the class room work this morning.

This schedule will be followed again tomorrow. Meantime, Halas has banned golf and soft ball to keep the men off their feet as much as possible between now and Thursday night. The squad will take another examination and listen to a lecture Wednesday morning, then motor to Chicago where it will try on new uniforms and test the lights at Soldiers' field Wednesday night.

The remainder of the time at camp has been so arranged that even the croquet tournament Grange had planned has been called off.

Red Smith, former Notre Dame guard and New York Giant catcher, who is an assistant to Doc Spears, All-Star coach, at Wisconsin, was a visitor at camp today. Paul Schissler, coach of the Cardinals last year and now with Brooklyn, and Frank Murray, head coach at Marquette, also watched practice. All three brought discouraging news of the All-Stars' exceptional speed, ball carriers, kickers and passers, but left camp undecided about what to expect Thursday.

ALL-AMERICAN COACHES ATTEND LUNCHEON TODAY

The coaching staf of the All-American football team and six members of the squad will be guests of the Rotary club of Chicago at a luncheon today in the grand ball room of the Sherman hotel. Maj. John L. Griffith, commissioner of athletics in the Big Ten, will introduce the speakers, Coaches Frank Thomas, Charles Bachman, Dr. C. W. Spears, and Edward Madigan.

The players who will attend are Miller Munjas, Pittsburgh, captain of the All-Americans; Frank Sobrero, Santa Clara; Herman Gundlach, Harvard; Elwood Kalbaugh, Princeton; William Bevan and Frank Larson, Minnesota.

Polo Ists Qualify Today for Two Chicago Teams

A test match will be played at the Oak Brook Polo club in Hinsdale this afternoon to determine the players and substitutes for two Chicago teams which will take part in the central circuit tournament and twelve goal national championship tournament to be played at Oak Brook next Sunday, and Monday, Sept. 8.

WHO'S WHO in Women's Tennis

HELEN JACOBS.

Helen Hull Jacobs, present national champion, has been in the tennis limelight for ten years. To the followers of the game she is a familiar and charming figure possessed of a keen sense of good sportsmanship.

HELEN JACOBS.

Miss Jacobs took up tennis very early in life, but she might never have climbed to stardom had it not been for a happy little occurrence which caused her to consider tennis seriously. A friend entered her name in a local tournament and Miss Jacobs played just for the novelty of it. Although she did not win every match the clash of tournament play quickened her interest in the game and she has been playing tennis ever since.

Miss Jacobs started playing tennis at the age of 13 and at the age of 16 had gained national prominence. She became national girls' champion at that age and held the title for three years.

On Wightman Cup Team in 1928.

In 1928 Miss Jacobs made the first of eight trips abroad as a member of the Wightman cup team. Although only 20 years old she played a surprisingly brilliant game. On her return the next year she fought to the finals at Wimbledon.

Four times she has competed in the finals of this great tournament. Four times she has met defeat with grit and stamina. This year at Wimbledon Miss Jacobs came the closest she has ever come to beating Mrs. Moody save for that never to be forgotten afternoon at Forest Hills when Mrs. Moody defaulted to her in the finals of the national tournament.

Misses Title by an Inch.

In their last match at Wimbledon Miss Jacobs had Mrs. Moody at match point. After an exchange of shots Miss Jacobs leaped into the air and hit a well placed over-head smash which would have swept her opponent from the court, but luck intervened, the ball hit the top of the net, and bounded back into the court. To lose by an inch of winning the most coveted tennis title in all the world would have caused the average contender many a heartache, but Miss Jacobs met it with a smile.

Injunction to Protect Mikel Is Dissolved

On the understanding that a hearing would be completed by Saturday by the Illinois racing commission, Superior Judge Peter H. Schwaba yesterday dissolved an injunction which he issued last week restraining the commission and the stewards of the Lincoln Fields Jockey club from putting into effect their order of Aug. 15 suspending John D. Mikel, race horse owner of Carlock, Ill., from racing on Illinois tracks.

Hearings are to begin tomorrow by the racing commission on the charge against Mikel that he ran My Bane, allegedly a 3 year old horse, as a 2 year old at the Lincoln Fields track.

In moving to dissolve the injunction, Assistant Attorney General William C. Clausen, representing the commission, argued that the "proper remedy was mandamus," and not an injunction.

Attorney Charles J. Michal, representing the horse owner, contended that racing was "not a privilege conferred by license, but a right."

In his suit, filed last week, which also asks damages resulting from the barring of his horses, Mikel offers to prove that the horse was born on his farm on March 5, 1933, and alleges that no hearing was given him before the commission's order was entered.

BY CHARLES BARTLETT.

The annual pro-amateur tournament, preview to the big doings of the local golf season—the twenty-second annual battle for the amateur championship of the Chicago District Golf association—yesterday resulted in a two way tie at Olympia Fields No. 4 course, which will be the scene today of the thirty-six hole qualifying round for the tournament proper. Match play for the thirty-two qualifiers in the championship bracket will open tomorrow morning, continuing through Friday's thirty-six hole title match.

Eddie Gayer and M. L. Bein of Twin Orchards were the first pro-amateur pair home yesterday, finishing with a 33—34—67. They were ready to declare themselves winners of the title until Eddie Williams, River Forest professional, and Freddie Haas of New Orleans, twice winner of the western junior title, rolled in with a 32—35—67 to tie them.

From there on it appeared that a group of 69's might be deadlocked for second place until the last twosome composed of Don Gardner and W. J. Yates of Flossmoor stopped by the scoreboard with a 68. Gardner, the genial young Italian pro from the south side club, had a personal card of 71, one over par, to tie Haas for the best single medal of the day.

It took an amateur pair consisting of Don Armstrong of Aurora and Keith Johnson of Bloomington, however, to submit the best ball effort of the day, a 32—34—66, which did them no good in the tournament itself, but brought them two of the amateur prizes.

Houston, Tex., Aug. 26.—(AP)—James J. Braddock, heavyweight champion of the world, believes Max Baer will stop the march of Joe Louis when the sluggers clash at Yankee stadium Sept. 24.

Braddock, here for a three round exhibition and to referee the main bout on a boxing card tomorrow night, says Baer is the first scrapper matched with Louis who can take it.

"Carnera was quaking in his shoetops when he fought the colored boy," said Braddock, "but it will be different with Baer. I saw Louis slaughter Carnera and I still believe Baer can take everything Joe offers without folding."

"I'll meet the winner of the Baer-Louis fight, probably next summer," said Braddock. "If it's Louis, which I doubt, I think I can outbox him. If it's Baer—well, I whipped Maxie once."

Earl Rady's 74 Wins in C. Y. O. Golf Tourney

Yesterday's round drew about 100 golfers who had failed to take part in the first day's play last Monday, when rain halted the tournament. In all, 242 laymen and priests competed in the two days' play.

Finishing behind Rady were Ed Kletcke, St. Barnabas parish, and Bill Zingheim, St. Celestine's, who were tied for second place with 75 each. The Rev. James P. Kiely, winner last year, tied for third with three others—Bob White, St. Barnabas; John Jordan, Visitation, and Tony Jaronik, Mother of God [Waukegan]—each with 76.

Low gross team honors went to St. Barnabas and St. Benedict's parishes, each with 319. Our Lady of Grace won the low net silver cup with 289.

MAX MARCUM'S 98 WINS JUNIOR U. S. SKEET TITLE

Cleveland, O., Aug. 26.—(AP)—A bunch of kids, all of them under 17 years of age, showed the best of the professionals how it's done today as the first three national championships in history were decided by the Skeet Shooters of America.

The women's championship went to Miss Esther Abbie Ingalls of Hot Springs, Va., 17 year old Bryn Mawr sophomore, whose 95 out of 100 was three ahead of the field.

H. C. Russell of Minneapolis, Minn., topped the professionals with 97 out of 100.

Gomez and Wilson Lead Winners.

Philadelphia, Pa., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The mad rush of the St. Louis Cardinals toward the National league pennant hit a snag today when the Phillies won the first of a three game series, 4 to 3. The world champions retained their half game advantage, however, as the Giants also lost.

Orville Jorgens, knocked out by the Reds yesterday, came back to hold the Cards to nine hits.

The Phillies scored first in the second inning, but the Cards came right back in the third to tie the score. The Phils counted again in the fourth, however, and then put over what proved to be the deciding runs in the sixth after the world champions had scored twice in their half of the inning. Jimmy Wilson's double and Gomez' single provided the first of Philadelphia's last two runs, and then Jorgens walked and Chiozza hit a double to score Gomez.

Traynor, leading a 15 hit attack on four pitchers, collected a home run with the bases full to send the Pirates away flying in the first inning, and then added four singles. He drove in six runs. Tom Padden and Forest Jensen also hit home runs.

Similar spots among the foreign players were allotted to the defending champion, Fred Perry of England, and his attractive compatriot, Kay Stammers, who has conquered both Miss Jacobs and Mrs. Helen Wills Moody this year.

In recognition of his showing in the Wimbledon and Davis cup events, red headed Donald Budge of Oakland, Cal., was seeded a notch below Allison, followed in order by Frank X. Shields and Sidney B. Wood of New York, Bryan M. Grant Jr. of Atlanta, Frank Parker of Milwaukee, Berkeley Bell of New York, Gregory S. Mangin of Newark, N. J.; John Van Ryn of Philadelphia, and Clifford Sutter of Detroit. Thus all members of the whitewashed Davis cup squad, with the exception of Gene Mako of Los Angeles, were placed on the preferred list.

SOX WIN IN 15TH, 9-8; THEN YANKS TAKE SECOND, 7-5

FIRST GAME

The White Sox got the bases full in the first inning of the first game, a situation from which they derived one run. Radcliff opened the home offensive with a single to center and hung on while Simmons and Piet knocked flies to Selkirk. Appling singled to center, Radcliff reaching third. Bonura walked, filling the bases, after which Dykes caromed a single off Saltzgaver's torso, Radcliff scoring.

The score became 4 to 0 in the third inning. Piet started things with a single to center, and Appling walked. Bonura bunted to Gomez, who threw the ball to the Yankee bull pen, Piet and Appling scoring and Bonura reaching second. Dykes fanned, and Conlan grounded out to Lazzeri, Bonura taking third. Sewell singled to right, scoring Bonura.

The Sox' fifth run was Simmons' No. 14 homer. It was made with one out in the fourth inning, and was an enormous smack into the middle of the upper deck in left.

The Yankees had made one and only one hit an inning in the first four sessions, the output being kept down somewhat on two brilliant plays and one supermaneuver by Piet. In the fifth the Yanks busted out of the ciphers with two runs. With one down Phelps walked Hill, who scored on Rolfe's double to the left field wall. Chapman fanned for the second out, but Gehrig lined a single to right, scoring Rolfe.

Trouble in Ninth.

Lazzeri walked after a three and two count to start the ninth inning. Simmons then made nice running catches of drives by Saltzgaver and Pinch Batter Ruffing. Phelps got two strikes past Hill, who then socked a double to the left field wall, Lazzari stopping at third. Phelps was yanked and Fischer took over the pitching assignment. Fischer promptly pitched a single to Rolfe, and Lazzeri and Hill trotted home with the tying runs.

Wyatt was the third Chicago pitcher. Hill greeted Wyatt by socking his first pitch for a single to center and moved to second on Rolfe's sacrifice. Chapman grounded out to Bonura, Hill taking third. Gehrig was given an intentional pass and stole second. Selkirk caromed a single off Appling, scoring Hill and Gehrig.

Wyatt was the Sox pitcher in the 13th. Hill greeted Wyatt by socking his first pitch of the game, and got to third on Bonura's double to right center. Dykes flied to Selkirk, whereupon Selkirk executed one of the classic bonehead errors of all time. With a cinch game ending double play to catch Bonura off second a few feet in front of him the Yankee right fielder threw the ball into the boxes a few feet to the third base side of the screen. This enabled Appling and Bonura to walk home with the tying runs. Conlan beat out a bunt for his third hit of the game. Sewell then lined a double to the right field corner, but Conlan was easily out at the plate as he tried to score the winning run, Selkirk to Gehrig to Dickey.

Gehrig Gets Another.

Chapman lined to Piet to start the 15th, but Gehrig knocked his second homer of the game, his third of the series, his seventh in a week, and his 26th of the year.

Appling walked to get the home 15th under way. Bonura beat out a high bouncer to Ryan. Ryan tried to force Appling, but his throw to Lazzeri was late. It was adjudged a single on the grounds that Bonura would have beaten the throw to first. The runners moved up on Dykes' sacrifice. Conlan was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Sewell grounded to Rolfe, who tried to launch a double play through Lazzeri. The play resulted in Conlan being forced at second, Appling scoring the tying run. Wyatt ran the count to three balls and two strikes and then Bonura stole home with the winning run as Wyatt was given a base on balls.

SECOND GAME

The second game was anti-climax from the start, at least in so far as the pitchers were concerned. Hill opened against Salveson with a single, after Rolfe had popped to Dykes, scored on Chapman's double to left. Gehrig also lined a double to left, scoring Chapman. Selkirk lined to Bonura and Gehrig was doubled off second on Bonura's toss to Appling.

Saltzgaver was the only Yankee to get a hit in the second inning, but the New Yorkers resumed their shelling in the third. Hill opened with his second single and went to third on Rolfe's single to center. Rolfe got to second on Simmons' throw to third. Chapman was called out on strikes and was so oratorical that Umpire Bill Dinneen sent him to the bathhouse. Gehrig was given an intentional pass, filling the bases. Then Selkirk singled to right, scoring Hill and Rolfe and putting Gehrig on third. Saltzgaver popped to Appling but Jorgens made the eighth hit off Salveson, Gehrig scoring and Selkirk taking third. Ryan struck out.

The Sox tied the score in their third and had the bases full when the session ended. Radcliff pushed off with a single and was forced by Simmons. Piet doubled to right center, Simmons scoring. Appling walked and Bonura popped to Ryan. Dykes singled to center, scoring Piet with the tying run and putting Appling on third. Dykes stole second and Conlan walked, filling the bases. Shea flied to Selkirk.

That Unlucky Seventh.

Hoag tripled to right to start the seventh and scored on Gehrig's single to right. Gehrig reaching second when Conlan fumbled the ball. Gehrig took third while Selkirk was bouncing out to Bonura. Saltzgaver walked. Dickey sent the desired double play ball to Appling, but Luke fumbled the ball long enough to lose the double play, though he recovered in time to toss to Piet, forcing Saltzgaver. Gehrig scored. Ryan forced Dickey.

ALLISON, VAN RYN WIN U. S. DOUBLES TITLE IN 5 SETS

Brookline, Mass., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Wilmer Allison and Johnny Van Ryn today gained their second national doubles championship by defeating the youngsters generally favored as their successors.

For the second time since the Davis cup disaster, Allison and Van Ryn engaged their young teammates from California, red-headed Don Budge and Gene Mako, and for the second time gained a five-set victory by scores of 6-4, 6-2, 3-6, 2-6, 6-1.

Mrs. Sarah Palfrey Fabyan of Brookline combined with Enrique Maier of Spain for a 6-3, 3-6, 6-4 mixed doubles victory over Kay Stammers of England and Roderick Menzel, Czechoslovakian star.

OLYMPIC TRACK BOARD MEMBERS TO MEET TODAY

Plans for the track and field tryouts for American athletes who will represent this country in the 1936 Olympic games in Germany will be discussed at a meeting of the national Olympic track committee this morning in the Sherman hotel.

Tryouts for membership on the American team will be held next spring. Three contestants will be selected for each event. The team will be composed of between 50 and 60 athletes.

Feldman Is Sure He'll Win from Christy

Lou Feldman of New York, lightweight stablemate of the division champion, Tony Canzoneri, arrived yesterday for his ten round bout with Jimmy Christy of the Catholic Youth organization at Mills stadium tomorrow night. Upon his arrival Feldman, who made the trip alone, placed his training under the supervision of Walter [Whitey] Ekwert.

Inasmuch as he has engaged in three combats since his eight round conquest of Mike [Little Pal] Primich of Indiana Harbor at Mills in July, he did only light exercises here yesterday. He whipped Joe Doherty last Friday. Previously he had beaten Pete Mascia and Joey Greb.

Loses Bout with Chocolate.

Feldman, whose heaviest poundage thus far has been 132½, expects to continue his winning ways at the expense of Christy, who is being groomed for a title scrap with Canzoneri. During his eight year ring career Lou has been given one opportunity to win a crown. That chance was given him about four years ago when the New York commission sanctioned a match between Kid Chocolate and Feldman as "for the featherweight championship of the world." This ruling was made after Bat Battalino came in at 136 pounds, 10 more than the required limit, for a title defense against Feldman. Bat was stripped of his crown by the New York body but it refused to consider Feldman's championship claims unless he first defeated Chocolate. Chocolate was awarded a 12 round technical knockout when Feldman was unable to continue because of face cuts.

Boxes Year as Amateur.

Feldman received his schooling as a boxer when in his early teens at the Hebrew Education Society gymnasium in New York. He boxed as an amateur for one year, quit his job in a house slipper factory and started boxing professionally.

James C. Mullen, joint matchmaker at Chicago Stadium with Nate Lewis, yesterday returned from a business trip to New York. He announced that with the exception of a six round match involving George Dixon II. and Baby Manuel, the card remains intact. Manuel, who left town after accepting the assignment, has been replaced against Dixon by Davey White, Madison Square loop gymnasium junior lightweight. Other matches on the card match Lew Massey with Holman Williams at ten rounds, Virgil Bemi with Milt Aron at six, and Al Nettlow with Sam Scoglio at four rounds. F. M.

MARINO HANDS CELEBRON HIS 2D PRO DEFEAT

Babe Marino, San Francisco, Cal., 152 pounds, last night handed Billy Celebron, Rockford, Ill., 147, his second defeat in three years by winning the decision in the ten round windup bout of the boxing show at Marigold Gardens.

Marino, a short stock fellow, was the aggressor from the start. Celebron landed rights to the jaw to pile up joints in the early rounds. Marino, the most important opponent the former International Golden Gloves champion has faced as a professional, took the lead in the fifth round.

TIGERS DEFEAT ATHLETICS, 13-7; THEN LOSE, 3 TO 2

Jimmy Foxx Hits Homer in Each Game.

Detroit, Mich., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The Philadelphia Athletics and the Detroit Tigers divided a double-header here today. The Tigers won the first game, 13 to 7, and Philadelphia took the second, 3 to 2.

Tommy Bridges, leading Detroit pitcher, hurled four hit ball in the second game, but errors by Owen and Rogell in the ninth let in two Philadelphia runs after Jimmy Foxx had hit his 28th home run of the season in the seventh inning. Foxx made his 27th in the first inning of the opener.

NEDROW PROVES OWNER WRONG; WINS STAKE PREP

Juvenile Regarded as Bum Steps Out.

BY FRENCH LANE.

Trainer Ben Jones and his boss, Tom Worden, of Chicago seldom make a mistake when they size up one of their own race horses, but they seem to have erred a bit on the 2 year old Nedrow, Worden spelled backward, earlier in the season.

In fact, away back in April, they thought he was a big bum. Instead of sending him into the Chicago racing district with the main division of their stable they relegated him to the scrubs and asked him to race against a lot of bad 2 year olds at the Riverside Park meeting in Kansas City.

When he won a race down there the trainer and his boss danced a jig. "We got something out of nothing," Worden remarked to his trainer. A few days later when Nedrow won again by the right snug margin of eight lengths, Owner Worden and Trainer Jones began to cast suspicious looks at one another.

Nedrow Moved to First Team.

It all indicated that Trainer Jones thought Owner Worden had misjudged the fast running son of Polymelian-Double Quick and that Owner Worden thought the same thing about Trainer Jones.

Nedrow was ordered to report to the regular team immediately in Chicago and he has been somewhat of a sensation ever since he came here. He has won three races and finished fourth in the Arlington Futurity which engaged the best two year olds in the land.

He topped off his Chicago campaign yesterday by winning the Silver Lake farm purse which engaged eight of the candidates for next Saturday's $5,000 Joliet handicap. Still Trainer Jones and Owner Worden didn't have much confidence in him. "We hope he will win," they told their friends.

Nedrow Stays in Front.

Nedrow never left much doubt about the final outcome. He dashed to the front in the first furlong and stayed there until he bowed to the judges. At different times Adolf, Nedrow's stable companion, Mansco, and Higher Cloud tried to run him down, but each challenge was turned back in a handy manner.

Nedrow was three-quarters of a length in front of Higher Cloud when the battle ended. Mansco finished third and Adolf was fourth.

The handy victory may send Nedrow to the post as the favorite in the Joliet. He ran the 5½ furlongs in 1:06 4-5. The Worden entry of Nedrow and Mansco was almost a prohibitive favorite in the betting. He paid off at $3.20 for a $2 ticket.

Clang and Myrtlewood, both holders of world's turf records, probably will meet in a 6½ furlongs match race at Lincoln Fields on Labor day, it was revealed yesterday.

Myrtlewood holds the world's record at six furlongs with a mark of 1:09 2-5. Clang is the world record holder at seven furlongs, having run the distance at Arlington Park in 1:22.

Col. Winn offered to let the two owners, Brownell Combs, the proprietor of Myrtlewood, and John F. Clark Jr., boss of Clang, fix all conditions as to distance, weights, etc. He merely suggested that 6½ furlongs might be best because this route splits the distances at which the two have demonstrated world record speed.

The race would be a secondary feature on the gala program of nine races planned for Lincoln Fields on Labor day afternoon. Both owners yesterday expressed willingness to start the two stars.

The annual objections to certain of the horses nominated for Hawthornes' $5,000 added Illinois handicap, on the ground that their owners are not bonafide residents of Illinois, as the conditions of the stake require, has already begun. Three of the 31 thoroughbreds named for the fixture —Sweeping Light, Late Date, and Bandalore—are expected to be declared ineligible shortly.

Sweeping Light was named by Ross Higdon, an Oklahoman. Late Date races in the silks of the Brentwood stable of Tennessee. Bandalore is owned by the Rosedale stable, and is likewise expected to be ruled ineligible.

There will be ample time for investigating all complaints in regard to the Illinois handicap, however, for that mile and sixteenth fixture is not scheduled for running until late in the Hawthorne meeting.

Ed Farris, secretary of the Arkansas State Racing commission, visited Lincoln Fields yesterday and picked up some pointers which he believes will help make the Hot Springs racing season next year bigger and better.

Mikel. Went to post at 2:15½. At post 2 minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily; place driving.

CHICKAHOMINY, going in his best form and displaying good speed from the start, came away fast after reaching stretch and had something in reserve. JASCHA, well up from the start and on inside early, bore out badly entering stretch and finished well when straight. STAR FLASH, sore, had speed, but faltered badly under pressure the last three-sixteenths.

MISS RITZ, a strong factor from the start and under mild restraint until reaching final quarter, stood light pressure gamely and, wearing down CLOSING TIME, won drawing out. Latter, much used in opening quarter, where he made up much ground, went to inside after taking command in stretch and weakened badly in last sixteenth. ENGELIC MONK, well up from the start, saved ground where possible and held on well in an improved effort.

Winner trained by M. W. Buck. Went to post at 3:19. At post 5 minutes. Start good from Bahr gate. Won easily; place driving.

THISTLE RESS, making her first start and stoutly restrained while forcing the pace, took command quickly when called upon and easily held UNCLE FRED safe. Latter, away fast but unable to keep up and forced to race wide throughout, bettered his position steadily the final five-sixteenths, but did not menace the winner. COUNT RAE, sore, was under slight restraint for five-eighths and rallied mildly before faltering.

*Field. Time, :23 3-5, :47 1-5, 1:13 4-5. Two dollar mutuels paid: Mintogee, $38.00 straight, $19.60 place, $8.40 show; Irish Wake, $6.40 place, $4.40 show; Shalot, $4.00 show. Winner trained by M. D. Livingston. Went to post at 3:50. At post 1 minute. Start bad from Bahr gate. Won driving; place same.

MINTOGEE, on inside throughout and having the most speed, easily increased her margin on stretch turn, but weakened badly the last sixteenth and just lasted. IRISH WAKE, forced to lose ground, but never a great distance back, closed well and was wearing down the winner. SHALOT, away poorly, improved his position steadily and finished fastest of all.

FIFTH RACE—Five and one-half furlongs. Purse $1,000. Net value to winner, $700; second, $200; third, $75; fourth, $25.

NEDROW displayed fine speed from the start, came away under light urging soon after reaching stretch and won with something left. HIGHER CLOUD, on inside throughout and slightly forced back on stretch turn, closed determinedly under strong handling. MANSCO, probably best and a strong factor from start, raced wide throughout and was eased near end, costing him second.

BORN HAPPY set a fast pace under restraint, sustained fine speed following a brisk shaking up soon after reaching stretch and was again taken under restraint in the last seventy yards. NAVANOD, badly outrun for five-eighths, improved his position thereafter and wore down COTTON CLUB in closing strides. The latter under steadying restraint for five-eighths, secured room on inside in stretch and stood a drive gamely.

Winner trained by J. Hanover. Went to post at 5:27. At post 1 minute. Start good. Won driving; place same.

BONNIE PRINCESS, taken back repeatedly to follow the pace the first three-quarters, raced between horses when going to front and won drawing clear. BROTHER LOU, well in hand for half a mile, raced wide thereafter and stood a drive courageously, but could not hold the winner. CHICASHA weakened after reaching the final eighth.

Winner trained by E. E. Irby. Went to post at 5:56; off at once. Start good. Won driving; place same.

PLAYSICKLE forced the early pace under light restraint, took command gradually approaching stretch and weakened in final eighth, but stalled off DONNIE W. The latter, reserved off the pace and saving much ground, closed well under occasional light pressure. BEGINNER'S BAIT had speed from the start, lost much ground entering stretch and came again while racing near middle of track thereafter.

CCC Worker Hit by Pitched Ball, Dies Later

William Rutledge, 21 years old, of Civilian Conservation corps, camp No. 1,563, at Dunes park, near Chesterton, Ind., was killed yesterday in a baseball game between the camp team and Cook's Beer team of Hammond, at Pulaski field, south of Gary. Rutledge, who was batting, was hit over the heart by a ball pitched by Joseph Grochowski, 20 years old, 1901 Virginia street, Hammond, and died a short time later at Mercy hospital. Grochowski was charged with involuntary manslaughter and released on his own recognizance.

JAPANESE BUILD UP HUGE COTTON CENTER IN CHINA

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

TSINGTAO, China, Aug. 26.—Little does the American cotton planter realize that the bale of cotton which he produced and sold to Japan ultimately found its way to this Chinese port, where it was mixed with Chinese cotton and converted into cloth which was loaded on a Japanese ship and sent back half way around the world to be sold in the markets of Latin America in competition with cloth produced in American mills.

The Japanese are able to perform this remarkable feat because of two special conditions: First, government subsidized steamship lines; second, and most important, cheap Chinese labor.

Girls Work in Mills.

The writer arrived in Tsingtao on one of the Chinese government's new Douglas air liners and as the plane circled over this Shantung port, it was possible to observe numerous long lines of workers, mostly Chinese girls and young women wearing brightly colored garments, walking into mill compounds. It was late afternoon and the night shift was going to work.

I was told that there are 30,000 of these girls working in Japanese mills here and the highest pay for the rank and file does not exceed 40 Chinese cents a day, equivalent to about 17 cents in American money at present [abnormally high] rates of exchange. The majority of the laborers receive much less. There is no labor trouble here because there is a seemingly endless supply of girls available for mill work. They arrive in Tsingtao from the densely populated interior on every train. The municipality, largely under Japanese domination, can scarcely build tenements fast enough to house them.

Taught by Missionaries.

When the American and German missionaries first arrived in Shantung a third of a century ago, they taught the Chinese women to make drawnwork and fine laces which became world famous. The fine threads used were the products of New England and Manchester, England, mills. Today the mass production of these Shantung women, working 10 hour shifts in Japanese mills, appears in the form of bolts of cotton goods on the shelves of stores in the Philippines, Netherlands Indies, Latin American, and Africa.

The Japanese cotton industrialists of Osaka are developing an auxiliary cotton manufacturing base here which promises to become one of the most important in the world, a development which is likely to have far-reaching repercussions on cotton economics throughout the world.

Echo of World War.

Like most Japanese commercial activities on the Asiatic coast it had a military beginning. In 1914 shortly following the outbreak of the great war, a Japanese fleet steamed across the Yellow sea and in coöperation with a land force defeated the little German garrison and took over Tsingtao. The Germans had taken the place away from China 16 years earlier because bandits had killed two German missionaries in the interior of the province. The Germans did little more than build an attractive city; the Japanese built cotton mills and they kept on building them until they now have eight large ones in operation with two more in process of construction.

Cotton manufacturing is the most important because the mild climate and moist air about Kiaochow bay is favorable, labor is cheap and the port is only two or three days sailing from southern Japanese ports and naval bases. The number of spindles in operation exceeds 1,000,000 and the number of looms nears 500,000. The Japanese investment in cotton mills here approximates yen 150,000,000.

STOCKS RESUME ADVANCE AFTER WEEK-END DROP

Steel, Utility, Motor Shares Lead Rise.

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—The stock market provided a pleasant surprise for traders today with a rapid recovery from Saturday's sinking spell. Under the leadership of the steel, utility, and motor shares the entire list pushed into higher ground, with gains running from major fractions to 2 points in the main body of stocks.

After the sharp break of Saturday the street was prepared for a dismal day as the new week opened. Trading later in the morning belied the mood, however, and stocks were steady. The good tone was attributed to buying for investment account, with most of the speculative element perched on the side lines. This was reflected in the day's turnover of 1,455,000 shares.

Little News to Affect Market.

As far as news was concerned, there was little or none likely to influence prices. Postponement of adjournment by congress was regarded as a bear point. Markets, according to the speculative fraternity, are always nervous as long as congress is in session, seeing in the sittings an opportunity, even up to the last minute, to spend more money or to do something likely to be harmful to business.

U. S. Steel recovered to within ⅛ of its best price for the year and the closing gong found it with a gain of over a point. Bethlehem and Otis also gained more than a point. Jones & Laughlin finished at 16⅞, a new high, and National Steel was 1¾ points above its previous closing. The Italo-Ethiopian dispute was held to have played a part in pushing these shares upward, but much of the buying in this division was attributed to investment buying.

Utilities Gain Slightly.

Disappointment over the house's surrender to the compromise sentence on utility holding companies was in evidence at the opening of the session, when several blocks of utility shares changed hands at slightly lower prices. The group firmed up later, however, most issues edging fractionally higher. Federal Light, Columbia Gas, and North American set the pace with gains of more than a point.

Auburn was buoyant in the automobile division, adding 2¾ points to its value. Chrysler was another strong spot, along with Hudson and Mack. General Motors gained a fraction.

Du Pont was a feature, climbing 4¼ points to enter new high territory. Allied Chemical was another chemical issue to do something worth while, gaining over $2.25.

MOTOR SHARES ARE ACTIVE ON CHICAGO BOARD

Activity in motor shares was the bright spot in an otherwise dull trading session on the Chicago Stock exchange yesterday. Houdaille B rose to a new high of 20¾ and closed at 20 for a gain of more than a point in a 4,850 share turnover. Bendix also was active, closing a half point higher, while Borg-Warner advanced more than half a point. Cord advanced from 4 to 4¾ in a good turnover.

Noblitt Sparks closed at a new high of 21⅝. The only other new 1935 mark yesterday was made by National Battery preferred. National Gypsum fell back from its new top of Saturday during active trading. More than 5,000 shares of Cities Service changed hands in a showing of strength. The sharpest drop of the day was a three point loss by St. Louis National Stockyards.

Utilities were the soft spot of the market. Commonwealth Edison held steady at 81⅞, but Public Service common slumped 2 points. A sale of a block of 25,000 shares sent the speculative Middle West Utilities market down to ⅛ but later sales were made at ¼.

DEATH OF WILLYS MAY COMPLICATE REORGANIZATION

Toledo, O., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The death of John N. Willys, founder and president of the Wllys-Overland company, is expected to affect seriously the reorganiation of the company which now is in progress. Last April plans were begun to reorganie the concern, now in the hands of a receiver, and resume operations in a small way. Willys, it is understood, was to put up a large sum, reported at $1,500,000, and to have a prominent part in rebuilding the company.

Willys suffered a stroke of apoplexy May 4, while attending the Kentucky Derby, and reorganization plans were held in abeyance pending recovery of his health. Federal Judge George P. Hahn early this month, in granting the Willys-Overland company permission to manufacture 10,000 more cars, ordered the reorganization must take place at once.

Standard Brands Reduces Dividend to 20c Quarterly

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Standard Brands, Inc., today reduced the dividend on the common stock with the declaration of a quarterly disbursement of 20 cents, payable Oct. 1 to holders of record Sept. 5. This places the issue on an 80 cent annual basis, against $1 previously.

New Bank Act Is Socialistic in Control Power

[This is the first of a series of three articles analyzing the provisions of the new banking act of 1935. This article concerns itself with title I of the act, or those provisions relating to deposit insurance. Succeeding articles will treat titles II and III.]

BY HOWARD WOOD.

PROF. WILLIS.

In the heated controversy over title II of the new banking act, relating to extension of government control over the federal reserve banks and bank credit generally, the socialistic potentialities of title I have been almost entirely ignored and are only now beginning to be realized by bankers themselves.

"The insurance of deposits system is to become a plan of direct oversight and government interference and participation in banking, that, taken in connection with the federal reserve system and its membership requirements, will develop the tightest and most extreme system of banking supervision and control that exists perhaps in any country of the world, certainly the tightest ever existing in the United States," says Dr. H. Parker Willis, noted economist, who was the first secretary of the federal reserve board.

Doubts System Worth Cost.

"We might well wonder whether any such system is worth its cost; and its cost will be heavy, not merely in direct assessments, but also in abridgment of business liberty and freedom to carry on ordinary banking operations necessary or useful to the community."

While the battle between Senator Carter Glass and Marriner S. Eccles, New Deal governor of the federal reserve board, was raging over the provisions of title II of the act little attention was paid to the provisions of title I, and yet in title I those interests which have been struggling for years to squeeze most of the banks in the country into a centralized, federally dominated reserve system have met with success for the first time.

Forces Banks to Join Reserve.

It provides that any state bank with deposits of one million dollars or more must join the federal reserve system by 1941 or resign from membership in the federal deposit insurance corporation. This is calculated to force 2,500 state banks into the reserve system by 1941.

Other provisions of title I provide for the strictest supervision over the policies and actual management of banks belonging to the FDIC. Rigid examinations are provided for, with great discretionary powers left to the FDIC examiners. Mergers are made difficult. And in the event of failure of an insured member bank the FDIC is given the power to reopen the bank as a government institution. Such "government banks" may be converted later into privately owned institutions, but there is nothing in the law to limit their continued operation by the government.

Greater Safety May Be Fallacy.

On the face of it the provisions for the permanent insurance, together with strict supervision and control over banks, would seem to be on the side of safety and a good thing.

No less an authority than Leo T. Crowley, chairman of the FDIC, himself, however, last week exposed the fallacy of the insurance scheme by pointing out that the assessments on insured banks—1/12 of 1 per cent per annum—would be less than half the amount necessary to cover future bank failures, pointing to banking experience since the civil war as basis for his statement. He also pointed out that the mere fact that banks are insured is tending to weaken the banks by lulling caution to sleep and increasing local pressure on banks to make riskier loans.

Bank Operations Hindered.

As for the value of the increased supervision over bank operations by the FDIC only time will tell. There is no doubt that the additional red tape will hinder bank operations, but there is no assurance that the examiners will keep the banks out of foolhardy commitments any more than do present state and national bank examiners. If experience of the FDIC office in Chicago is any criterion the FDIC examiners will be appointees chosen politically by precinct captains and other party leaders who are more interested in finding jobs than in providing the FDIC with experienced bank examiners. Such political appointees are not capable of analyzing the condition of banks, as are national bank examiners.

The new banking act says nothing about possible ultimate liabilities of the FDIC in the event that in the future the funds in the hands of the FDIC are insufficient to meet ultimate liabilities, as Crowley himself says they will be.

Boost Assessment or Use Taxes.

One of two things will have to happen. Either the assessments will have to be increased, thus further draining sound banks to cover the sins of poorly or fraudulently managed banks, or the taxpayers will have to foot the bill. The act directs the secretary of the treasury to "buy" up to 250 millions of the FDIC'S obligations if funds are needed "for insurance purposes."

Even at the start the big metropolitan banks are penalized for the advantage of the small country institutions. Having many large depositors, the total deposits of the big banks are covered to a lesser extent than are the deposits of small banks, the bulk of whose individual deposits are under the $5,000 maximum. And yet every member bank is assessed

Four Chicago Hotels Seek to Reorganize

A bill for reorganization of the Hotel Sherman, Ambassador Hotel West, Ambassador Hotel East, the Fort Dearborn hotel, and the College Inn Food Products company was filed in the United States District court last night for the Hotel Sherman company by the law firm of Sonnenschein, Berkson, Lautmann, Levinson & Morse.

The bill sets forth that creditors of the five properties have claims in excess of $10,000,000 and that securities issued against the properties have been deposited by more than 6,000 investors in all parts of the country.

It was stated in the bill that the claims consist of a number of separate bond issues, claims for merchandise, unsecured claims and notes. According to the attorneys the plan of reorganization has been approved by a number of hondholders' protective committees.

New Corporations Planned.

The plan provides that the Hotel Sherman and garage and the Ambassador Hotel West be transferred to a new corporation to be known as the Sherman corporation, and that the Ambassador Hotel East be transferred to a corporation to be known as the East corporation.

Under the plan the capitalization of the new Sherman corporation will include a first mortgage 5 per cent bond issue amounting to $5,978,625, and 145,000 shares of common stock with no par value. The Sherman corporation will own 80 per cent of the stock of the College Inn Food Products company and will also own a substantial amount of stock of subsidiary corporations. The new corporation also would own the cash and other assets of the Hotel Sherman.

Other Provisions of Plan.

The plan provides the new corporation will own a contract for the management of the Fort Dearborn hotel if satisfactory arrangements can be made. It will also have a management contract with warants evidencing the right to purchase a majority of shares of common stock of the East corporation under certain terms and conditions.

The new bonds will mature in twenty years. Annual net income of the properties involved would be used to provide the Sherman corporation with operating funds and would be used to pay interest on the 5 per cent bonds. If there is any balance after the interest requirements are met 50 per cent of it will be used to retire the bonds.

REPORTS RFC THREAT TO LIFT INTEREST RATE

Federal Judge James H. Wilkerson yesterday authorized the payment of $210,000 owed by the Chicago, Milwaukee, St. Paul and Pacific Railroad company as interest on an $11,500,000 Reconstruction Finance corporation loan.

The authorization was given only after a lengthy argument, during which Attorney O. Q. Dynes, counsel for the road, told the court that the RFC had threatened to raise the interest rate on the loan from 4 to 6 per cent unless the interest was paid.

The RFC has the power to increase the rate of interest on outstanding loans where the interest is in default. The added interest rate, if imposed, would have cost the road an additional $195,000 a year. The court's jurisdiction over the road arises from the St. Paul's petition to reorganize under section 77 of the federal bankruptcy act.

Judge Wilkerson also authorized the road to pay its annual rental of $1,000,000 for lease of the property of Chicago, Terre Haute and Southeastern Railway company.

GOVERNOR OF GEORGIA ORDERS LEGAL FIGHT ON AAA COTTON TAX

Atlanta, Ga., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Gov. Eugene Talmadge, foe of the Roosevelt administration, today requested Attorney General M. J. Yeomans to seek a court injunction against the AAA's 6 cents a pound tax on cotton that is ginned in excess of a farmer's individual allotment.

Talmadge said he hoped the governors of all cotton growing states "will take similar action today." He advised farmers not to pay the tax.

"Pick your cotton out and hold it until this matter can be determined before the proper tribunal," was his advice to cotton growers.

Expressing the opinion the tax is unconstitutional, the governor said it was "unreasonable and practically means confiscation of property," adding that it affects the welfare of the cotton belt.

Yeomans said: "I have not had time to study the matter, but no time will be lost in filing the suit."

DEALER IN OIL ROYALTIES WINS SEC SKIRMISH

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—J. Edward Jones, oil royalty specialist, today was the victor in another legal skirmish with the securities and exchange commission, with which he has been involved in litigation for several months.

Judge Augustus N. Hand of the Circuit Court of Appeals late yesterday signed an order granting a stay of all proceedings brought against Jones by the SEC pending his appeal. The court directed the SEC to show cause Sept. 5 why the stay should not be made permanent pending determination by the Circuit Court of Appeals on the appeal taken by Jones.

Jones filed a registration statement in May with the SEC. Upon being questioned by the commission on data contained in the statement, Jones sought to withdraw it. The SEC opposed his move. The commission then obtained an order from Judge Caffey requiring Jones to appear before it for questioning.

Trade Better Than Usual in Midwest

Wholesale trade lines in the Seventh federal reserve district during July recorded either less than seasonal declines or contra-seasonal gains over the preceding month, and department store sales were seasonably below June, the Chicago Federal Reserve bank announced yesterday. However, both wholesale and department store trade registered the largest gains so far this year over 1934.

The general improvement in wholesale trade followed a rather unfavorable June. During July electrical supply and hardware sales rose 5 and 6 per cent, respectively, over the preceding month, contrary to the normal trend.

Some Large Gains Shown.

The largest gains for the year over a year ago were as follows: Electrical supplies, 35 per cent; hardware, 28 per cent; drugs, 21 per cent, and groceries, 16 per cent.

Department store sales for the Seventh district as a whole were 26 per cent, or normally below those of June, and were 12½ per cent higher than in July, last year.

Declines from June were as follows: Indianapolis, 18 per cent; Milwaukee, 21 per cent; Detroit, 26 per cent; Chicago, 29 per cent, and smaller cities, 26 per cent. While Chicago department stores recorded a far smaller gain over a year ago than that shown by other centers, it must be remembered that Chicago stores were experiencing better trade in 1934 and 1933 due to the heavy influx of World's Fair visitors, the review said.

Trade Better than Year Ago.

Gains in July over a year ago were as follows: Indianapolis, 25 per cent; Detroit, 17 per cent; Milwaukee, 13 per cent; Chicago, 6 per cent, and smaller cities, 18 per cent. Indianapolis is also leading other cities in improvement for the first seven months of the year over 1934, the rise there amounting to 12 per cent, compared with a gain of about 6 per cent in other cities in the Seventh district.

Sales of new passenger cars in the district declined normally during July, wholesale trade being off 7 per cent and retail sales 15 per cent. Compared with a year ago, the number of cars sold at wholesale rose 63 per cent and those at retail 25 per cent. The number of used cars sold increased 1.4 per cent over June and 42 per cent over July, 1934.

FEWER BUSINESS FAILURES ARE REPORTED BY DUN

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Business failures for the week ended Aug. 22 were fewer than in the previous week and the like 1934 period, totaling 198, against 203 and 218, respectively, Dun & Bradstreet, Inc., reported today.

Declines in the east and south areas provided most of the drop with the west and Pacific coast sections reporting a gain in retail insolvencies. Insolvencies with liabilities of $5,000 or more in each instance numbered 115 for the last week, compared with 106 in the preceding period and 143 a year ago.

FEDERAL FARM CO-OP. REPORTS $250,000 LOSS

Huff Blames Foreign Grain Imports.

The Farmers National Grain corporation had a loss of "a little less than $250,000" in the fiscal year ended last June 30, it was learned yesterday with the appearance of the first issue of the Co-op Reporter, an eight page tabloid size sheet, which is to be the official publication of the corporation.

C. E. HUFF.

The information was sent out to stockholders and directors in a letter written July 27 by C. E. Huff, president of the coöperative, but was not made known to the public until yesterday.

In explaining the losses Huff pointed to the "handicap of short crops and unfavorable conditions." He said that the presence of imported grain at all coastal points during January, February, and March made sales of American grain practically impossible, and caused a decline in premiums during a period in which they normally would have advanced.

Cause by AAA and Drouth.

The 1934 crops were reduced by Agricultural Adjustment administration policies and the drouth, thus inviting foreign grains into the United States and contributing materially to the loss. The imported grain competed with Farmers National stocks, it was explained, when premiums would be expected to advance.

Huff said competition of imported grain cut the price level at the seaboard to a point below that in production areas plus freight to the coast. None of last year's losses can be charged to stabliztaion activities because the corporation had no business transactions with the old Grain Stabilization corporation for two years, he said.

A report of the government's losses through the stabilization body has just been filed by the senate agricultural committee in Washington, D. C., asserting that the Farmers National made huge profits by acting as commission agents for the stabilization corporation.

Unconcerned Over Loss.

Huff did not express concern over the $250,000 loss of the coöperative last year, and said it is reasonable to expect substantial and steady profits if grain crops approach normal.

"If we had bought from producers the volume of grain we handled last year at ¼ cent a bushel less and sold it for ¼ cent a bushel higher than we did," he said, "we would have had a satisfactory profit instead of a loss."

"Grave disappointment" at the loss was expressed, however, in the report yesterday in the Co-op Reporter. Hope had been held that there would be no loss, if not a gain.

Approximately 70 per cent of the corporation's 90,000,000 bushel business last year was in handling grain delivered direct from producers. Losses for the year ended June 30, 1934, were more than $662,000. In July and August of last year, however, a net profit of some $683,000 was made.

Owe Government 14 Millions.

The Farmers National Grain corporation owed the government on June 30, 1935, $14,270,334.86, having paid $2,025,058.72 since the signing of the funding agreement with the federal government on Nov. 1, 1933.

The interrelationship between the Farmers National and the stabilization corporation, which made possible large profits for the former, was condemned in the senate report.

The report estimated that actual prospective losses to the revolving fund of 500 millions, which congress created in 1929, amounted to $344,900,000 on June 30, 1935. This is equivalent to 69 cents on the dollar of principal which has been eaten away.

"Inexperience, extravagance, avarice, and in a few cases dishonesty on the part of officials and employés of some of the coöperatives increased these losses," the senate reported.

AAA Expends 807 Millions in Last Year

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—The AAA reported today that its expenditures totalled $807,686,134 during the fiscal year ended last June 30. The administration also announced that funds available were $960,334,220, leaving a balance of $152,466,086 which was carried over into the new fiscal year.

Rental and benefit payments to farmers under contracts in five commodity adjustment programs were $563,438,812. Other expenditures were: Removal of surpluses and conservation of surpluses, $12,591,001; drought relief, food conservation and disease eradication, $148,520,819; trust fund operations, $13,704,070; administrative expenses, $38,583,642; tax refunds, $30,292,782, and disbursement expenses, $737,005.

Trust Fund Operations Explained.

The trust fund operations included distribution of payments to farmers who pooled excess cotton tax-exemption certificates, and to farmers cooperating in a rice marketing agreement.

Funds carried over from the fiscal year ended June 30, 1934, included $71,572,151 in processing tax collections, and $281,565,270 in appropriations and trust funds. During the first 11 months of the last fiscal year, additional funds available were $111,924,702 in appropriations and trust funds, and $495,272,096 in processing tax collections.

June Taxes Nearly 31 Millions.

The AAA said final statistics were not available on processing tax collections for June, 1935, but that the total should be "approximately $30,950,261."

Rental and benefit payments were divided as follows: Cotton, $116,195,930; wheat, $98,223,175; Tobacco, $28,767,914; corn-hogs, $302,407,647, and sugar, $17,844,145.

GOLD IN LONDON SELLS LOWEST SINCE NOVEMBER

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Gold sold in London today at a lower price than at any time since November, 1934. The quotation was down 1 penny to 139 shillings 10½ pence an ounce. Silver prices also eased.

The weakness of the French franc against the pound, closing today at 75.18 francs to the pound in London, indicated a continued flow of capital seeking safety from the continent in England. Reports of heavy purchases by Italy of war materials in England, coupled with the declining gold reserve of the Bank of Italy, also suggested to foreign exchange authorities the offering of large quantities of gold by Mussolini's machine the world market.

The decline in silver amounted to ¼ cent to 65⅝ cents an ounce for imported metal in New York, and in London to 29 pence, equivalent to 65.03 cents, off ⅛ penny.

The pound closed in New York at $4.98⅛, up ½ cent. The franc closed at 6.62½, up ⅛, reducing the value of the dollar to $1.0013, compared with $1.0015 Saturday. The lira closed here at 8.20, up 1 point. A week ago it opened at 8.22 and the previous Saturday had been 8.24½. The guilder closed at 67.81, down 4, and the Swiss franc at 32.70, off 2 points.

New York, Aug. 26.—[Special.]—The United States treasury today notified depository banks throughout the country that on Thursday it would withdraw $40,326,700 of its deposits. This is the first call for repayment of deposits that has been issued by the treasury in a number of weeks.

CHICAGO POWER 'POOL' RECEIVES RECORD ORDER

Supplies Electricity for Steel Plant.

BY PHILIP HAMPSON.

The American Sheet and Tin Plate company will operate its plant at Gary, Ind., which it is expanding and modernizing at a cost of $20,000,000, with electricity furnished from the Chicago district "pool of power," greatest reservoir of electrical power in the country, it was disclosed yesterday. Action of the steel company in buying its electrical power is said to be noteworthy because that concern in the past has manufactured its own electricity.

It was disclosed that American Sheet and Tin Plate—a subsidiary of the United States Steel corporation—recently signed a contract for electricity with the Northern Indiana Public Service company. This transaction was described yesterday as being "probably the largest individual industrial contract" ever to be made in the Chicago area.

Draw On Pool Output.

Northern Indiana Public Service will draw upon the electrical output of the Commonwealth Edison company, the Public Service Company of Northern Illinois and the Western United Gas and Electric company to help meet demands of the steel company. It is estimated that the steel company will consume about 100 million kilowatt hours a years.

It is provided in the contract that 25,000 kilowatts of power, equivalent to about 33,000 horsepower, be kept available for the operation of the plant. Electric company officials said yesterday it is possible that even a large amount of power will be taken by the steel company.

The power contract will add several hundred thousand dollars of income annually to the Chicago area utility companies, it was estimated. The Chicago companies will not have to enlarge their generating plants, nor will the cost of instaling equipment to carry the power to the steel company's property amount to much, electric company officials said.

Admired by Steinmetz.

The great Chicago power pool, which won the admiration of the late Charles P. Steinmetz, electrical wizard, was conceived and put under construction a considerable number of years ago. It now embraces companies located in a triangular area in which Waukegan marks one point, Michigan City, the second and Powerton, near Pekin, Ill., the third. The greatest power producing plant in this district is the Commonwealth Edison's Crawford avenue plant, although ultimately the Powerton plant will have a greater capacity.

Electricity company officials said that the flexibility of the Chicago power pool will be one of the contributing factors expected to make the Chicago area the greatest steel producing district in the world. They said that the system of high power transmission wires and the hook up between the various plants in the pool make it possible to transfer at a moment's notice power to any section should one plant fail.

STOCK AND BOND TRADING IN JULY NEAR 1½ BILLION

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Securities valued at $1,421,826,055 were sold on the country's 21 registered exchanges during July, marking a sharp increase in trading over June, the Securities and Exchange commission announced today. Daily sales in July averaged $54,685,613, compared with $51,065,282 during June.

Increased activity in stocks accounted for all of the increase in trading during July. The values of bonds traded fell off. Stock sales amounted to $1,138,644,274, an increase of 15.3 per cent. Bond sales were valued at $283,146,177, a decrease of 2.1 per cent.

Total sales of stock in July were 48,695,761 shares, or 16.4 per cent above June's figure. Total par value of bonds sold was $353,193,750, a decrease of 3.7 per cent. The two leading New York exchanges accounted for 95.4 per cent of the value of total stock and bond sales on the registered exchanges.

Exchange Seats in Demand.

New York, Aug. 24.—[Special.]—Stimulated by the upturn in stock prices and volume of trading, turnover of memberships in the New York Stock exchange this year already totals 53 against 68 for all of 1934. Observers predict that if volume continues to average 1,750,000 shares per day the number of seats sold in 1935 may closely approach the 1933 mark of 92.

This means that an increasing number of fledgling members are finding it worth their trouble to undergo a complicated initiation which tests the determination of a man to become a broker on the exchange. Back of the exchange's brief formal announcement of the transfer of a seat lies an induction process which has appalled more than one applicant.

Describe Routine.

The candidate for admission files a written bid for a seat with the office of the secretary of the exchange, which is the administrative center of the exchange. If his bid is accepted, the buyer meets the seller and deposits 20 per cent of the purchase price—about $32,000 at current membership values. Next he files with the secretary the names of two members of the exchange who sponsor his candidacy and several letters of recommendation. Finally he appears before the fifteen governors who compose the committee on admission, two of whom are named as a sub-committee to investigate the applicant's fitness.

MORE INFLATION URGED AS AID TO COMMODITIES

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—(AP)—Senator Thomas [Dem., Okla.] in an open letter to President Roosevelt today contended the cotton-wheat loan controversy reflected the demand of producers for a higher price level which could be produced by cheapening the dollar. He advanced three methods for meeting the "demand." This, he said, can be accomplished by further devaluation of the gold content of the dollar, by a wider use of silver, or by the expansion of the currency "through the exercise of powers already in your hands."

Thomas told newsmen the dollar today was worth $1.25, compared with the dollar of 1926, and added that was the primary cause of the demands for cotton and wheat loans to peg the prices of those commodities.

Keeshin Company to Buy Much New Equipment.

Operation of the Keeshin Transcontinental Freight lines, nation-wide coordinated motor transport organization now being formed around the Keeshin Motor Express company of Chicago, is expected to be in full swing by the middle of October.

This was revealed yesterday by J. L. Keeshin, head of the new concern, following his arrival from New York, where final details of the plan were worked out last week between Keeshin and John Hertz, a partner of Lehman Brothers, bankers.

Present equipment of the Chicago concern, numbering about 520 trucks and trailers, is expected to be swelled to 2,500 units when the plan gets into full operation. This will be accomplished, Keeshin said, through purchase of new equipment and acquisition of other trucking concerns.

Trucks Make Test Run.

Trucks of the company left Chicago yesterday on a test run to New York to check on costs and time involved compared with railroad costs. The new concern, patterned somewhat after transcontinental bus systems, hopes to tie in operations with six or seven leading railroads, offering shippers a complete truck-rail service. Keeshin said his concern would cöoperate with any line wishing to install the service.

At present the Chicago organization has a working agreement with the Rock Island lines whereby a single rate is charged for shipment of trailers, based on two trailers to a flat car. The motor executive said this arrangement is expected to bring approximately $800,000 worth of business to the Rock Island this year.

Plan Truck-Rail Service.

It is planned to offer regular truck-rail service to Minneapolis and St. Paul and another to St. Louis as soon as necessary arrangements can be worked out.

Another tentative plan, which Keeshin said would be of particular interest to Chicago shippers, is one offering fifth morning delivery of shipments to the Pacific coast. At present, he said, most consignments arrive on the seventh morning. Under his proposal the five day schedule could be put into effect and still allow the railroads seventy-two hours for the haul.

Acquisition of new trucking companies to swell the present organization will be made on a cash basis, Keeshin said. No stock will be offered.

LARD DECLINES ON GENERAL SELLING AND LOW DEMAND

Selling of September and October lard futures yesterday, credited to trade interests, carried prices off readily, while scattered commission houses sold the distant deliveries. There was a noticeable lack of aggressive demand despite reports indicating a slight improvement in shipping orders. Closing trades were at the bottom with net losses of 12½ to 30 cents. Clear bellies [salt pork] closed unchanged.

Somewhat larger receipts of hogs and lower prices at the stockyards had some effect on sentiment. Despite the heavy increase in the use of lard substitutes, stocks of lard at leading packing centers are said to be slowly decreasing owing to the extremely small output of the latter. At the close yesterday September lard was $15.40, the lowest level since Aug. 6 and compared with the high point of the season, $17.75, which was established Aug. 17. Cash, loose and leaf lard were quoted at $16 and bellies at $19.25 per 100 pounds. Prices in dollars per 100 pounds follow:

STEEL INSTITUTE PREDICTS DECLINE IN WEEK'S OUTPUT

Despite earlier predictions in some quarters of a further advance in steel operations, the American Iron and Steel institute estimated yesterday that production this week will show a decline of nine-tenths of one per cent to 47.9 per cent of capacity. Last week's production, according to the institute's index, was 48.8 per cent of capacity as compared with the rate of 44 per cent a month ago and 19.1 per cent a year ago.

If the institute's prediction is realized it will mark the first break in the steady rise in production which has been under way since the first week in July, when the industry was operating at 32.8 per cent of capacity.

The week-end trade reviews had predicted an increase in demand for steel and this week's recession is regarded as temporary.

NEW BANK BILL IS SOCIALISTIC IN CONTROL POWER

Deposit Plans Lead to Dictatorship.

one-twelfth of 1 per cent per annum on its total deposits, not on the amount of its insured deposits.

Guarantee on Deposits Lowered.

Under the banking act of 1933 a permanent deposit guaranty plan was provided for whereby individual deposits up to $10,000 would be guaranteed in full, deposits of $10,000 to $50,000 would be 75 per cent guaranteed, and deposits in excess of $50,000 would be guaranteed 50 per cent by the FDIC. This plan would have gone into effect automatically July 1 of this year had not a temporary 60 day suspension been voted by congress.

The provisions of title I of the 1935 banking act, just passed by congress, now supersede the permanent plan provided for in the 1933 banking act, providing for the $5,000 maximum guaranty on all deposits. All authorities were agreed that the bigger guaranties provided for in the 1933 act, passed in the period of turmoil following the bank moratorium, would have been suicidal.

Government Furnishes Capital.

The capital of the FDIC is to consist of such part of the 150 million dollars subscribed by the federal government and such part of the funds expropriated by law from the twelve federal reserve banks—amounting to 139 million dollars—as has been paid in when the act takes effect. The remainder is subject to call on ninety days notice.

Banks that belonged to the "temporary" guaranty system in effect since 1933 automatically become members under the permanent plan. In the future every new national bank authorized to commence business, every state bank converting into a national bank, and every state bank becoming a member of the reserve system must join the FDIC.

Must Agree to Assessments.

An insured state bank, not a member of the reserve system, which does not file, prior to Oct. 1, 1935, a certified statement to make payment of assessments as required, ceases to be an insured bank on Aug. 31, 1935.

Banks not belonging to the federal reserve system may join the FDIC upon proper qualifications.

Any national bank which fails to file any required certified statement or to pay any required assessment forfeits all rights, privileges, and franchises granted under the national bank act or the federal reserve act.

In the event that any national bank becomes insolvent the FDIC becomes receiver. The corporation may become receiver of an insolvent insured state bank if the appointment is made in accordance with state law.

The FDIC is permitted to sell its own obligations in an amount not more than three times its capital, plus the assessments on insured banks for 1936.

No insured bank can pay dividends on its capital stock or interest on its capital notes while it is in default of any assessments due the FDIC.

COTTON PRICES

Cotton prices rose nearly a dollar a bale in leading American markets yesterday as shorts rushed to cover following congressional action seeking restoration of a higher loan basis, but the rise proved too attractive for sellers to ignore and brought a flood of offerings which drove values downward. The markets were able to retain a portion of the advances, with Chicago turning in net gains of 4 to 13 points and other markets 3 to 10 points.

Spot cotton closed unchanged to 5 points higher, with New Orleans quoting 10.75 cents; Galveston, 10.70 cents; Houston, 10.65 cents, and New York, 10.85 cents per pound. Prices follow:

[Chicago Tribune Press Service.]

New York, Aug. 26.—A further drop in United States government obligations marked bond trading today on the New York exchange. In fairly heavy volume the federal issues showed declines of 4-32 to 20-32 point with most liens closing at their lows for the day. Turnover in that group amounted to $6,670,000 compared with $9,170,000 Friday.

Four of the government loans ended the day below par and three established new record low marks. Treasury 2⅞s continued to absorb the bulk of activity and dropped to 99 16-32 for a net decline of 17-32.

Farm Mortgage Issue Hits Low.

Federal Farm Mortgage 3s of 1942-'47 and 2¾s of 1942-'47, both made new lows on declines of 16-32 and 4-32, respectively. The called Fourth Liberty 4¼s eased off 5-32, but held firm in comparison with the lower coupon issues.

The market for domestic corporation bonds was unusually dull and featureless. Movements in general were narrow and mixed. Several weak spots developed in the public utility list, however, as American Water Works and Electric 6s yielded over 3 points and Syracuse Lighting 5s dropped 3⅝ points on the day. Railroad and industrial loans showed only minor fluctuations.

Murray Body Up 8 Points.

Individual price swings of note included a gain of 8 points in Murray Body 6½s, an advance of 3⅞ points in Warren Brothers convertible 6s and a gain of 2 points in RKO issues.

Italian government and municipal loans were again forced to new low levels on declines of 1⅝ to 3⅜ points. Other foreign government bonds displayed a rather heavy undertone, resulting in a decline of .56 point in the price average of representative foreign obligations.

The Mayfair.

Investors' Guide: Will you kindly inform me as to your report on the Straus bonds in regard to the Mayfair. Thank you in advance —Mrs. M. B.

Answer: The Mayfair hotel is at the northwest corner of Hyde Park boulevard and 55th street. It is a twelve story reinforced concrete structure containing 110 furnished apartments and six stores.

The building is about eight years old and in good physical condition. It was 85 per cent occupied on April 30, 1935.

Gross receipts for the period of July 1, 1932, to April 30, 1935, amounted to $313,000 and operating disbursements were $210,000. Other disbursements, including trustee's fees of $4,000, legal expense of $4,000, $63,000 on account of taxes and $3,000 advance on reorganization expenses, totaled $79,000.

The bulk of each year's taxes has been paid. All of 1933 taxes have been paid. Unpaid balances remaining from levies for 1928 to 1932, inclusive, totaled $4,122. The 1933 tax levy [paid] was $9,422. Cash on hand on April 30, 1935, was $25,136.

There are outstanding $796,000 of first mortgage bonds on which nothing has been paid since 1932. A petition to reorganize the property under section 77B of the revised bankruptcy act was filed on April 23, 1935.

With funds on hand ample to take care of all accrued, unpaid taxes the property appears to be in a position to be reorganized readily. With a continued strong rental market bondholders should fare rather favorably.

MILWAUKEE AVE. BANK REPORTS BIG DEPOSIT GAIN

The Milwaukee Avenue National bank, Milwaukee avenue and Division street, has attracted deposits of $2,028,000 in its first year of business, H. R. French, president, announced yesterday.

Opened Aug. 14, 1934, with capital of $200,000 and surplus and reserve of $37,500, the bank has charged off practically all of its organization expense and ended the first twelve months with $46,000 surplus, profits, and reserve. Depositors number 4,725. A total of $684,000 in loans has been advanced, including $49,000 for home modernization.

Stock of the bank is distributed among 1,900 owners. These are largely men and women of Polish descent and former depositors of the Northwestern Trust and Savings bank, which closed during the 1931 series of failures. The new bank was organized under the leadership of Charles S. Dewey, former financial adviser to Poland, who now is chairman of the board.

Continental Motors Votes Change in RFC Loan Terms

Continental Motors corporation stockholders have approved certain changes in the mortgage given to the Reconstruction Finance corporation, as security for a $1,000,000 loan, but insufficient proxies were received to authorize proposed changes in the company's capital structure. Another meeting of the shareholders will be held Sept. 12 and efforts will be made meanwhile to obtain additional proxies.

SUGAR

NEW YORK, Aug. 26.—(AP)—SUGAR—Raw was firm today and spot prices advanced 3 points to the basis of 3.48c per lb. Shipment sugars remained unchanged at 3.50c. A little better inquiry was reported but offerings were light and generally held at higher levels. The only sales confirmed were a few small parcels of Philippines aggregating about 38,700 bags, afloat and for September arrival, at from 3.48c up to 3.51½c, the latter price being paid by an outport refiner. Futures rose 1 to 4 points above, but the advance was checked by liquidation and final prices were 1 point net lower to 3 points higher in the No. 3 contract. The No. 1 contract was neglected and closed net unchanged. Sales, 18,200 tons in the No. 3.

BUSINESS LOANS OF BANKS SHOW GAINS IN WEEK

Gross Deposits Increase 138 Millions.

Unusual expansion in loans to business was disclosed in weekly banking figures issued last night, covering operations of federal reserve member banks in 91 cities.

The business loans classification was swelled by 52 million dollars. While the largest increase occurred in New York, where the gain amounted to 35 millions, Chicago banks reported an upturn of 5 millions and the 89 cities a gain of 12 millions.

At the same time holdings of other than government loans rose 30 millions, interior cities increasing their portfolios 20 millions, Chicago bolstering its account 7 millions and New York 3 millions.

Gross Deposits Soar.

Gross deposits for the country soared 138 millions, with interior banks contributing a gain of 37 millions, New York 92 millions, and Chicago 9 millions. Interbank deposits and the government's war loan account showed only minor changes.

The belief that heavy selling last week of government bonds originated in small country banks outside the reserve system was strengthened by figures on federal bond holdings, which showed a gain of 10 millions for the period. New York banks liquidated 20 millions, Chicago bought 7 millions, and institutions in the other cities added 19 millions.

SLUMP IN BONDS NOT DISTURBING TO MORGENTHAU

Washington, D. C., Aug. 26.—[Special.]—Secretary Morgenthau asserted today that he was not disturbed by the recent weakness in the government bond market.

"This thing doesn't worry me a bit," the secretary remarked when asked about the continued decline in federal bond quotations, "and I have not talked to anybody connected with the bond market who is disturbed."

Morgenthau recalled the government had enjoyed a steadily rising market in its securities for many months and intimated that he believed the current recessions were to be expected. He insisted the treasury was dependent on the investing public for its funds and would concur in the investor's evaluation of government bonds.

WHEAT EASIER; EARLY ADVANCE IS WIPED OUT

Congress' Failure to Quit Disturbs Trade.

Wheat dragged through another dull session on the Chicago Board of Trade yesterday, advancing about a cent a bushel early in the day, but subsequently reacting. Closing prices showed fractional losses for the most part, and were at or near minimum levels for the day. Volume of trading was light.

Failure of congress to adjourn was a disappointment to the speculative fraternity. Coupled with this was the threatened action on cotton and wheat loans, which was disturbing marketwise. In view of these uncertainties most professionals adopted a sideline position, while those who stayed in the market turned to the short side.

Hedging Sales Offset Buying.

A moderate amount of hedging was encountered in wheat, while oats were subjected to selling of this type from northwestern sources. The aggregate was not heavy, but more than offset what moderate buying appeared.

Wheat in Canada fell rather sharply as hedging accompanying the movement of new crop wheat continued to dominate activity. Closing prices were about 1¾ cents lower. Liverpool ignored Saturday's reaction here and pushed slightly higher on buying by milling interests. Rotterdam turned in the largest gain for the day, rising about a cent. Buenos Aires was only slightly changed despite the fact the widespread drouth remains unbroken.

Prices for December Futures.

	Yesterday.	Saturday.	Wk. ago.
Wheat	$ .90⅞	$ .90⅞	$ .87¾
Corn	.56½	.56½	.55½
Oats	.27⅛	.27⅝	.27⅛
Rye	.44⅞	.44⅝	.43¼

Visible supplies of wheat again moved up sharply, registering a gain of more than 5,000,000 bushels for last week, against an upturn of only 471,000 bushels for the same week last year. The total of 54,635,000, however, is still less than half the stock of 115,223,000 bushels existing at this time in 1934.

Weekly clearances of wheat from exporting nations were the heaviest in several weeks, amounting to 10,243,000 bushels, against 6,466,000 a week earlier and 11,188,000 a year ago. Stocks of wheat on ocean passage also showed the first gain in some time, the total amounting to 17,536,000 bushels, compared with 15,824,000 in the preceding week and 40,336,000 last year.

The movement of wheat from the country to primary markets continues to decline as harvesting operations are being completed. Yesterday's run of 1,928,000 bushels compared with 2,368,000 a week earlier and 967,000 for the same day last year.

WOOL MARKET

BOSTON, Mass., Aug. 26.—Wool continued to move at quite an active rate in Boston during the last week with prices tending slightly higher. Some houses reported a little slowing in demand but others had a volume of business equal to or slightly greater than during the two preceding weeks.

There was some demand for most grades of fleece wools. Strictly combing 64s and finer or fine Ohio delaine moved mostly at 31@32c grease basis, although some poorer selections were still available around 30c in the grease. Fine clothing Ohio and similar wools that were suitable for top making sold mostly near the top of the range 23@25c grease basis. Sales were closed on moderate quantities of strictly combing 58s, 60s, ½ blood Ohio and similar wool at 30@31c and for 56s ⅜ blood at 31@32c grease basis, but it was quite difficult to secure good wools at the low side of these ranges. A rather limited demand existed for 48s, 50s ¼ blood at 30@31c and for 46s low ¼ blood Ohio fleeces at 27@29c in the grease.

BUTTER ADVANCES ¼ CENT, HIGHEST SINCE EARLY JUNE

Butter futures were on the upgrade yesterday with the November delivery on the Chicago Mercantile exchange closing ¼ cent higher at 25⅝ cents per pound, the highest price since early in June. The upturn was on buying based on reports showing the ten leading cities had stored 160,000 pounds less butter last week than during the corresponding period last year. Spot butter advanced ¼ to ½ cent. Owing to high prices on the Pacific coast there have been some shipments made from the central west.

Trade in eggs was fair, but prices showed little change, the October delivery closing at 25½ cents per dozen. The four leading markets reported withdrawals from cold storage 4,000 cases less than last year, but this was offset by strength in the spot market. Sales of butter aggregated 38 cars, eggs 47 cars, and potatoes 2 cars. Prices follow:

CATTLE SLUMP ON HEAVIEST RUN IN SEVEN MONTHS

Lambs Steady; Hogs Move Lower.

Live stock and meat prices suffered reductions yesterday, the sharpest declines hitting the cattle trade, which was burdened with the heaviest receipts in seven months.

Beef moved into retail channels at last week's full decline, showing reductions of 50 cents to $2 at various distributing points compared with the previous Monday. Fresh pork was almost unsalable with prices steady at $2 lower than the close of last week and $4 to $6 under the recent high point.

Lamb and veal were the exceptions, selling steady to $2 higher than at the close of the week and as much as 3 over a week ago at some points in the east.

Cattle Shipments Heavy.

Shipments of cattle to market yesterday were heavier than usual at 17,000, an increase of 53 per cent compared with the average of the last six Mondays. Part of the increase is due to the seasonal selling of western range stock which comprised more than 40 per cent of yesterday's total.

With coolers well filled with beef carried over from last week, packer buyers came out on the market with limited orders calling for sharp price cuts. Losses of 25 to 40 cents were made at the start, with the exception of a handful of top grades that held steady. Toward the close further reductions were made, many cattle going over unsold.

Lambs Close Steady.

Lambs rallied after a 15 to 25 cents break and closed about steady, packers and yard traders paying as much as $9.50 for selected lots of ewe and wether natives on the final rounds against $9.25 for a few early.

Hogs were steady to 15 cents lower, but recovered part of the losses before the finish. The day's extreme top at $13.75 indicated a decline of 5 cents from last week's close and 70 cents compared with the 1935 high. Prices for the session averaged $12.50, processing tax included, a 10 cent decline and a loss of $1.05 in 11 days.

Hog receipts at 10,000 were below expectations and compared with 11,173 the previous Monday, 17,696 a year ago and with 51,419 two years ago.
